

ARRESTS ARE MANY

New York Police Get One Person for Every Twenty in City.

SUMMER CAMPERS ARE GOING

Tent Cities Disappear With the Approach of Winter—Mayor Dunne vs. Mayor McClellan—Problem of Municipal Ownership.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—According to a current official report nearly 200,000 persons were taken into the custody of the police in New York last year, or one arrest for about every twenty persons in the metropolis. This was 22,500 more arrests than during the previous year. This big figure may mean that the metropolis is very wicked or simply that Police Commissioner Bingham is holding down his job with both hands. It cost the city nearly $11,500,000 to maintain its police department. The number of males arrested in proportion to females was about four to one. The percentage of natives of the United States was only 37. Russians (including Jews) gave the police the most trouble and 21,065 of them landed in quod. The Irish were next with 14,278. Of the arrests, 44,085 were for intoxication. The great number of arrests for petty offenses is interesting in the light of a recent police incident. Three poor Greek peddlers had been arrested in Bronx Park, charged with the awful crime of selling peanuts on Sunday. The magistrate, in discharging them, told the bewildered Greeks that if they would only open a pool-room, or rob a bank, or make away with millions in insurance funds, the police would never molest them.

Tent Cities Disappearing.

New York's remarkable summer tent colonies are now breaking up. During the season just drawing to a close, some 6,000 inhabitants of the metropolis have lived under canvas. Many campers have lived in the little colony under the Palisades of the Hudson or on the beach at Staten Island and about four hundred tents have clustered about the mouth of the Shrewsbury River, opposite Sandy Hook, but the largest camping colony, a veritable city of tents, has been maintained at Rockaway Beach, within the city limits. Here more than a thousand tents have been maintained during the summer, and the little community has established a new phase of metropolitan life. The campers have reduced housekeeping cares to the most primitive simplicity. On getting up in the morning the inhabitants are within a few steps of the ocean for a morning plunge in the surf. They spend most of the day in their bathing clothes, leading a sort of semi-amphibious existence, and men, women and children are as brown as Indians long before the season ends.

Visit of Mayor Dunne. The visit of Mayor Edward F. Dunne of Chicago, who came to New York last week to study the charter of the city for pointers for a new charter he is desirous of securing for Chicago, is interesting in that the mayor of the Windy City reiterates his devotion to the idea of municipal ownership. New York has not been impressed with the fact that the public utilities in Chicago have greatly benefited by a municipal ownership administration in that city. Mayor Dunne's remarks attracted all the more attention in that Mayor McClellan was soon to return to the city after making a careful study of municipal ownership operation in some of the principal cities of Europe. Mayor McClellan does not agree with Mayor Dunne on the municipal ownership question and states from his personal observation that municipally owned public utilities in the cities abroad do not give service comparable to private ownership.

ELEVEN WELCHERS NAMED.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 8.—The committee appointed at the recent meeting of the Washington Bankers' Association to investigate insurance companies doing business in Washington and suffering losses in the San Francisco disaster has made its report. The report praises the "dollar" companies for their action in the San Francisco matter and follows with a list of companies that flatly repudiated their San Francisco losses as follows: Commercial Union, Alliance, Palatine, Norwich Union, Indemnity, Rhine and Moselle, Transatlantic, Austrian Phoenix, North German of Hamburg; North German, of New York; Williamsburg City.

FIGHT FOR DAMAGES.

EUGENE, Sept. 8.—The petition in the matter of opening the Lucky Boy road in the Blue River mining district, to public travel was granted by the Lane County Commissioners' Court yesterday afternoon. The claim of the Lucky Boy Mining company for $10,000 damages was turned down and the attorneys for the company state that they will fight for the amount in the courts. They were willing to compromise the matter and it is said they would have accepted $5,000, but now that the court has refused to allow them anything the first-named figure is what they expect to get through a decision of the Circuit Court.

SELLS HIS BIG RANCH.

EUGENE, Or., Sept. 8.—E. J. Crow, who has been in the stockraising business in the Spencer Butte country, six miles south of Eugene, for the past 25 years, making a success of it, and acquiring 1,100 acres of land, has sold his farm to O. B. Bennett and W. L. Fields of Colorado Springs, for $18,000. Mr. Crow will reside in Eugene and retire from active business life.

LARGE INCREASE.

A preliminary statement made by George M. Bowers, United States Commissioner of Fisheries, to the Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor, of the operations of his bureau for the past fiscal year, says that the aggregate output of fish from the Commission's hatcheries during the year was 1,939,850,000, an increase of nearly 200,000,000 over the output of 1905.

TAKES HIS LIFE.

BUTTE, Mont., Sept. 8.—J. S. Wisner, public administrator of Deer Lodge county and a prominent Anaconda citizen, committed suicide in a Butte lodging house last night by taking strychnine and morphine. Brooding over the disgrace caused by the arrest of his son for defaulting to the extent of more than $100,000 was the cause.

Harvard Takes Defeat Gracefully—No Excuses to Offer—Coach Wray is Gloomy Over Defeat, Though

PUTNEY, England, Sept. 8.—Following the decisive defeat of the Harvard crew by Cambridge today, the two crews dined together tonight at the Princes restaurant. Colonel William, who rowed against Harvard in the Oxford four in 1869, presided, with Captain Filly (Cambridge) on his right and President Goldsmith of the Cambridge boat club on his left, and Ambassador Reid and other distinguished guests surrounding him. The usual toasts were drunk and the Cambridge crew was invited to visit America for a return race. After the race Stroke Stuart (Cambridge) said: "Filly and his crew rowed a magnificent race. We are glad we won, but sorry to defeat such good fellows."

Captain Filly (Harvard) declared his men had been beaten fairly and squarely. Coach Wray was gloomy and had nothing to say except that he had no excuse to offer. Coach Mattlebury of Cambridge said: "The Harvard men made up the best crew ever sent out from the United States. With another year and a little more of the English style the Harvard men will be dangerous rivals. I hope the Americans will favor us with another visit."

CALL LOANS OUT.

San Francisco Banks Have Out $50,000 in New York.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—The Examiner today says: The San Francisco banks have out in the way of call loans in New York between forty and fifty million dollars at very favorable rates of interest, so great is the eastern demand for ready money with which to move the unusually big crops. There is a surplus of money in San Francisco at present and the banks are finding it profitable to use it in the way of call loans in the East.

The local surplus is owing to the influx of insurance money and for the further reasons that pending preparations of plans for buildings and other local investments many people with money have no present use for it and are filling the banks with it.

CANNERY DESTROYED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—The steamer Nushagak, arriving yesterday from Bristol Bay, Alaska, brought news of the destruction of the Coffee Creek Salmon Cannery on Kvichak river, by fire in the latter part of May. The warehouse and the entire cannery plant consisting of several buildings, besides the wharf and a lighter, was destroyed and all within 45 minutes.

In the ruins of the cannery the following day the bodies of seven men were found, these victims having presumably been asleep at the time of the fire.

The Coffee Creek Cannery was owned by the Alaska Packers' Association and was the largest in the Bristol Bay section, employing 250 men and boys in addition to fishermen and other outside men.

If the laboring men of the United States would absolutely quit drink for one month they would have enough money to purchase 500 of the largest manufacturing establishments in America. If they would abstain a year they could buy 5,000 manufacturing establishments, and if they would quit for twenty years they could control all the manufacturing interests in America. If they would only quit 60 days they could buy the Pullman Palace Car works and all its rolling stock.
