

LOOK AT A KERNEL OF COFFEE

Break it and note how much chaff it is. It is this chaff that contains the unpleasant astringent principle (tannin), on account of which coffee drinking does not agree with some people.

Barrington Hall The Steel Coffee

You will taste the difference in the first cupful. The chaff has been removed from this coffee by a wonderful steel-cutting process. Packaged by machinery in sealed tins—it is the only pure coffee, free from dust and tannin-bearing chaff.

DEMANDS MADE BY LITHOGRAPHERS

ASK THAT WORK DAY BE SHORTENED FROM NINE HOURS TO EIGHT—EMPLOYERS WILL OBJECT AND STRIKE IS PROBABLE

NEW YORK, July 20.—There threatens to be a scarcity of lithographs next fall. Lithographers all over the country, about 15,000, want their working day shortened from nine hours to eight. The lithographers represented by a committee from the New York union sent word yesterday to Secretary A. Beverly Smith of the National Lithograph Employers' League, this city, that if the demand was not granted by July 26 they would walk out.

The employers will meet today. It is said they will insist on submitting the question to an arbitration board. To this employes will object and a strike is probable. The strike, if it comes, will hit the lithographers at their busiest season. All the houses, particularly in New York, are rushed with theatrical orders. Two years ago after a strike for minor concessions, an agreement was signed by which disputes in future were to be arbitrated. There are about 4000 lithographers in New York in 30 shops. The men made $25 to $40 a week.

CHARGE FRAUD IN MINING DEAL.

BAKER CITY, July 20.—Allegations of fraud are made in charges filed by the Geiser-Hendryx Investment Company, of Portland, which sues N. C. Richards and Clark Snyder to obtain title to the Tabor Fraction quartz claim, valued at $130,000.

The complaint says that Richards was attorney for the plaintiff in negotiating a loan of $12,500 from Snyder and was to be trustee of a deed made to Snyder, which was to be held as a mortgage on the property, but to be returned to the plaintiffs if the debt was paid. Without the plaintiffs' knowledge the deed was recorded, it is alleged, and Snyder made a deed of half the claim to Richards, who appears with him on record as owner of the property. The complaint says the Geiser-Hendryx company paid back in installments the principal of the borrowed sum, and in July of this year tendered the interest, which was refused. Snyder also, it is alleged, refused to return the deed to the plaintiffs. The company asks that the property be conveyed to it and the claim of Richards and Snyder be annulled.

RAISE CASH FOR RAILWAY.

BAKER CITY, July 20.—Baker City's business men and financiers today began a campaign to subscribe $100,000 of the stock of the Eagle Valley Railroad, projected to connect Baker City with the rich mining and lumber districts of the Cornucopia Mountains. The road is promoted by W. L. Vinson, and the town must furnish that sum to interest Mr. Vinson's backers. Following the announcement of the acceptance of Vinson's proposition by the local business men came that of the Farmers' Lumber Company of Nebraska, which will erect three mills on its timber claims in the Cornucopias.

James Dunsmuir went on board the Chicago to visit Rear Admiral Goodrich and this afternoon the admiral and officers of the two warships were entertained at luncheon and a garden party given at the Government House by the lieutenant-governor. What They Meant.

A Scotch clergyman named Fraser claimed the title and estates of Lord Lovat. He tried on the trial of the case to establish his pedigree by producing an ancestral watch on which were engraved the letters S. F. The claimant alleged that these letters were the initials of his ancestor, the notorious Simon Fraser, Lord Lovat, beheaded in 1747 for supporting the young pretender. The letters, engraved under the regulator, were shown to stand for "Slow, Fast," and the case was laughed out of court.

The Girl in White.

From hat to heels the summer girl will be attired in white; in fashion sheets this item meets our eye; it must be right. We trust the season soon will bring this maid with snowy frills. She'll add to our affections and Her father's laundry bills. The summer girl is fair to see, No matter how attired; No matter what her garb may be, She's made to be admired. So if her hue were white or blue Or red or what she would, Whatever the shade that decks the maid The summer girl looks good. —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Litigation.

There's one who steps into the breach When law its strong arm forth would reach; There's one who, when no names are named, Will fill the blank, all unashamed; There's one who bears the earlier brunt When justice starts to do a stunt; There's one, when charges they would bring, Will gladly stand for anything; When gratters must be brought to law, Why, he'll accommodate the law— More woes but fewer trials 't would know Could it not lean on old John Doe. —Indianapolis News.

RUNAWAY WIFE NOW FORSAKEN.

SEATTLE, July 20.—Soldiers are faithless lovers, thinks Mrs. Evelyn Welch, who deserted her husband and infant daughter at Ballard two weeks ago and stowed away on the transport Buford, which was carrying troops to Alaska. Mrs. Welch disappeared July 8. After the Buford sailed her husband recalled frequent visits to Fort Lawton. The next day he found his own handkerchief on the dock from which the Buford sailed. He then left for Skagway. Welch's mother has received a letter from the runaway wife, saying that she has been cast aside by the soldier with whom she eloped and intends to return to her parents at Pendleton, Ore.

SEATTLE MAY NOT SELL WATER TO OTHER TOWNS.

OLYMPIA, Wash., July 20.—"We hold the City of Seattle is not authorized to extend its water service beyond its territorial limits," declared the State Supreme Court yesterday in a decision in the case from King County of P. W. Farwell against that city. The effect of the decision is to cancel the contracts by which the city in the past has served suburban towns from the city water system. The action in this particular case was brought by Mr. Farwell, representing himself and other taxpayers, to prevent the city of Seattle from serving water to Ballard and to cancel the existing contract between the two municipalities for such service.

ARLINGTON, Wash., July 20.—Paul A. Otto, of Marysville, Mont., was struck by a northbound Northern Pacific train about midnight last night and received injuries from which he died, after being brought to Arlington. Otto was lying in the middle of the track near Getchell when the locomotive struck him. Nearly every bone in his body was broken and he was unconscious. It is believed that he had been sandbagged and robbed, and while unconscious placed on the rails. Not a cent was found in his pockets.

Was Too Much "Funny Business" to Suit Him

A well known Kentuckian tells of a marriage ceremony that a justice of the peace in the Blue Grass State was hurriedly called upon one day to perform.

It appears that the bridegroom, a big mountaineer, very roughly dressed, had brought his prospective bride with him to the office of the clerk of the court, thinking to secure his license and have the ceremony performed at one visit. When his license had been duly granted the mountaineer asked if there was a justice of the peace then in the courthouse who could tie the knot. Upon being advised by the clerk that he himself was a justice of the peace and that he was willing to join the two lovers, the bridegroom said: "Waal, then, we're ready. Go ahead!" "But you'll have to secure two witnesses," smilingly observed the clerk and justice, "before I can proceed."

At this the mountaineer demurred, saying that he did not care for witnesses. Nevertheless he was convinced in a moment that this formality was an indispensable one, and accordingly the necessary witnesses were procured and the ceremony began. When the couple had promised to love, obey, etc., together with the rest of the service, the justice of the peace quite innocently observed that the bridegroom should "kiss the bride." Thereupon the mountaineer exhibited fresh impatience at the exactions of the official. "Look here," he exclaimed, angrily, "it seems to be that you're draggin' in a lot of funny business in this weddin'. Why, I kissed her before we came in!"—Success.
