

MARITIME MATTERS

Some Big Steamers on the Bar-Bound List Now.

UNDINE RELIEVES THE LURLINE

Little Steamer Colwell Is Sold for $2,800—Hazel Dollar En Route to Hong Kong—Louis Clears for San Francisco—Notes.

The steamer Undine of the Kamm line will be down from Portland this evening, in place of the Lurline, which vessel is laying off for a day to make some repairs to her upper-works, as a result of her scraping acquaintance with the British ship Glenalvon, in the Willamette river, at Portland, the other morning. Captain McNeil, alias "Scotty," is in command of the Undine, and there are plenty of people here who want to see him.

The steamer Alliance is due down this morning, en route to Coos Bay, and is billed to leave the Callender pier at 8 o'clock.

The steamship Costa Rica came down from Portland yesterday morning early and left down and out at 9 o'clock, making it to sea direct.

The steamship Nicomedia is still bar-bound in the lower harbor, but will probably get away for China some time today.

The American bark Star of Bengal went up the river yesterday on the tow-lines of the Oklahoma, as far as Stella, where she will load lumber for San Francisco delivery.

The British ship Oweenee will go to Portland today on the hawvers of the Oklahoma, if the latter can get back in time.

The five-masted schooner Louis, from Knappton, cleared at the custom house yesterday, for San Francisco, with $25,000 feet of lumber.

The steamer F. A. Kilburn arrived down from Portland yesterday morning and went down to the bar, but whether she crossed out or not, is guessable.

The steamship Hazel Dollar came down the river yesterday, en route to Hong Kong, wheat laden. She will get dispatch outward as soon as the bar sobers up.

A bill of sale was filed yesterday at the custom house, recording the sale of the steamer Colwell, from Charles H. Johnson, to Albert Bur-cham, of Kelso, Washington, the price named in the bill being $2,800.

The bill of sale lately filed at the custom house here, recording the sale of the seven-ton motor launch Elmore by Peter Lee Olsen to the Umpqua Packing company, and which was returned by the authorities here to Tillamook for correction, has been returned to the office here.

Customs Inspector Charles Haddix, is detailed to the wrecked bark Peter Iredale, to take an account of dutiable goods and stores, and will probably report in the premises today.

Hallowe'en—The customary observance of Hallowe'en was indulged in last evening by old and young. A Hallowe'en social was given in the basement of the Congregational church which was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Young boys amused themselves with "Jack o'lanterns," while a number of games that are missing throughout the city were attributed to older boys. The police were on duty, watching out for depredations, but no arrests were made.

Astorians in the East—Word reached this office yesterday indicating that Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Hoefler are now at Rock City, N. Y., where the oil wells constantly flow, and if they happen to slack-up, or quit, are torpedoed into renewed activity; that the absent Astorians are enjoying their trip immensely; that the weather, with them, is splendid, and the interesting sights numerous.

At Smit's Point—Out at Wilson Bros.' boat-yard, at Smiths Point, the men are busy constructing a new hull for the reception of the machinery and boilers of Captain Skibbe's old tug, the Eclipse. The new boat belongs to Captain Cochran, of Stella, and will be practically of the same dimensions as the Eclipse. The Astoria Iron Works is building the boilers for the new boat. It is said she will be a very serviceable craft when completed.

Police Court—In the police court yesterday, one of the numerous J. Hansen's plead guilty to being drunk and was fined $5 or two days in jail. He will board with the city the remainder of the week. The case of Florence Gordon was called, she appearing by her attorney. The evidence of the man who was roped in was taken and the case continued until November 6.

Reformation Festival—The Reformation festival given last night at the First Lutheran church was a pronounced success. The church was crowded and each number on the program met with general approval. The program as published in the Astorian was carried out in its entirety and the audience voted it one of the best entertainments ever given in the city.

SELLING BAD BEEF

Prominent Citizens Indicted By Vermont Grand Jury.

TWO MEMBERS OF COMMISSION

Rich & Spear, Members of the Cattle Commission, Are Charged With Selling Tubercular Beef Previously Condemned.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Oct. 31.—Sensational charges were made today in ten indictments returned by the Crittenden county grand jury in connection with the sale of diseased cattle in the state, and in which sale, according to the indictments, two former members of the state cattle commission participated.

With full knowledge that such cattle would be used for food purposes, four indictments were returned against the Consolidated Rendering Company, and contained 400 counts. Four were against L. E. Brigham of the Burlington Rendering company, which is controlled by the Consolidated company, containing a equal number of counts and identical in their specific charges. Sensational disclosures were made in the indictments against Dr. F. A. Rich, veterinarian, and Randolph L. Spear, both former members of the state cattle commission. Rich and Spear are charged with selling tubercular beef, which they had previously condemned to the rendering companies.

Taking a Vacation—W. J. Petrain, marine reporter on the Oregonian, was in the city last evening en route to Eureka on his vacation. Mr. Petrain is a son of Judge Petrain, an old pioneer of Portland, was born and raised in Portland, where he is well and favorably known. He also has many friends in Astoria.

Two Men Injured—Two loggers employed near Columbia City were seriously injured in a collision of logging trains last Tuesday. Their names are John Rogers and Albert Russell. They were taken to the Portland hospital. Rogers will probably die from his injuries.

Anderson's Condition—There is no change in the condition of Tony Anderson, who was shot by Martin Berg last Sunday on the Lewis and Clark. He has recovered consciousness in a slight degree, but the attending physician states that there is no hope for his recovery.
