HOEFLER'S HANDSOMEST SWEET SHOP

Health Failing.—Dr. Crang's illness that has confined him to his home at Forest Grove, for two months, still keeps him in a very weakened condition, although he prescribes his own medicine which is very little, as his condition is such that little or no medicine is required. Dr. Hines of Forest Grove who is a great admirer of the old doctor, is a daily attendant and gives out no hopes to the family that there is any possibility of the recovery to health of the venerable doctor. It is only a question of how long the old doctor's remarkable vitality can stand the strain—he has endured the hot spell most wonderfully.

Making Good Catches.—The run of salmon in the Columbia river is increasing as the water recedes. There are about 15 fishermen at Rainier and during the past week have been making good catches. J. J. Brahm, who buys the fish, reports that he ships on an average about 20 boxes a day. These boxes contain about 200 pounds each. Mr. Brahm collects fish from several adjacent points on the opposite side of the river. The run of shad and bluebacks is nearly over. Several fish traps are now under construction and as soon as the current subsides the river will be dotted with traps.

In County Court.—The county court yesterday morning before it left on its tour of inspection to the county rock-crusher and the adjacent roads, made an order denying the petition of W. L. Dudley for a right of way over certain of the county roads for the Astoria-Seaside Interurban Railway; and at the same time denied the petition of the Seaside Spruce Lumber Company, for a similar privilege; and to complete its negative stand on such matters, denied the petition of Mr. Sloop and others, for the construction of a road in district No. 9.

Another New Hotel.—E. Schacht, the well known Portland architect, was a passenger for Gearhart Park last evening, whither he goes to confer today with Theo. Kruse and his partners upon the project of the new hotel to be erected there early next season. The house is to be of splendid dimensions and is to be equipped with every conceivable comfort and convenience, in fact, it will be thoroughly modern in every detail. The site will be selected today.

In Town.—D. C. Pelton, president of the Lumberman's Bank at Portland was in Astoria this week, on his return home from Seaside where he has just purchased eight lots, and a cottage from E. M. Grimes of that place. Mr. Pelton was registered at the Occident.

Will Close Saturdays.—In accordance with the instructions issued by the Secretary of the Treasury, the local customs house will be closed during the summer months on Saturday after 12 o'clock noon. The new order became effective yesterday.

Clatsop Beauties.—Three magnificent samples of Clatsop grown berries were sent to the office of the Morning Astorian yesterday, by a prominent citizen just to show what can be done in this county in the way of berry culture here; and they were a revelation. There was one box each of loganberries, strawberries and raspberries, and no finer fruit has been handled in this city this season; they were large, full colored, luscious and firm in texture and were products of the home farm of Mr. J. Erickson of Svensen in this county. It is a shame that a soil capable of raising such superb small fruit, should be neglected, and the people compelled to worry along with the infinitely poorer stuff from outside markets.

Must Have Two Licenses.—In answer to inquiries from Master Fish Warden Van Dusen, Attorney-General Crawford has rendered an opinion in which many Columbia river fishermen are interested. He holds that a fisherman who comes under more than one classification—for example, fishes with gillnet and a trap—must have two licenses. It has been contended that only one license could be issued to one man.

Arm Fractured.—W. I. Shultz, a well-known farmer living about two miles back of Rainier, suffered a compound fracture of his right arm last Tuesday. While hauling a load of lumber to town the chain binding the load to the wagon broke, striking Mr. Shultz a heavy blow and knocking him to the ground. Dr. McLaren set the injured member and reports the fracture a serious one.

Resume Investigations.—Dr. D. T. Day an expert in the investigation of the mineral values in black sand, and known throughout the country for his experiments and progress in finding methods to extract the different minerals from the sands, will come to the Pacific coast from Washington, D. C., and continue his investigations.

Passing Titles.—The following deeds were filed for record yesterday, along with a number of other instruments: G. P. Clerin and wife to the Western Coopers Company, warranty, $1,280 acres of land in Clatsop county. Catherine Rivt to William Matheral, warranty, $125, five and 4-10 acres.

Play Fort Stevens.—This morning the Browns will leave on the steamer Major Guy Howard for Fort Stevens where they will meet the soldiers in a game of baseball. A hard and close contest is expected.

Begins Tomorrow.—Miss Birdie McCroskie, of this city, has been appointed as clerk in the post-office service of this city and will take up her duties tomorrow morning at the usual hour.

From Eugene.—Charles Cleveland of this city has returned home from attending the state university at Eugene, where he has just completed a course in electrical engineering.

NOTICE TO THE TRAVELING PUBLIC

SUMMER SEASON AT THE BEACHES

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST AT SEASIDE AND LONG BEACH—DOINGS OF THE SMART SET—FOURTH IS CELEBRATED WITH ARDOR.

LONG BEACH, Wash., July 7.—The Independence day celebrations, both public and private, were the principal events of the week, and although there are few people here, yet, there was enough noise to satisfy the most demonstrative of patriots. Both Julius Meier and Mr. Wilcox had immense supplies of fireworks shipped down and that part of the beach in front of their respective houses was ablaze the whole evening.

Great numbers of people from the beach attended the races, etc., in Ilwaco on the afternoon of the Fourth and the Ilwacoans returned the compliment by coming in a special train to the dance given at Round Hall, Long Beach, in the evening. Music was furnished by Jacobson's orchestra and the hall was filled to capacity.

Personal.
 Among those in cottages at The Breakers are Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Lipman, Julius L. Meier and family, Mrs. Isam White and Mrs. S. Aphel.

J. J. Woolery, a well-known business man of Dallas, Ore., was at Hackney's Cottage last week.

In the cottages at Seaview are: Mrs. G. and Mrs. C. Heitkemper, Mrs. Harney O'Bryan, her mother and children, Mr. and Mrs. Clisterman and baby, Mrs. Will Allard, Sherman D. Brown and wife, Mrs. Charles Branin and children, Mrs. C. Schatch and family.

Judge Bloomfield and wife are in their house at Seaview.

Mrs. F. W. Jones, son and maid, from the Hobart-Curtis of Portland, are at Hackney's Cottage.

Mrs. Holt Wilson and Mrs. Mahn are among Mrs. Wilcox's house party guests.

Miss Flora Fleischner and Miss Helen Rosenfeld are visiting Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Lipman.

T. G. Hendricks and his daughter Ruby, of Eugene, returned Tuesday from a week's stay at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Keady and children of Portland have having an enjoyable time at the beach.

The Meier cottage at Tioga has been the scene of brilliant entertainments the past week. Chief among them was the Fourth of July celebration. The fireworks were a beautiful sight, and the superb display could be seen by those at the lighthouse at Canby. The entertainment was regarded as one of the most successful of many seasons. The coaching party, with four-in-hand, driven by Julius L. Meier, was very enjoyable. The trip was made to the Rock and a sumptuous supper was served.

SEASIDE, July 7.—The largest and undoubtedly the most flourishing settlement on Clatsop Beach is Seaside; the part of the town on the east side of the river is permanent; people living there all the year round; on the west side, closer to the sea, is the summer city, and it is nothing short of wonderful to see it build up within a few days when the summer once sets in. Every incoming train is loaded to capacity, cottages begin to be opened up, tents are raised, and the hotels flourish. Moore's Hotel, accommodating 125 guests, is already nearly filled, and an annex of 50 rooms is in process of construction. An especially attractive feature this year is the pier jutting out into the ocean directly in front of the hotel. Besides being of particular advantage to bathers and fishers, it is a novelty in this part of the country—the only one on the Pacific Coast north of San Francisco.

All manner of gaieties are planned for the near future; picnic parties to places of interest, informal dances at the hotels, boating and fishing excursions on the Necanicum. The reign supreme of the summer girl is about to begin, and the one man at the beach is sure to be as eagerly sought as ever.

The mills at Seaside are in a flourishing condition under present management. Much trouble has been experienced by what might be called a floating working force—men come for a short time until a little money could be earned, then move on. Gradually this is being changed. Many families are here, and others coming from different points in the East, who desire to make this a permanent home. The heads of these are reliable and steady workers and men who will be valuable citizens.

John P. Johansen of Johansen & Co., has accepted the position of manager of the fishing business on Taylor Island, in the Columbia River. Mr. Johansen started for his new field of labor today. Mrs. Johansen and daughters will remain in their Seaside home for the summer.

"The Owls", a young men's club of Astoria, have rented a cottage in Seaside for the season, and will take turns in occupying it.

No small amount of excitement was caused near Moore's Hotel on the 4th, when the small daughter of Mr. R. B. Porter of Portland was discovered with her dress ablaze. Fortunately Mrs. Moore happened to be near, and succeeded in smothering the flames before any more serious consequences than a very badly frightened child and a hero with a slightly burned thumb.
