ANXIOUS FOR PEACE

Some Cuban Rebels Willing to Discuss Terms.

GUERRERA REFUSES OFFERS

Revolutionary General Says He Would Rather Die Than Accept Terms from President Palma—Rebels Poorly Armed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—A cable dispatch to a morning paper from Havana says:

General Mario Menocal, who, it has been said, is the rebels' candidate for the presidency, and is now in Santiago, says that he is ready to come for Havana and mediate for peace, without any thought of personal ambition. The veterans of the late war are eagerly expecting him.

The plan now is that Menocal, Cebreco and other leading veterans, go to Pinar Del Rio, see Pino Guerrero and induce him to surrender, accepting pardon as the only concession that President Palma will make. But is not thought likely that Guerrero will consent as he is sending letters to his friends throughout the country, saying he would rather die than accept Palma's terms.

General Rafael Montalvo, secretary of state, who is in charge of the war, says that if the government should compromise with the insurgents it would encourage endless revolution.

The real situation he says, as regards the revolution is that there are 800 men under Guerrero and 400 under other leaders in the province of Pinar del Rio, 800 in the province of Havana, and 2,000 in Santa Clara. The total is only 4,800, and not half of the insurgents are well armed. This is why they avoid a fight.

Senator Canizares, ex-Speaker of the House of Representatives, has published a proclamation calling upon the people to join the revolutionists.

Vice-President Mendez Capote has issued a call to the members of the executive committee of the national assembly of the Moderate party to meet on Wednesday to consider means for ending the war.

Polycarpo Fajardo, a prominent Guanes veteran, left Monday on a secret mission. He represents the veterans. It is said that he has gone to treat with Pino Guerrero. He is expected to return Wednesday.

HERMAN OELRICHS DIES.

Wealthy Man Dies of Liver Trouble on Board Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Following the receipt at Newport yesterday of a wireless message sent by way of Cape Sable, notifying her of the death on board the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse Saturday of her husband, Mrs. Herman Oelrichs immediately left for this city, where she arrived last night. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., C. M. Oelrichs, a brother, reached here on a later train. He immediately proceeded to the Belmont hotel, where a meeting was held. The others present were Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., Mrs. Oelrichs and Charles Childs, the latter an old friend of the family. Mrs. William Jay, a sister of Mr. Oelrichs, is in Paris and a cable message was sent to her last night.

The funeral will be held from the late residence, 1 East 57th street, tomorrow at 1 o'clock, and will be private. Charles Oelrichs said last night at the Union Club that his brother had been ailing for some time, presumably from liver trouble. He sailed for this country on June 12th on the same steamer on which he died, and arrived at Carlisle June 20. He took a treatment until August 20.

CAR STRIKES VAN.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Six men were so badly hurt last night in an accident on the 39th street ferry line of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit that they were taken to the Coney Island Reception Hospital. Several may die from internal injuries. A score of others, some of them women, were hurt by flying splinters when a car crashed into a heavy van between Ulmer Park and Coney Island.

Motorman Hanson did not see the truck, but many of those on the running board did. Most of them jumped. The car struck the van with terrific force and men were swept from the running board.

EFFECT WILL BE LITTLE.

Operation of Hepburn Act Will Not Cause Much Effect.

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—Captain J. G. Grammer, vice president of the New York Central lines in Chicago, who has returned from conference of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and traffic officers of the Eastern England trunk lines, a delegation from the Illinois Manufacturers' Association and the American Shippers' Association, yesterday expressed the opinion that the operation of the Hepburn regulation act will produce an effect less perceptible than did the old interstate commerce law.

He said the conference was satisfactory to the railroad men who, while unsuccessful in an effort to gain from the commission a specific ruling or interpretation of any clause of the new law, secured sufficient information to enable them to proceed definitely in complying with the spirit of the statute.

"The Commission showed a disposition to be liberal in the exercise of such discretionary powers as are vested in that body by the new law," said Captain Grammer. "The impression that prevails in some quarters that the commission has the power to interpret the entire law is incorrect. Only so far as the law affects the form and manner of posting tariffs and the form of bookkeeping has the commission any discretionary powers.

"It would be foolish for the railroads to adopt some new form of tariff and invest probably thousands of dollars in this publication and then be compelled to recall it because of the adoption of a different uniform system by the commission. I believe all railroads intend to wait the decision of the commission and act in accordance with its demands.

"The public generally will find that the commerce law will change the present order of things but very little. All of the railroads so far as I know are complying with the statute and I see no cause for a great hue and cry just because a new law has been passed. The railroads and shippers will find it easy to adjust their affairs to the new conditions."

AFTER "QUACK" DOCTORS.

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—The arrest of scores of "quack" doctors and the prosecution of bogus medical companies which are annually milking the public of thousands of dollars, by imposing on the credulity and hope of the sick, may follow a movement begun by Corporation Counsel Lewis yesterday. Colonel Lewis has asked Chief of Police Collins for a special detail of detectives, to investigate the "fake" medical companies with the result that scores of companies, which the result that scores of complaints which have reached his office from those who have been lured by the advertisements of the "quack" doctors, and induced to spend their savings in the vain hope of recovering from their maladies, in some cases incurable.

The corporation counsel is preparing a letter to Chief Collins in which he suggests that the police should not only procure evidence against the bogus medical corporations and medical impostors, arrest and prosecute them, but should close their places and permanently put them out of business.

In many instances Colonel Lewis says injurious medicines are sold by these doctors with the professed ability to cure any disease with which the victim is suffering.

FOUND DEAD.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 4.—A special to the Times from Pomona says that Angel Garcia, a Mexican, was found dead of gunshot wounds last night. On circumstantial evidence Manuel and R. R. Contreras, brothers, have been arrested and charged with the murder.

MAKES NEW RECORD.

MONTREAL, Sept. 4.—A new Canadian record for the five mile run was made yesterday by J. McCaugh of the Montreal A. A., who covered the distance in 26:53. The former record was held by Grant of the New York A. C. at 27:17 2-5.

CRAPSY TRIAL UP.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—The case of Rev. Algernon S. Crapsy will come up today before the court of review of the Protestant Episcopal church for determination whether or not his sentence to suspension on the charge of heresy shall be upheld. Prominent ministers and laymen arrived yesterday to attend the trial. Rev. Dr. Crapsy, rector of St. Andrew's Church, Rochester, the defendant, was accompanied by his lawyer, James D. Perkins. It is said they will appeal for an adjournment on the grounds that Dr. Crapsy has not had time to prepare his defense, but this action will be strenuously opposed.

STENSLAND IS TAKEN

1000 as commission from the sale of the property of the Cooperative Store to the Northwestern Life Insurance company, which held a mortgage lien on the premises. He drew $1,500 as salary from the Mount Olive Cemetery Association. This was all the money he had taken with him.

"Why, with a million of dollars in the bank, did you not take more?"

"I could have taken a quarter of a million dollars without trouble," said he, "but I did not want to. I never took one cent of cash from the bank and put it in my own pocket. I never took a dollar belonging to other people."

Stensland's health at first was not the best. When he boarded the train on the start of his flight he fainted. On board ship he was again taken sick and for four days was on his back. In his first few days in Tangier he was far from well and he went to Spain, knowing the route he took in moving from what he regarded as protected soil.

Stensland made no attempt to deny his guilt. His confession began with a statement that he was surprised to learn that the total loss involved in the bank's failure would reach $2,000,000.

"I cannot understand how the shortage can be $2,000,000. To my certain knowledge my liability to the bank does not exceed $300,000. Anything over that has been stolen by Hering.

"My indebtedness began a long while ago in 1896. It was a small affair, a small amount, and God knows I never intended to steal. I was in a tight hole and needed money. I put my own note, genuine, not a forgery, in the bank. Then it was suggested to me that the bank examiner would stand for it, and he did."

"Who suggested it?"

"Hering. It was the beginning. He pointed out that it was easy to obtain money that way. Then, when my own notes became too numerous, he suggested the forgeries."

"And you acquiesced?"

"Yes. First he tempted, then he urged and I fell. Ever after that I was absolutely in his power. He owned my body and soul."

"How many of the forgeries did you do yourself?"

"Not one. Hering, I think, did all."

WARM SESSION HELD.

Heyburn Makes Bitter Attack on the Administration.

best of speculating cattlemen. Congressman Reeder took exception to this declaring that the president set this reserve aside, and probably did so from a pure purpose. Heyburn resented Reeder's interruption, whereupon the latter expressed the belief that Heyburn was impugning Roosevelt's motive. Please keep your ideas to yourself while I have the platform," he said. "The president of the United States needs no defense at your hands."

Heyburn did not question the president's motives, but believed he had been misled by interested advisors. Again Heyburn asserted with vehemence that Pinchot's theory about forest reserves absorbing moisture, was all nonsense, and there were cries of "No, no" and hisses from all parts of the house.

Heyburn Grows Angry.

Heyburn shouted defiance at the audience. "Geeze, his!" he said. "Don't try that on me. I'm too old to be scared by that process. I will have a hearing." Heyburn continued after order was restored, but had not proceeded very far when Reeder again interrupted and wanted to know if Heyburn was going to give any other delegates a chance to talk. Another disorderly out-break followed, after which Heyburn said a few more words and retired.

Senator Dubois made a brief address, after which, at 11 o'clock, Senator Carter, the chairman, brought the meeting to an end.

He said the congress had experienced a long, warm day, and a rather hot night, but was indebted to the gentlemen who had furnished the heat.

APPEARANCES

Often a person is sized up by his appearance; by the tone that surrounds him. And more often a business house is sized up by the stationary it uses. A cheap letter head or a poor bill head gives a mighty poor first impression and makes business harder to transact. Good printing costs no more than poor printing. The first impression is half the battle in business. You wouldn't employ a "sloppy" salesman; why put up with "sloppy" stationery, that gives a wrong impression of the importance of your business. Let us do your printing and help you to make that ten strike.
