BIG POPULAR EVENT FOR REGATTA

PAPE-GLOSS AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP ROWING CONTEST IS WITHIN EASY SCOPE OF ASTORIA COMMITTEE.

The regatta committee would do well to make any possible concession to secure such a notable and alluring event for the coming regatta season here, as the pulling off of the proposed championship rowing contest between Ed Gloss and Al. Pape of San Francisco in these waters. It will attract thousands and lend importance to Astoria's history and influence as a sport center and give a zest to the coming festival that will be invaluable, not only in a money sense, but in the way of record making as well. It were well to close the matter at once, before other cities get in with a successful offer; and do it with a snap that evinces Astoria's love of genuine sport and of championship work.

Yesterday's Oregonian has this to say in regard to the pending contest, and illustrates the value of the affair to this city:

"Al. Pape, the San Francisco oarsman who holds the title of champion single sculler of the Pacific Coast, writes to a friend in the city that he is ready and willing to meet Ed Gloss, of the Portland Rowing Club, but he intimates that since he holds the title it is not benefiting him to be anxious to arrange a match. Pape intimates that whenever Gloss makes a direct challenge he will enter negotiations for a match race."

"Gloss was never ahead of me in any match we rowed," writes Pape, "and his statement that he was leading me when we rounded the turn in the Lewis and Clark contest for the championship of the Pacific Northwest is all bosh, as any of his friends and the public generally know. Coach Murphy, who trained Gloss, even remained away from the race because he did not want to see him defeated, as he knew well enough he would be. I simply played with Gloss upon that occasion, and if I ever get into another race with him I will make him look like 15 cents or quit the business. Under the circumstances of having rowed for the championship of the Pacific Northwest at the Lewis & Clark Fair last year and since the contest was so designated and open to all under those conditions, I think it is the height of impudence for a person who was never any nearer to me in a race than the start to be continually claiming the championship."

"Pape does not designate any conditions under which he will row the Portland men. He has offered to meet Gloss on the Oakland estuary in December for a side bet, but Gloss refuses to row under any condition which might prejudice his amateur standing and further claims that he will be unable to get into condition in the winter time. He wants to meet the San Franciscoan at the Astoria regatta, but while Pape has never formally replied to this proposition, he in all probability would claim that he could not get into condition so soon."

"It looks very much as if both men were beating around the bush considerably when the whole question could be brought to a head if Gloss would but make a direct challenge to Pape, and secure either an acceptance or a refusal."

State and County Papers.—There are 23 ladies and gentlemen of Clatsop county now in session at the court house in this city, as applicants for state and county papers as teachers in the public schools. Three of these are of the male persuasion, and the balance are young women; four are after state honors and nineteen desire county preference. The board of examiners is composed of County School Superintendent Miss Emma C. Warren, assisted by City Superintendent A. L. Clark and Mrs. C. A. Gearhart. The results will not be known before Saturday, when the lists and attainments of the young people will be made known.

Good Signs Prevail.—The fish were fairly active and numerous yesterday; enough so to hold good on the calculations built on Wednesday's run. The fact that they are running in quantities equal to that on which the run was predicted several days ago, is comforting to fisher and canneryman alike, and as the seiners are doing very much better, the signs are all for a continuance of the steady influx. The weights registered yesterday are said to have been quite as good as Wednesday's, though the qualities were a shade under that day's yield.

Important Papers.—County Clerk Clinton yesterday issued the necessary license providing for the marriage of Mr. Louis Rosenfeld and Miss Viola Sewartz, both of this county.

Ten Days of Fun.—About 30 of the youngsters who are amenable to the jurisdiction and discipline of Judge Fraser's juvenile court, at Portland, passed through this city on the noon express, yesterday, bound for Gearhart Park, where they will enjoy life for the next ten days. They are under proper guards and will be kept well within bounds at all times during the outing. They are in charge of Probation Officer S. D. White.

Patrol Wagon.—It is said that the plans of the new fire engine house will include room for the accommodation of a police patrol wagon, which is greatly needed by the Astoria police force on account of the increased number of arrests made necessary since the "open town" regime.

Would-be Citizen.—A native of Sweden, by the name of John N. Lundino, yesterday filed his declaration of intention to eventually become a citizen of the United States, with County Clerk Clinton, in due and legal form.

This case is likely to establish a precedent for another of the same status, filed yesterday in the same court, when a warrant was sworn out against Frank Furia, for the same offense, he being a fisher from the Sacramento river, and not holding citizenship in any of the three states named. The penalty for the offense is a fine from $50 to $100.
