PORTLAND, July 2.—An advance of 1c on regular run of hams was made this morning, and of 1c on pickles.

There has been a continued shortage of hogs on the coast for the past month and this has brought about the expected result. Besides this falling off in supplies, the demand for hams is more than customarily heavy this season, with no corresponding stock accumulation. The advance does not extend to other lines of provisions, though prices, from all rules of trade, may be further changed without notice.

Front Street.

The busy season, among fruit dealers especially, was in much evidence today. A heavy shipping demand was rapidly clearing up stocks. Two cars of cantaloupes arrived and one car of mixed ripe and green bananas. Ripe bananas are becoming quite scarce. Price of cantaloupes has declined under the heavier receipts. There is a better supply of oranges and lemons than was counted on, but the hot weather will soon make great inroads on the stocks, especially of lemons. No further receipts of deciduous fruits are due until later in the week. One car received yesterday was selling well today. Loganberries were in better inquiry today and prices again advanced to $1.50 for freshly picked fruit.

No poultry was to be found on the street, though light supplies are to be expected on Monday. One dealer telephoned for a coop of fryers to fill a rush order only to find that "there wasn't a feather on the street."

Eggs and Butter.

There continues to be a very good market for all concerned, in the egg market, prices being firm at 22c, which is considered reasonable to buyer and satisfactory to seller. In some quarters a half cent is named on top of the generally accepted figure. Ranch eggs are not coming in sufficiently to meet requirements, but the light receipts are being augmented by the Eastern goods, that sell side by side with the local eggs. No Portland storage eggs are being withdrawn, as far as can be learned.

Butter is firmer, though there are still very heavy receipts from usual sources of supply, and some from quarters new to this trade previous to this year.
