HONESTY DEMANDS IT.

Somebody in Portland, speaking for the San Francisco-Portland Steamship Company, to a reporter of the Evening Telegram, in the matter of the hold-up of the steamer F. A. Kilburn in this port on Saturday last, and published without any frills in these columns on Sunday, made use of the following language: "The whole trouble is that the Astoria people are sore over the St. Paul insurance cases. We never paid Astoria merchants any insurance for consignments lost when that steamer went down, as we were not required to do so. They have been angry ever since."

Because it has been shrewd enough to avoid an open agreement with the merchants of Astoria, to cover their insurance on goods in transit, is no reason why it should discriminate so badly against the man in this city that uses its steamers for the carrying of freight. Every dictate of honesty and fair-dealing in business, demands that each consideration shown one patron should be extended to another who pays the same, or more, for an equal service.

The truth of the business, in a nutshell, is, that the S. F. P. line WILL NOT DO A THING FOR ASTORIA THAT IT CAN AVOID DOING; it has no intention of helping Astoria to a single advantage that can be safely denied it; this is the history of that company and its kindred and allied companies; it would give the city on this peninsula the absolute go-by, if it were not that it has a local gold mine it has been exploiting here for years, and hundreds of thousands of dollars of property that it must utilize and keep up. The fact that it spends $25,000 here during the course of the year, is the price it pays for the privilege of throttling every other concern that would come in and do something for the city. There is no plea it can offer this city in extenuation of its anti-Astoria program save that of fair and decent treatment and an honest deal on rates and shipping favors, such as it gives Portland. Nothing less will satisfy the people of Astoria, and the company realizes its duty and does it, the sooner there will be friendliness in this city for the biggest of its transportation companies, and so much quicker will the business of the merchants of Astoria drift back to it, at least a predominant share of it.

NERVE, THE REQUISITE.

One of the best assets a community can have is NERVE. Nerve to resent and punish a deliberate attack on its rights and privileges; nerve to ask for, and fight for, proper and equitable consideration at the hands of its beneficiaries, corporate and individual; nerve to turn down a reactionary element in its business life and nerve to assert the doctrine of honest treatment, and to demand it, in unequivocal terms; nerve to grant and give and help business enterprises in its midst, and nerve to insist upon an adequate and decent recognition of those favors. Without nerve any community must soon lapse into the attitude of a suppliant, or a victim. Astoria is in need of a replenished nerve just at this moment.

CHINA ALWAYS HAD TO PAY.

For the murder of British missionaries in Nan Chang, the British government will demand the payment of a few thousand taels and the opening to British trade of the port of Wucheng Chi. It is difficult to conceive an incident out of which British diplomacy cannot gain. The Nan Chang indemnity is trivial; free entry to another port of great value. And China always has to pay. The effect upon the Chinese cannot but become reactive and the day of the general uprising generally expected will be hastened by each fresh act of injustice. Indemnity might reasonably be paid, although Chinese are slaughtered freely in the domains of other powers without thought of payment; but the taking of another port is less warrantable.—Butte Inter-Mountain.

EDITORIAL SALAD.

The stock market operators refuse to take a serious view of the coal mine operators.

It is wholly unreasonable for those New Yorkers to expect that so good a man as District Attorney Jerome has been portrayed can improve with age.

The descendants of Pocahontas are invited to attend a reunion at the Jamestown celebration, but no attempt will be made to mobilize the John Smiths.

At Mr. Rockefeller's Lakewood home a hundred signs warn away uninvited callers. And yet an invisible thing known as public opinion went right in and is playing havoc.

Admiral Dewey must be credited with consistency, constancy and good judgment. He has never changed front on the proposition that the American navy should be strengthened.

Attorneys for the Standard Oil company admit that their client already owns everything in the country worth owning, with the exception of Attorney-General Hadley.

Mr. Rockefeller is having more than his share of the troubles of the rich. Nothing seems to be happening to annoy Andrew Carnegie, J. Pierpont Morgan or Uncle Russell Sage.

A somersault-turning automobile is a feature in a New York circus. Here is a chance for searchers to add to their enjoyment by throwing flipflaps instead of running down pedestrians.

China will have to invent something more potent than a boycott if she expects to cripple the American export business. Uncle Sam is still delivering goods at the same old places and in the same old way.

Judge Parker's suggestion that the Democrat ought to nominate a southern man for President shows that the voice of the siren will not be permitted to invade the quiet precincts of Esopus in 1908.

The plant-breeding wizard of California has been compelled to hide out to escape a crush of visitors and correspondence. Some people have fame thrust on them, and have to dodge in order to exist.

Possession of great riches may be a delightful thing, but millionaires as a rule are not happy. Mr. Rockefeller rarely smiles, and the thought of a humorous little thing like a subpoena throws him into a spasm.

In a case of assault in Missouri, it was only forty-nine days between the arrest of the criminal and his execution. The would-be lynchers in the case see now that the law in that state can be trusted to take its course.

Women who are reported to regard Pat Crowe as material for a matinee idol may be interested in a recent press dispatch which announced that his wife had applied for divorce upon the ground that he had not contributed to her support for years.

Ollie James, the three hundred pound representative of the first Kentucky district, has come out for a Democratic ticket of Bryan and Hearst, declaring that "such a combination would sweep both country and city." Mr. James is noted as the orator whose voice makes so much noise that you cannot hear what he says.

Re-election of Andrew Hamilton to the presidency of the Albany club, New York, is surely significant, but without some more definite knowledge of the character of the club at the New York capital the public must be remain in doubt as to whether the action is in the nature of a vindication or an invitation.

A short ton of coal is better than no fuel.

Forecasters attempt to cheer a world weary of too much weather, by promising forecasts for a month ahead. Will somebody kindly name anybody who would have enjoyed foreknowledge of such a job lot of weather as March dumped on us.

Some lawyer attempts to cheer a case, has figured it out that women are to blame for 80 per cent of the divorce cases. Now we had figured that at least one woman was a prime factor in every divorce, and two women in most.

King Alfonso looks overshadowed in the photographs with his intended bride, but may console himself with the fact that the next prospective king of England is 4 inches shorter than his consort.

Ballards Horehound Syrup. Immediately relieves hoarse, croupy cough; oppressed, rattling, rasping and difficult breathing. Henry C. Stearns Druggist, Shullsburg, Wis., writes, May 20, 1902: "I have been selling Ballard's Horehound Syrup for two years, and have never had a preparation that has given better satisfaction. I notice that when I sell a bottle they come back for more. I can honestly recommend it." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Hart's Drug Store.

HOARSE COUGHS STUFFY COLDS

QUICKLY CURED BY Foley's Honey and Tar

There is no case on record of a cold resulting in Pneumonia, or other serious lung trouble, after Foley's Honey and Tar had been taken.

It will cure the most obstinate racking cough, and heals and strengthens the lungs.

Foley's Honey and Tar has cured many cases of incipient Consumption and even in the last stages will always give comfort and relief.

Foley's Honey and Tar gives quick relief to Asthma sufferers, as it relieves the difficult breathing at once.

Remember the name—Foley's Honey and Tar—and refuse substitutes that cost you the same as the genuine. Do not take chances with some unknown preparation.

Contains no opiates.

Cured of Terrible Cough on Lungs. N. Jackson of Danville, Ill., writes: "My daughter had a severe attack of La Grippe and a terrible cough on her lungs. We tried a great many remedies without relief. She tried Foley's Honey and Tar, which cured her. She has never been troubled with a cough since."

Consumption Cured.

Foley & Co., Chicago, Dana, Ind. Gentlemen:—Foley's Honey and Tar cured me of Consumption after I had suffered two years and was almost desperate. Three physicians failed to give me any relief and the last one said he could do me no good. I tried almost every medicine I heard tell of without benefit, until Foley's Honey and Tar was recommended to me. Its effect right from the start was magical. I improved steadily from the first dose and am now sound and well, and think Foley's Honey and Tar is a God-send to people with Throat and Lung Trouble. Yours very truly, MRS. MARY AMBROSE.

Three sizes—25c, 50c, $1.00. The 50 cent size contains two and one-half times as much as the small size and the $1.00 bottle almost six times as much.
