

LOOK AT A KERNEL OF COFFEE

Break it and note how much of it is chaff. It is this chaff that contains the unpleasant astringent principle (tannin), on account of which coffee drinking does not agree with some people.

Barrington Hall The Steel Coffee

You will taste the difference in the first cupful: The chaff has been removed from this coffee by a wonderful steel-cutting process. Packaged by machinery in sealed tins—it is the only pure coffee, free from dust and tannin-bearing chaff.

NEWS OF OREGON AND THE NORTHWEST.

ARRESTED IN PORTLAND.

SALEM, July 25.—Sheriff J. W. Culver returned from Portland last evening, having in custody the two youths who robbed the country residence of William Hilleary, near Turner, Sunday night, and placed them in the Marion County jail. They gave the names of Oscar and Charles Newton, aged 15 and 13 years, respectively, and claim they recently hailed from Kansas City. The boys are believed by the officers to be older than they represent, and only give the immature ages in hopes of getting off with a Reform School sentence, as they have confessed to the burglary. They were apprehended by the Portland police.

CONVICTS IN SKIFF.

SALEM, July 25.—Sheriff Culver is in receipt of information to the effect that a new skiff has been stolen from the river near the Lincoln warehouse, a few miles below this city, and that an old boat had been moored in the place from which the other boat was taken. Convicts H. A. Schmidt and Edward Morgan, who escaped from the road crew near Scotts Mills Saturday night, were reported seen going in the direction of Lincoln yesterday, and the local officers believe they are making their way to Portland by boat.

UNIQUE PLAN.

ALBANY, Ore., July 25.—The unique custom of taking receipts from his children whenever he gave them money and deducting these amounts from their legacies was followed by Hans Wodtli, founder and father of the Swiss colony near Foster, this county, who died recently. Wodtli's will was filed here yesterday. To each of 11 children he bequeathed $2615, less the amount they had received in his lifetime. The remainder of his large estate he left to his wife, who is named as executrix.

FAMINE IN DRAFT HORSES.

ALBANY, Ore., July 24.—Horsebuyers are now securing this part of the state without success for draft horses. Prices offered are the highest in many years and yet few sales are being made. About all the available horses in this county have been secured.

HARDWOOD MILL TO BE MOVED.

INDEPENDENCE, Ore., July 2.—The hardwood mill which was operated here until the past year has been purchased by Fred Oberer and E. A. Meyer, who will move it near Falls City, where they have contracted for 7,000,000 feet of timber. The mill has a capacity of 15,000 feet daily.

FATHER GIVES UP HUNT.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., July 25.—Robert L. Brittan has returned here and given up his search for his son, Cecil, the 4-year-old lad who mysteriously disappeared from camp near the Toll Gate about 10 days ago. The searching parties, however, have not all returned to town, and the mother of the missing boy is still camped at the toll gate. The father believes his son has been kidnapped and this belief is universal among the citizens.

C. P. LETS CONTRACT.

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 25.—The Canadian Pacific Railway has let the contract for the extension of its Nicola branch from Coutlee to Nicola Lake to Rannie, Ironsides and Campbell, who on Sunday sent up a number of workmen to start construction. The road must be built by the end of the year and therefore the contractors are offering $2.50 per day wages. The railroad will ultimately be extended to Princeton and Midway.

IMPROVE SYSTEM.

INDEPENDENCE, Ore., July 25.—Superintendent Dancy, of the Pacific States Telegraph Company, has been here and will recommend that the Independence, Monmouth and Dallas system be improved by putting in the common battery of central system. Under this system the batteries are all at the central office and it is not necessary to ring central.

Poles and wires have been put up and phones installed on the new Parker line, accommodating a large number of farmers. Contracts have also been made for a farmers' line to Buena Vista, taking in Suver and across the river.

PRINEVILLE NORMAL INSTITUTE.

BEND, Ore., July 25.—The Normal Institute being held at Prineville began with a fair attendance. Superintendent Dinwiddie is highly gratified, considering that is the first work of the kind undertaken in Crook County.

MILD CASE OF SMALLPOX.

INDEPENDENCE, Ore., July 25.—A mild case of smallpox has appeared a few miles from this place. A rigid quarantine has been established and there is no danger of scattering the disease.

LUNGE OF HEIFER KILLS WIFE.

SALEM, July 25.—The lungeing horn of a vicious heifer performed a Caesarian operation on the beautiful young wife of Willard English, a farmer living in the Waldo Hills near McLeay, Ore., late yesterday afternoon. The horribly wounded woman walked to the house 100 feet distant, and lived 40 minutes, dying before a doctor, madly racing 12 miles from Salem in an automobile, could reach her. The child was picked up by the father, is alive, strong and fully developed and is expected to live. The accident is one of the most remarkable in Oregon's history.

Mr. English was unloading hay in the barnyard, when his wife came out to talk to him. She was standing beside the wagon, when the heifer, which had never before displayed vicious tendencies, suddenly rushed at her, the horn tearing a fearful wound.

H. W. B. Morse, the physician summoned from Salem, says he thinks he could have saved the mother, too, had he arrived immediately after the accident, as hemorrhage caused death. The child is a girl.

"UNCLE JOE" AT CONEY.

Speaker of House Enjoys Sights and Insists on Being One of People.

NEW YORK, July 25.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon of Illinois, Speaker of the House of Representatives, went to Coney Island last night, says today's Herald, saw all the sights and insisted on being "one of the people," standing in line taking his turn with the rest of the crowds there. He declared that the big show place would have no more enthusiastic "booster" than himself hereafter and entertain his friends by many droll speeches.

Mr. Cannon was Senator Boies Penrose of Pennsylvania, Representatives James Sherman, of Utica, chairman of the Republican Campaign Committee Loudenslager, of New Jersey; W. S. Cocks, of Nassau county, and William M. Calder, of Brooklyn, whose friends, George H. Greennea and Frank Arnold accompanied the party, which went early in the evening in automobiles to Sea Gate. At the Atlantic Yacht Club house they were the guests of Mr. Calder at dinner, and then rode to Coney Island.

Mr. Cannon and his companions first headed for the scene of a thrilling melodrama. Their guide started through a private gate with the visitors to get in ahead of a crowd at the ticket booth, but Mr. Cannon stopped him.

"No," he said, "I am one of the people. Let us take our turn with the rest," and he cheerfully waited till his turn came to pass through the gate. The deep-voiced youth who tells the tale of a train robbery before the curtain rises, interested Mr. Cannon by his rounded periods, and when he wound up with "The wages of sin is death," Mr. Cannon remarked, on the truth of the words and settled back to see the bandits do their work.

When the Speaker and the party shot the chutes, Mr. Cannon held on to his hat with a death-grip, and once ashore exclaimed:

"That loosened me up. Now lets see the whole thing."

He had his picture taken and exacted from the photographer a promise to make one piece and then destroy the plate. Whirling down the mountain torrent of the devil's gorge, Mr. Cannon threw dignity aside and catching hold of Mr. Penrose, who is a big man, said: "You have got to be responsible for my safety this trip. You are big enough to keep this ship on even keel, and I am going to stick by you to the last."

After visiting other places Mr. Cannon announced that he thought Coney Island the finest place for the masses to enjoy themselves he had ever seen and that he would make it his business to tell everybody he met during his campaign trip this Fall to go to Coney Island.

WILL NOT GET SAGE

case will be finally closed. The epitaph to be engraved upon the Sage monument is:

"I have done the best that I could by the light of the day."

The will of the dead financier will be offered for probate tomorrow and then if Mrs. Sage consents, its contents will be made public.

WIFE GETS ALL CASH.

Millionaire Sage Gives Nothing to Charity—Stingy Even in Death.

NEW, July 25.—The World tomorrow will say:

Every dollar of Russell Sage's great fortune is left to Mrs. Sage by a will made in 1901, except an insignificant bequest made to Mrs. Fannie Chapin of Oneida, N. Y., an only sister, who died two years ago. The will is to be read at the home of Mrs. Sage at 643 Fifth avenue today and will be offered for probate immediately. It undoubtedly will be contested by Troy relatives of Mr. Sage, who will charge that the 1901 will was made after a mental breakdown on the part of Mr. Sage, and that Mrs. Sage exerted an undue influence over him in the distribution of his wealth. Not one dollar of the fortune is left to charity. The fortune of Mr. Sage, which was popularly believed to be $100,000,000 and even thought to be greater by the best informed financiers of Wall street, amounts to a little more than $60,000,000.

INSANITY WILL NOT BE PLEA

THAW'S LAWYERS STATE THAT DEFENDANT WILL GO TO TRIAL FOR KILLING WHITE—THERE WILL BE NO INSANITY PROCEEDINGS

NEW YORK, July 25.—Some of Harry Thaw's lawyers made it known yesterday that he would positively go to trial for killing Stanford White, and that there would be no proceedings in the criminal courts looking to an examination into his mental condition. Furthermore, it was said that the trial would begin on October 15.

The prosecution has assured Thaw's lawyers that the District Attorney will certainly not apply for a commission to examine Thaw and that should an informal request be made by representatives of his mother for such action it will not be acceded to. That's present lawyers were hired to stave off insanity proceedings and to get a trial for their client.

From the fact that the firm retained by Thaw's mother is still working on the case and is gathering evidence to show that Thaw is insane there has been a lot of speculation as to what move is to be made by them. With the announcement yesterday that they would have no standing in criminal proceedings as counsel for Mrs. William Thaw, there came a report that application would be made shortly to the civil courts for the appointment of a lunacy commission. It is even said that within a very short time application would be made to the supreme court by the prisoner's mother as the nearest of kin.

While Mrs. William Thaw would not be recognized in any criminal proceedings she would be recognized in civil proceedings of this kind and on such an application, backed up by affidavits of experts declaring Thaw insane, a supreme court judge might order Thaw's trial before such a commission.

According to lawyers who have looked into the matter, the situation will be an entirely novel one, no such application ever having been made before in the supreme court in the case of a person who was facing trial on a criminal charge.

Quaint Customs in Abyssinia.
Quaint customs prevail in parts of Abyssinia. When a father is getting on in years the son bids him climb into a tree and jump down from the branches. If the old man staggers on landing the son spears him on the spot—his usefulness is over. One tribe has a custom of sewing chance visitors up in green hides and leaving them to be killed by the contraction of the skins. With another the only orthodox way of dealing with strangers was to tie them in a bundle and roll them over a precipice.—London Mail.

Just Quit Worrying.
Nobody knows what produces earthquakes, although it is often claimed that they do. The earth quakes somewhere every day. Nobody knows when the earth came or when it will go, where it came from, how it came or how it happened to be here. The fact is, when you get down to the truth, nobody knows anything about anything—past, present or to come—and about the only way to get along in this know-nothing world is not to try to know very much.—Eldorado Republican.

Dull Times.
"Just set it for 5 o'clock," said the young lawyer, who was purchasing an alarm clock. "I'll never want to change it."

"Do you always get up at that hour in the morning?" asked the clerk.
"Oh, no. That's the hour in the afternoon when I always close my office and go home."—Philadelphia Press.

Talking.
Wife—You were talking in your sleep again last night, dear. Why do you persist in doing it? Husband—Good gracious, Maria, a man ought to be allowed to talk sometimes, oughtn't he?—Bohemian.
