VERGING UPON THE HOUR.

The hour of republican triumph in the State of Oregon draws nigh, and as the time lessens the prospects brighten to the point that presages certainty.

There is infinite satisfaction to the major voters that every vote cast will be approving evidence of the merit and measure of the men that stand for the republican party and its principles everywhere in the state and the larger the gross majority, the ampler the endorsement conceded.

There is no single attribute offered by the democracy, that for a moment, can constitute an allurements from the straight and solid vote of the republicans; not even the personality of the leader of the opposition, once the strongest factor in warping voters from the party that for years and years has swayed the destinies of Oregon; it is all plain and honest and simple work for the republicans now; no impediments, no doubts, no factions; the people have named an irreproachable group of men for office, and the people will deliberately proceed to install them tomorrow, with a unanimity and a vote that shall intrench the republican party in power, for the abundant future good of the state and the country.

THE LIE DIRECT.

The man, or group of men, whoever they may be, whatever their sentiments politically, who are asserting that the republican nominees of the republican party in Clatsop county, are the representatives of a republican, or any other, RING, are lying, and they know they are lying. This county has never had a cleaner nor more capable set of men before it for electoral choice than the men sent up by the republican citizenry of Clatsop county from the primaries for the several offices within her gift. There is not a bar sinister against the name nor private, nor public, record of a single man of them; they are the equals and peers of any man that has been thrust forward from any of the various and star-chambered conventions of the "citizens" or democrats, or other political pot pourries that have transpired in this city and county this spring; and the votes cast for these men, from Mr. Schofield to Mr. Sayre, will suffer nothing of negation, of waste, nor of reproach, by whomsoever cast. A lie is always a lie; nothing can amend it, condone it, palliate it, justify it, nor nail it, save the open truth, and we aver the truth of the statements here and now made, the lie, liar, and lairs, to the contrary notwithstanding.

TOMORROW.

Tomorrow means much for the people of Oregon and of Clatsop county; tomorrow holds the destinies of many men; tomorrow will witness the triumph, and the defeat, of one of the two great political parties of the state; tomorrow is the day for the exercise of the best and greatest of American franchises, and the duty of the day demands that the supreme good of the state and county shall be first considered, and then ordained, by the people themselves. There are countless "tomorrows," but tomorrow is peculiarly significant, and alive with good and wholesome fruits that shall fall to the wise and conscientious electors, if wisdom and conscience but dictate the generous success of the republican movement now afoot; the mere election of a democratic governor in the midst of all other republican successes, would but be a travesty and extend the confusion and insecurity that has marked the preceding four years. Tomorrow is the day for the curing of every ill and the ousting of every element of discord and every incongruity from the midst of the commanding electorate of Oregon, and to this high end and large purpose, the thought, influence, and votes of republican Oregon will be directed TOMORROW.

BULL FIGHTING IN SPAIN.

Spain is still a great country for bull fights. The season starts on the first Sunday after Lent and continues—with a short interruption at the height of summer—till the month of October. Seville and Madrid are the great centers of tauromachia. In Spain no bull leaves the ring alive; neither do any of the horses. The expense of supplying even the poor hacks which are chosen is enormous, and in some poverty-stricken townships horses are omitted from the performance when the corrida becomes a good deal more palatable to the stranger, though less so to the native. O'Shea states that 2400 bulls are killed annually and 3500 horses.—T. P.'s Weekly.

LANGUAGES MOST SPOKEN.

The most spoken language is Chinese, but as there are so many dialects in the language, and as these differ so greatly in the confines of Mongolia and Thibet from those around Peking, it is scarcely correct to say that the 382,000,000

Celestials all speak one language. Putting, therefore, Chinese aside the most spoken languages in the world are as follows, in millions: English, 120; German, 70; Russian, 68; Spanish, 44; Portuguese, 32. If we were to measure these in ratio on a two-foot rule we should get the following results: Portuguese, 4 inches; Spanish, 5 1/2 inches; Russian, 8 1/2 inches; German, 8 1/2 inches; English, 1 foot and 3 inches.—Chicago Journal.

SMOOT CASE AGAIN.

House's Action Will be Conveyed to Senate by Burrows.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Just before the committee on privileges and elections adjourned after taking action in the smoot case, Senator Beveridge moved that Chairman Burrows be instructed to immediately inform the Senate of the action and to request that a day be fixed for a vote at the present session. This motion was carried. Chairman Burrows did not give notice to the Senate today, contrary to the belief of the members of the committee. It is now expected to make the announcement tomorrow and ask that a day be fixed to vote, for members of the Senate who have considered the action of the committee, and are not agreed on the meaning of the resolution declaring that Smoot is not entitled to his seat. Chairman Burrows will draw up the report stating the action of the committee. This will set forth the adoption of the Du Bois resolution and the votes had on the motion to declare Smoot's seat vacant and to expel him, both of which failed of adoption.
