FEARS FOR SAFETY OF MISSING MESSENGER BOY

Nineteen Year Old Boy Has Disappeared From Sight.

MESSENGER MISSING.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Fears for the safety of Wheelock Harvey, a 19-year-old messenger for the First National Bank, resulted last night in a general alarm being sent out by the police in an effort to locate him. His father, Louis W. Harvey, teller of the Chase National Bank, thinks the young man may have met with an accident, while there is a possibility that he was waylaid, assaulted, and robbed. Harvey has not been seen by his friends since Wednesday morning when he was about his work as usual, collecting checks and drafts for the bank. If he was robbed the robbers were probably disappointed as the bank officials said last night that they though the messenger carried only a small amount of cash on Wednesday and that the paper in his possession was mostly non-negotiable. Harvey's home is with his parents at 463 Thirteenth street, Brooklyn.

WANT MONTH'S TIME ADRIFT OFF REEFS

Ministry Will Consider Abrogation of Death Penalty.

RADICALS OPPOSE DEMOCRATS

Relations Between the Radical and Constitutional Democrats Are Becoming Decidedly Strained—Outbreak May Ensure Before Long.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 8.—The demand of the ministers for a month's time for consideration of the law for the abrogation of the death penalty, in connection with the statutory privilege, will not be made the basis of a war on the government by the constitutional democrats in spite of the outcry of the radicals. A caucus of the party yesterday decided to submit to the terms of the existing parliamentary regulations and yield to the demand for time and proceed to the consideration of the agrarian question.

The relations between the radicals and the constitutional democrats are becoming decidedly strained and it is probable that the former soon will embark upon opposition. There are signs of this in the introduction of an independent radical agrarian project. The lively interchange of discourtesies upon the floor Wednesday sharpened the feeling and this has been increased by the action of the constitutional democratic caucus yesterday in condemning demonstrations against the ministers.

The People's Messenger, the social revolutionary organ, will today print a letter signed by Sappe, an army officer, purporting to give details of a military conspiracy which is alleged to be preparing a coup d'etat for the disposal of parliament. The writer claims that the conspiracy is the culmination of a movement begun in 1904 to produce a military dictatorship and that the leaders of the movement are Generals Saranhoff and Orloff, the former of whom was a leader in the suppression of the Moscow revolt. The writer also asserts that in preparation for the coup d'etat, St. Petersburg already has been divided into four districts for which troops have been specifically assigned and their commanders designated; but in this the author is revealing nothing but the plans for dealing with a possible revolt in the capital which were long since elaborated under the supervision of Grand Duke Nicholas and General Trepoff.

Sailor on Barge Adrift Eleven Days Without Food.

UNDERGOE GREAT HARDSHIP

Is Finally Rescued and Now Sues the Company For Big Damages Because of Their Negligence and Lack of Care.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Visions of phantom ships loaded with provisions and sailing to his rescue and of voices calling from the sea for him to join them while he lay abandoned and suffering from hunger on a deserted barge off the Florida reefs is a part of the story told by John Munrad, 32 years old, a Norwegian sailor, in an affidavit filed yesterday in the United States District Court in a suit for $7700 damages against the Florida East Coast Railway Company.

Munrad who was a captain in charge of three empty barges towed from Mobile by the tugboat Dauntless on their way to the extension work of the railway company from Homestead to Key West, was discharged from the Norwegian hospital in Brooklyn, April 20, where he had been taken on his arrival in this city from Florida.

Munrad charges the company with gross negligence and disregard of life in that he was left for eleven days without sufficient food and water and in constant danger of being swamped. All this occurred in January, when the little flotilla, of which he was captain and sole crew, was dropped fifteen miles from Key West by the Dauntless because the tugboat was too deep of draft to take her tow into the shallow waters of the Florida keys.

For food, Munrad alleged, he had a half pint of flour, two potatoes and a piece of pork. When this ran out he boiled a flour sack and ate the thin gruel it made. He was rescued by Captain Malachi Bethel of the little fishing schooner White Sand.

CULINARY CONCEITS.

When slicing in order to flavor a stew or salad, secure each slice first by force cutting it off.

It is said that melted meat will keep a longer time if it is covered with mutton fat than with melted butter.

When pies are ready for the oven, make a tube of clean paper and put in the slit in the center of the pie. It will prevent the pieces from boiling over, and the pies will be nice and moist.

A French cookbook declares that freshly killed meat is better for making bouillon, as it has kept all its juices and flavor. Pieces like low and top round, the neck, the shin and the shoulder are juicy and appropriate for this famous soup.

After cutting oranges in two parts place a lemon reamer over a glass tumbler and with this extract the juice. This serves in glass punch cups beside the plate for a breakfast course. It is more enjoyable than the ordinary method of eating oranges.

The Clothes Hanger.

An ordinary clothes hanger may be made most ornamental by a few deft touches and a little taste. First cover the wooden rim with muslin, placing between a padding of soft wadding with a plentiful scattering of sachet powder. Cover each side of the rim with a piece of tuck and a half wide ribbon, gathering both top and bottom to form a sheering. At the top, on to the crook to suspend by, tie a graceful loop bow. This proves a most decorative fixture, relieving the unattractiveness of a most everyday article of utility.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

This Will Give Pretty Arms.

Here is a physician's remedy for superfluous hair on the arms, the growth of which spoils the pleasure of wearing short sleeves. It has been used with excellent results by the family of girls to whom he gave it: One part quicklime, two parts carbonate of soda and eight parts vasoline. This forms a paste, which should be spread on thickly. As soon as it begins to smart or burn it should be washed off. The hairs will usually come away with the third or fourth application. The preparation is harmless.

Curried Apples.

Curried apples are delicious, easy to prepare and are not common enough in this part of the world. Make a creamy mixture with one cupful of dark brown sugar, one-half cupful of butter and a teaspoonful of curry powder. Cut tart cooking apples in half the round way, remove the cores and spread with the curry mixture. Bake in a quick oven.

The Very Best Remedy for Bowel Trouble.

Mr. M. F. Borroughs, an old and well-known resident of Bluffton, Ind., says: "I regard Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as the very best remedy for bowel trouble.
