HINTS ON CHARTER PROVISIONS

IMPORTANT SESSION OF ASTORIA CHARTER COMMISSION AT CITY HALL LAST EVENING—SOME PERTINENT CHANGES CONSIDERED.

Twelve of the nineteen members of the Astoria Charter commission met at the regular session of the commission last night in the council chamber at the city hall, to-wit: Mayor Herman Wise, Auditor Olof Anderson, C. C. Utzinger, City Attorney A. M. Smith, Hon. Asmus Brix, Hon. J. C. McCue, William Ross, Judge F. J. Taylor, Dr. W. C. Logan, Councilman C. A. Leinenweber, H. M. Lornsen and John Nylund.

The present status of the work was thoroughly discussed by those in attendance and the conclusion was reached that there was no time to lose in perfecting the changes and amendments that are to be submitted to the people for approval at the coming city election on December 12 next, and a tacit agreement to expedite the work.

Among the new elements of municipal law injected into the deliberations last night, were the following, submitted by Mr. Lornsen:

Granting to the city the power and authority to construct and purchase water works and electric lighting plants and to issue bonds therefor, etc.

Establishing an eight-hour municipal working day, and fixing a minimum wage of $2.50 per day, and restricting public employment to citizens of the United States.

Abolishing the police commission and investing the power of appointment and organization of the police force, in the hands of the mayor and common council, etc.

Submitted by A. M. Smith (and with those presented by Mr. Lornsen referred for final action to the next ensuing meeting):

Fixing the limit of city indebtedness at $230,000 and providing for all processes in that relation.

Exemption of councilmen and city officers from criticism for the enactment of those duties ordained by ordinance; and from claims for damage resulting from defective work; providing for a salary of $100 per annum for the mayor and councilmen, and for a forfeiture of $5 for each and every case of absence from regular meetings, etc.; investing the street superintendent with power to inspect the construction and improvement of streets and giving him more latitude in his office in the disposal of the city's business in his department.

Among the matters finally determined last night by the commission were the following:

The liquor business, as conducted in the city of Astoria is to be left absolutely in the hands of the common council as to the granting, restricting, prohibiting and regulation of licenses in this behalf.

Prohibiting any councilman or city officer from entering into any sort of contract with, or in behalf of, or for the city or furnishing any supplies in the matter of such contract; and providing a penalty compelling instant removal from office for a dereliction of the law in this connection.

Re-districting the City of Astoria into four wards, instead of three, as now constituted; the new boundaries to be, practically, as follows:

First ward, from the westerly limit of the city to the center of Fifth street.

Second ward, from the center of Fifth street to the center of Fourteenth street.

Third ward, from the center of Fourteenth street to the center of Thirty-fifth street.

Fourth ward, from the center of Thirty-fifth street to the easterly boundaries of the city.

The commission then adjourned until the meeting of next Wednesday night when it is hoped that every member of the commission in the city will be in attendance, and take part in the closing and important phases of the work yet to be laid out.

ARE HIGHLY ELATED.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Among former former fellow officers, teachers and students at the West Point Military Academy, the announcement of the victory of Lieutenant Frank P. Lahm in the international balloon race was received with great satisfaction.

Lieutenant Lahm was one of the most popular men at West Point in his cadet days, making the football team as quarterback and as an instructor he was even more popular.

"It was a great victory," declared Colonel R. L. Scott, superintendent of the Academy, "and I feel mighty good to think one of our army men captured the trophy for America. There is no doubt aerostatics will play an important part in the next great war and the United States should not be behind the other countries."

REBELS REFUSE TO DISARM.

Situation is Still Serious in Guantanamo—2,500 Still in the Field.

SANTIAGO, Cuba., Oct. 2.—It is reported that 2,000 rebels in the vicinity of Guantanamo have refused to disarm. The situation here is still serious. The revolutionists continue to concentrate around Santiago. They promise to disarm if General Castillo orders them to do so. Del Castillo has not arrived, but is expected now at any time.

Officers from the cruiser Des Moines unofficially witnessed a spectacular review of the insurgents yesterday. The navel men were enthusiastically cheered when they were recognized. Good order prevails here.

NINE PERSONS INJURED.

Street Car and Engine Collide With Serious Results.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3.—Nine persons were injured last night, three of them seriously, in a collision between a Southern Pacific switch engine and a south bound Vernon Avenue Electric car on Central Avenue, between Second and Third streets. The most seriously injured are:

James Nicholson, Hollywood, back wrenched, possibly broken, severe concussion of the brain, may die; Mrs. T. Harris, 940 East 38th street, slight concussion of the brain, face cut; W. T. Hampton, motorman, face lacerated, right eye put out.

GAVE CHILDREN $1,000,000 EACH.

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—A dispatch to the Inter Ocean from Milwaukee, Wis., says: That Captain Frederick Palst gave each of his children $1,000,000 prior to his death because he wanted to be relieved of his business cares to a certain extent, and because he wanted to see what they would do with it, and how they would bear the responsibility, was the testimony of Henry Fink, collector of internal revenue, before Judge Carpenter in the county court yesterday. The proceedings were instituted to determine the amount of inheritance tax due the state.
