FUGITIVE CORNERED.

Connected with the fact of his arrest is a romance. It seems that Thompson fell violently in love with a beautiful girl living at San Antonio, Texas, and last Thursday went there to see her. He was recognized on the street in San Antonio by Healy, who is a friend of Winters, and the authorities were called on to arrest him.

Healy at once wired Winters of the arrest, and the latter saw Mr. Manning. The San Antonio police wired Chief Gritzmacher, asking about the man and asserting that he had been arrested on the strength of Healy's accusation, though they sent the name as "Helle."

"A mistake has evidently been made," said Chief Gritzmacher this morning, "because I have inquired of District Attorney Manning and he tells me that nobody has ever asked for the arrest of a man named Thompson for being concerned in the larceny of diamonds in this city."

A PROMISING ACTOR.

Young Member of Stock Company Who Possesses Ability.

Among the actors with the Swain Company now appearing at the Star Theater, none possess greater promise than Mr. James Miller, whose work in the romantic leading role of Captain Daniels during the past few nights' presentation of "Felicia" has proven him possessed of hitherto unsuspected abilities. Of pleasing presence and attractive personality and with promising ability in dialect character roles as was shown by his admirable interpretation of the old Scotch elder "Thammas Wammond" in "The Little Minister." Mr. Miller's future is assured in the profession he so signally adorns, and in which he has so many admirers.

WATER RECORDS LOWERED.
Speed Records Lowered, But Not Endurance Tests.

Twenty years ago no man living could swim one hundred yards under 65½ seconds; last year the record was brought as low as 59 seconds. During the same period 1 minute 50½ seconds has been knocked off the 500-yard time, nearly three minutes off the half-mile and the mile record has been reduced from 28 minutes 19½ seconds to 24 minutes 42 3-5 seconds, while proportionate reductions have been made at intermediate and greater distances.

But although our swimmers have gained speed, says London Tit-Bits, it is doubtful whether they are a whit superior in stamina to their predecessors of a score or more years ago; indeed many of the feats of the '70s and '80s could scarcely be eclipsed today. Thirty-one years have gone by since Captain Webb startled the world by breasting his way across the English channel, covering 30½ miles in 21½ hours—a feat which such doughy swimmers as Holbein, Burgess, Holmes, Heaton and others have tried in vain to rival.

Among other remarkable feats of 20 years or more ago, in April, 1886, J. Finney stayed under water in a tank at the Canterbury Theater of Varieties for four minutes and 29 seconds, a feat which has only once been beaten. Finney also swam 113 yards 1 foot in costume under water and with his hands tied behind his back, picked up 75 coins with his mouth from the bottom of a tank. In 1886 F. Burns dived from the pier at Runcorn (a height of 85 feet) swam to Liverpool, walked to London, and crowned this curious combination by diving from London bridge.

NEW MASONIC HOME

Beautiful Temple in Portland Consecrated Yesterday.

MASONS OF ALL DEGREES

Corner Stone Laid Under the Splendid and Impressive 'Ritual—Leaders Who Were In Evidence—Interesting Data of Event.

PORTLAND, Oct. 20.—The hosts of Oregon Masonry, some 8,000 strong, from the faltering novitiate to the nobles who have trod the burning desert sands of Shrineland, were represented either in body or spirit, in the solemn ritualistic ceremonies attending the laying of the corner stone of the magnificent new $130,000 Masonic temple at West Park and Yamhill streets, at 2 o'clock this afternoon by Grand Master Dr. W. T. Williamson.

The service was expressive of the first material evidence that their dream of years, a home befitting the dignity and strength of the great fraternal organization to which they belonged, is to be realized with the passing of a few more months.

Not only were the rites impressive to the initiate in the mysteries of Masonry, but they compelled the closest attention and interest of the thousands of spectators who witnessed their performance.

The big assemblage which gathered at the present time at Third and Alder streets half an hour before the services began was a vast concourse of Masons of high and low degree, representing well nigh the full membership strength of the blue lodges, the chapters of Royal Arch Masons, the knight commanderies of Portland. And with them were joined hundreds of out-of-town brethren who came to the city to be present at the ceremonies.

The order of the services was as follows: Prayer, by grand chaplain, J. R. N. Bell, of Baker City; ceremony of laying the cornerstone, by Most Worshipful Grand Master Dr. W. T. Williamson; music; address, by Most Worshipful Past Grand Master Judge J. B. Cleland; remarks by Most Excellent Grand High Priest Lot L. Pearce, of Salem, Past Eminent Grand Commander George H. Burnett, Mrs. Robert Lutke, past grand matron Eastern Star; music; benediction; return to Masonic Temple, Third and Alder.

As soon as the parade disbanded, Grand Chaplain Bell delivered the opening prayer, followed by the traditional Masonic ritualism attending the placing of the little copper box in the cornerstone proper.

In the copper box 8x8x10 inches, which was placed under the cornerstone before it was sealed, were the following articles:

- Copy of the proceedings of the Grand Lodge, 1906.
- Copy of the proceedings of the Grand Chapter, R. A. M., 1905.
- Copy of the proceedings of the Grand Commandery, K. T., 1906.
- Copy of the programmes of A. & A. S. Rite, January, 1905, and June, 1906.
- One day's wages of the Faithful Craftmen of Portland Chapter No. 3.
- One day's wages of the Faithful Craftmen of Washington Chapter No. 18.
- Copy of the Masonic Directory of Portland, 1906.
- Copy of the Morning Oregonian Oct. 20, 1906; of Evening Telegram, Oct. 19, 1906; and of Oregon Journal, Oct. 19, 1906.
- Specimens of postal cards and post-triangularly operated power doors.

GROWING LIST OF ACCIDENTS

Five Serious Mishaps to Warships in a Few Months—New Ships are Always Safe from Sinking.

WASHINGTON, October 20.—Strong measures will be taken by the Navy Department to prevent the recurrence of warship accidents such as have occurred altogether too often in recent months. In January two of the battle ships starting for the manoeuvres off Cuba collided and were laid up for repairs. Norfolk was then next the scene of a collision between two torpedo boats, in which one barely escaped sinking. Then the Rhode Island got into trouble again, and her captain has been suspended from duty for six months for grounding his vessel off the Virginia coast last May. The collision between the Alabama and the Illinois off Newport was even a more serious affair. Two of the officers of the Alabama have been recommended for court martial. Lastly, the grounding of the Boston off the coast of Washington-cruiser Boston off the coast of Washington have still added further to the list of accidents already too long.

These mishaps have centered attention on the means of safety with which all new United States battle-ships are provided in the form of elec-

COLLAPSING WALLS

Five Men Die Beneath Them In San Francisco.

CALLIED BUT FAILED TO HEED

Some Were Workmen, Others Were Salvaging Brass from the Debris of Ruined Building—All Proved Fatal.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Five men were killed and two were injured under collapsing walls toppled over by the high wind this morning. Three unknown men were crushed to death under a wall at the southeast corner of Commercial and Montgomery and another badly crushed. Two were killed and one probably fatally injured under the ruins of the wall of the John Hoy furniture company on Mission street, near Third avenue. The names of the dead are Peter Johns and G. Durand, a Greek.

Both accidents occurred at almost the same time.

John Riordan, foreman of the Mission-street work, noticed the wall swaying ominously just a few minutes before it fell. He called to the men to come out, and all obeyed but Johns, Durand and Charles O'Connor. When it was too late, Johns and Durand rushed frantically for the street. O'Connor backed up against the other wall. The wall came down with a crash.

The other accident of the morning happened at the southeast corner of Montgomery and Commercial streets. Three men—all of them Italian laborers whose names are not known—were pinned beneath a falling wall and lost their lives. A fourth man, Ginoni Comesse, was badly injured, and now lies between life and death at the harbor hospital.

These four victims were engaged in salvaging brass in the ruins of the brick building formerly occupied by Paul P. Berpart & Company, manufacturers of stamps of the United States.

Several United States coins of different values.

The signal was then given by the Grand Master for the swinging of the cornerstone into position by the workmen, and with trowel laden with mortar in hand and with a few deft swings the block was sealed in its permanent resting place with the full exemplification of all the solemn rites of Grand Lodge Masonry connected with such a ceremony.

The address of the day, delivered by Past Grand Master Judge J. B. Cleland, followed.

The splendid new Masonic Temple, when completed, will be one of the finest and best appointed fraternal edifices in the country, and will be used, save for the ground floor, exclusively for Masonic purposes. It will be 100x100 feet, the main part four stories, the rest five stories high. The total height of the building will be 90 feet. The material used will be concrete, brick, stone and wood.
