

THE MORNING ASTORIAN QUICK RETURN COLUMNS

The supplying of any want that may arise in domestic or commercial life may be readily and quickly accomplished at a nominal cost by the publication of the want in the "Want Ad." columns of the Morning Astorian.

A necessity which may arise for buying or selling horses, carriages, furniture, pianos, real estate, sewing machines, bicycles, safes, watches, jewelry, typewriters, or thousands of other articles, can be met at once by the insertion of a suitable advertisement in the morning Astorian.

To secure help of any sort, or situation of any kind, to find lost articles, to secure board or boarders, lodging or lodgers, borrow money, obtain any kind of security; any of these wants may be supplied by using the "Want" columns of The Morning Astorian.

Rates For Classified or "Want" Advertisements

ONE INSERTION ONE CENT A WORD THREE LINES THREE DAYS, 30 CENTS Count Six Words to a Line. 30 Cents a line a week.

"SITUATION WANTED"

For the benefit of persons out of employment, ads under the head of "Situation Wanted" will be printed three days free of charge.

When Peace Took Wings. Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Smith had been talking over the back fence in the sweetest tones imaginable. Finally the conversation turned to spring hats.

Inspiration.

Cherishman (to swearing laborer)—My good man, where did you learn that language? Son of the Soil—Yer can't learn it, sir—it's a bloomin' gift.—Sketch.

The Corporal's Argument. "Such reasoning," said General F. D. Grant in a military argument, "reminds me of the reasoning of old Corporal Sandhurst.

"Corporal Sandhurst was one day drilling a batch of raw recruits. "Why is it," he said to a bright looking chap, "that the blade of your saber is curved instead of straight?"

"The blade is curved," the recruit answered, "in order to give more force to the blow."

"Nonsense," said the corporal. "The blade is curved so as to fit the scabbard. If it was straight, how would you get it into the curved scabbard, you idiot?"—Chicago Chronicle.

His Finish. Gunner—Why does the count look so miserable? The last time I saw him he was trying to study the American time tables.

Guy—Yes, but since then he has been trying to study the American poker tables.—Chicago News.

Fa's Mistake. Fa says my nose is out of joint, but that ain't so, because it doesn't hurt me and is just the same shape that it was.

They brought a little brother here about a week ago. And everybody's proud of him because they love him so.

Ma hardly ever seems to think about me any more. And something hard is in my throat that wasn't there before.

My nose is still as good as new—it's lower down somewhere.—Chicago Record-Herald.
