

PORTLAND MARKETS

Latest Quotations in the Portland Markets.

Complete Market Reports Corrected Each Day Giving the Wholesale Prices of Commodities, Farm Produce and Vegetables.

PORTLAND, Feb. 14.—Eggs dropped to 20 cents a dozen on Front street today, and quotations were considered weak. Eastern fresh eggs have been offered at 20c in this market, on account of the mild weather in the Mississippi Valley States, which has brought the laying season on a month or six weeks earlier than usual. No Eastern eggs have been ordered, however, and the cold storage stocks are almost exhausted.

Cold storage men who have been paying 17c to 18c the past two years for eggs to put away, say they are not so anxious to pay such prices this season, and that they expect to get eggs for less. Last year they were so eager to obtain eggs for cold storage that they kept the prices from going below 17c a dozen.

RUNNING THE GANTLET.

This Punishment Was Once Used For Military Discipline.

The following extracts give information concerning the punishment of "running the gantlet."

"In running the gantlet the regiment was formed six deep and the ranks opened and faced inward. Each man being furnished with a switch, the offender, naked to the waist, was led through the ranks, preceded by a sergeant, the point of whose reversed halbert was presented to his breast to prevent his running too fast. As he thus passed through the ranks every soldier gave him a stroke."—Grose's "Military Antiquities," volume 2, page 108.

But the oldest notice I have seen is given in "Monro—His Expedition With the Worthy Scots Regiment (called Mackenzie's Regiment), Levied In August, 1629, Etc. London. Printed by William Jones In Red-Crosse Street. 1637."

"Other slight punishments we enjoin for slight faults, put in execution by their camarades, as the loupe garlie (running the gantlet); Swedish gantlopp, to run through a hedge made by soldiers, when a soldier is stripped naked above the waste and is made to run a furlong betwixt 200 soldiers ranged alike opposite to others, leaving a space in the midst for the soldier to run through, where his camarades whip him with small rods ordained and cut for the purpose by the Gavilliger (provost marshal) and all to keep good order and discipline."—London Notes and Queries.

He Saw the Joke.

"One day," says an American, "I walked into a bookshop in the Strand and asked for Hare's 'Walks In London.' In America the book is sold in one thick volume. The clerk brought it in two. 'Oh,' I said as I looked at them, 'you part your 'Hare' in the middle, do you?' 'I, sir?' he said, with a bewildered look. 'Oh, no, sir!' I saw he didn't see the joke, so I didn't explain, but bought the books and went away. A week later I went to the same shop. As soon as the clerk saw me he rushed from the back of the shop, laughing vociferously. 'Good!' he shouted. 'Capital! Part your 'Hare' in the middle! That's capital, sir, capital!'—London Tit-Bits.
