Latest Quotations in the Portland Markets

Complete Market Reports Corrected Each Day Giving the Wholesale Prices of Commodities, Farm Produce and Vegetables.

PORTLAND, Sept. 28.—In the local hop market there is nothing reported with reference to prices; in fact, the Coast market is not yet established.

Foreign news reports the German market as very firm, choice grades realizing better prices than previously quoted. For the first time in the history of the hop industry German growers have had trouble in harvesting their crop, on account of a great scarcity of pickers.

The English market is at a standstill, buyers and sellers not showing any interest whatever in the situation.

According to recent estimates the California crop will come up to fully 95,000 bales, with some reports placing it at the full 100,000 points. A leading Portland firm is advised that from 3,000 to 4,000 bales have been allowed to remain on the poles, on account of a lack of pickers, and because the hops become vor-ripe.

As to the quality of the Oregon crop little can be said definitely until the crop is baled, a matter of two weeks or so. The larger yards will finish picking in this week, but some of the smaller west side yards will not be finished until Wednesday of next week.

APPEARANCES

Often a person is sized up by his appearance; by the tone that surrounds him. And more often a business house is sized up by the stationary it uses. A cheap letter head or a poor bill head gives a mighty poor first impression and makes business harder to transact.
