

MR. BOWSER HAS ANOTHER "SPELL"

"If you will go upstairs you will find them just where you put them. They are hanging on a hook in your closet under a coat."

There was one more thing. Mr. Bowser had been saving it for a solar plexus blow.

"Come here," he said as he advanced to one of the back windows and pulled aside the curtain.

"Well, what is it?"

"That—alley—gate! It's down!"

"Yes, it's lying flat."

"And you went out and jumped on it and tore it down to make me cost?"

"You don't deny it, woman! I have caught you red handed."

"Two months ago," explained Mrs. Bowser, "you found the top hinge broken. I wanted to get a man to fix it at once, but you said the job was to be left for you. The gate has been yawning and sagging ever since, and the high wind of this forenoon finally blew it down. Shall we sit down now and have a game of cards?"

Mr. Bowser stalked down the hall to the hatrack and put on his overcoat and hat, and when he went out into the night he was gritting his teeth. He had lost his case, and he was ready to make somebody sweat for it. He leaned over the gate and looked up and down, and after a moment he espied the fat grocer delivering a late order. Then Mrs. Bowser heard a whoop and a yell, a clattering of heels on the icy sidewalk, and she sat down and drew a long breath of relief. It was the windup, and next morning Mr. Bowser would be all right again.

The following letter from A. J. Nussbaum, of Batesville, Ind., tells its own story: "I suffered for three months with a severe cold. A druggist prepared me some medicine, and a physician prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I then tried Foley's Honey and Tar, and eight doses cured me."
