Launched in Happiness—At high noon yesterday, at the home of the pastor of the First Lutheran church in this city, Rev. G. E. Rydquist said the solemn and beautiful lines that united for life Mr. Carl J. Oisen of Columbia county, Oregon, and Miss Ida Johnson, of Clatskenine. The groom is a well known railway man, having been superintendent of the Benson logging system on this side of the Columbia and of the Oisen logging line on the north-shore. The young people will make Clatskenine their future home.

Some Wine Colored Ties—Manager Stone of the P. A. Stokes clothing and men's furnishing house in this city, is to be credited with a unique idea in window dressing. He has put the firm's finest array of new neck-wear on exhibition in the western window of the establishment, under a suggestive and comparative line-up of the colors they stand for. There are the Zinfandels, the Ports, the Sherrys and the Champagnes, all wines whose delicate tints are embodied in the beautiful silks and satins of the ties themselves. It is a pretty conceit and has attracted broad attention.

Inspecting Extension—Guy W. Talbot, general manager, and C. A. Stewart, general agent at Portland for the Astoria & Columbia River Railroad, passed through Astoria on Sunday en route to Portland, from a trip to Tillamook, where they went to get in touch with the district to be tapped by the extension of the road. Good progress is being made on the surveys for the new construction. One crew is almost to Nehalem, having started from the present terminus of the road at Seaside, while a second crew left Tillamook yesterday morning to run a line to meet the south-bound crew. Desirable grades and tangents are being secured and the line will probably be permanently located this Fall.

THE HIGHER COURT AND ITS ORDERS

VENIRE OF JURYMEN SUMMONED BACK INTO COURT FOR SERVICE—ONE JURY SELECTED—ARGUMENTS AND ORDERS.

Hon. T. A. McBride, judge of the circuit court, arrived in the city yesterday on the noon train from his up-river home, and at 1:30 o'clock the session of that tribunal was resumed, with all the officers of the court and the Clatsop bar in attendance.

The jury venire was also in evidence and from it a jury was selected to try the issues involved in the case of Mary M. Suprenant versus Mary W. Twilght, as administratrix, which will be the first matter under consideration this morning. The remainder of the venire will remain here subject to the orders of court, as usual.

In the matter of the case of G. W. Sanborn versus Nora Fitzpatrick, the motion to dismiss the injunction was argued and submitted, and the case set for trial on Monday, Oct. 22, at 2 o'clock p. m.

The court then adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning.

Sought Unhappy Remedy—Yesterday morning the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Morton, on Tenth street, in this city, was the scene of a very unhappy affair, in which their son Oscar took a part that is likely to prove fatal unless an unforeseen and grateful emergency arises. He has, for a long time past, been very downcast and unhappy over the state of his health and his incapacity to earn a competency on that score. His sorrow culminated yesterday morning in an attempt to end his life by means of strangulation. He was found by his father, seated in a chair near the bureau in his room, with a strap around his throat and the upper end of it over the bureau top, and the terrible work was nearly completed. His father released him instantly, and invoked medical aid without loss of time, and all day yesterday the work of restoring him to life and comfort went on assiduously, but it is said, hopelessly, and his death is expected hourly. Young Mr. Morton has suffered everything for man incurable case of blood-poisoning, which involved his head and face, and caused him the deepest suffering and mortification, and this is thought to have moved him, primarily, to the desperate course he undertook. Doctors J. A. Fulton and O. B. Estes are doing all in their power to mitigate the results of the rash act, but are not hopeful of the outcome. At 8 o'clock last evening young Mr. Morton was still alive, but with scarcely any chance in his favor for a saving re-acton. The family has the sincere sympathy of their many friends in Astoria.

But Two Days Left—There being but two days left before the new federal law governing the processes of naturalization go into effect, to-wit, at midnight of tomorrow, Wednesday, the desire to avoid the new provisions and employ the simpler methods of the old statute, is inducing a tremendous rush to the office of the county clerk these days. Scores of complete and final naturalizations are made daily, as well as many more filings of the initial declarations of intention in that behalf, and the force under Mr. Clinton has its hands full all the time meeting the heavy emergency. Yesterday, the following men took out their final papers before Judge Trenchard and County Clerk Clinton and the deputies, to-wit: John Werner Enberg, a Swede; Anton Johnson, John Leapoint, Victor Ylonen, Kalle Ylonen, Charles Rowa, John W. Johnson, John Tyberg, Nels G. Tyberg, E. Pestilla, Matti Jarvenpaa, Jacob Pietala, all natives of Finland; Andrew Olsen, of Norway; Vincent Caviglia, of Italy; and Gilbert Tadel, of Austria. While declarations of intention were filed by the following: Vaino Rappa, John Kurtti, Oscar Niemi, August Embi, Harry Kysni and Anton Wainamo, of Finland; Edward Edwards and Edward Gagnat, of Norway; Giuseppe Smorto, of Italy, and Olaf H. Johnson, of Sweden.

At Famous St. Mary's—Astoria's beautiful hospital of St. Mary's was, for one day, yesterday, without an additional patient, and all that were under treatment were reported to be in the best possible conditions according to their several and variable stresses. The sister superior, Sister Tanered, went to Portland yesterday morning with her friend and guest of over Sunday, Sister Roderick, of that city, for a brief stay in the metropolis.

Quality is the test which brings good dressers to Wise's Store. Of course most stores nowadays proclaim the virtues of quality but we let our goods speak for themselves. In these piping times of Peace, of Plenty and of Prosperity cheapness has no magic for the Wise buyer. Quality is our goal. Quality is our standard.

Civil Service Chances—Secretary C. T. Crosby of the local civil service board, announces examinations at the federal building in this city, as follows: On October 10, for deputy shipping commissioner; and on the same date, for saddle. An examination will be held on October 17, 1906, for the position of marine-fireman in the custom service at Astoria, Oregon. Applications for this examination, which is noneducational, will be accepted up to the hour of closing business on that date. From the eligibles resulting from this examination a vacancy, now existing on the launch patrol, and other vacancies, as they may occur in the custom service at Astoria, will be filled. No educational test will be given, and it will not be necessary for applicants to appear at any place for examination. The age limit is 20 years or over on the date of examination. Applications may be secured from Mr. C. T. Crosby, the Commission's representative in the Custom House at Astoria.

Found in the Columbia—On Sunday last all that was mortal of the late J. E. Bradley of Portland, who lost his life by falling from the deck of the steamer Lurline last week, while enjoying the hospitality of his friend, Purser Jack Moran, of that vessel, was discovered floating in the river at a point directly opposite Cathlamet on Sunday last, and word was sent at once to Mr. Moran, who came down on the noon express of Sunday, identified the body and made all necessary arrangements for its shipment to the metropolis, where interment will be had under home auspices.

Visited by the Stork—A new member was added yesterday to the family of Chas. A. Burlingame by the arrival of a baby girl. The happy parents are the recipients of the hearty congratulations from their host of friends in this city.

Final Honors Paid—The remains of the late J. H. Johanson, of Seaside, arrived from the capital city on the noon express yesterday and were met at the A. & C. depot by a contingent of about thirty members of Temple Lodge No. 7, A. F. & A. M., of this city, Albert Dunbar, W. M., presiding. The following well known Masons acted as pall-bearers on the sad occasion, to-wit: J. N. Grif-fine, W. T. Schofield, E. Z. Ferguson, W. E. Smith, W. E. Schimpf, William Ross and Dr. Jay Tuttle. The flowers contributed by many Astoria friends and by the lodge were abundant and very beautiful. Interment was had in Ocean View cemetery, O. I. Peterson acting as grand marshal in the obsequies and final honors.

Find Much Work Done—The members of the county court, who have been on a road inspection tour in the Nehalem valley, returned one Sunday evening. They report much work in that part of the country, especially along the river. The residents of the Jewell district were urged to spend their special levy money on the main road leading to Astoria. They also asked that work be commenced at the Olney school house and continued towards Jewell, in order that the court can have rock spread as fast as the road is completed. The clearing for the new road over the right of way from the Olney school house to the 16-mile post, will be completed next March, and the grading will be commenced as soon as the weather will permit.

On Inspection Tour—The life saving stations at the mouth of the Columbia were inspected yesterday by Captain D. F. Tozier, U. S. R. C. S., inspector of life saving stations of this district. The result of Captain Tozier's trip was not learned last evening, but it is thought he found things in the usual splendid order.
