Do You feel sleepy and not a bit like working in the afternoon? Perhaps it's because of the kind of lunch you're eating—too heavy an dtoo hard to digest. Why not try the Palace restaurant on Commercial street, where all the baking is done in those famous slow-process ovens, which turn out light appetizing, wholesome things? You'll save money, too.

BUSIEST STORE IN ASTORIA.

On the eighth page of this paper appears the ad of the Brownsville Woolen Mill store. About ten days ago they started a great woolen goods sale of blankets, underwear, socks and all kinds of woolen goods made in the Salem and Brownsville woolen mills, all of which they are offering at lower prices than have ever been offered to our people before.

Not only do they offer a fine stock of woolen goods at low prices, but they also carry a complete line of men's and boys' suits and overcoats, which they offer at proportionately low prices.

Their store has been crowded every day with people from every surrounding town on both sides of the river and Astoria, laying in their winter supply of woolen goods. We are glad to see this store doing so well, because it is strictly up-to-date and reliable and of the kind that will help build up Astoria.

New Home Underway—Architect John E. Weeks is at work drawing up plans and specifications for a new cottage home for John T. Allen, at Ninth and Grand avenue. It will be ready for occupancy along in January next, when it will be most needed.

Done in Probate—Judge Trenchard yesterday made an order in the probate court, setting December 10 next, at 10 o'clock a. m., as the time for hearing and disposing of the final account of the administrator of the estate of Joseph Winterholder, deceased.

An Idle Rumor—The tongue of rumor has been quite busy hereabout lately, with the name of Hon. Asmus Brix, in connection with the Republican contest for the majority of Astoria, but it is all idle talk, as Mr. Brix has had no thought, nor intention, in that direction, whatever, and says so very explicitly.

Will Have a Fair—The ladies of St. Mary's Catholic parish in this city are making elaborate preparations for an interesting church fair to be held in the Reed building at the corner of Eleventh and Duane streets, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday next. With their well known thoroughness in conducting matters of this sort, it is safe to conclude there will be plenty of interest and pleasure to be enjoyed by the patrons.

McGowan Elected—All but three small precincts in Pacific and Wahkiakum counties have been reported and Henry McGowan, Democratic candidate for joint senator for Pacific and Wahkiakum counties, has a majority of 108. The precincts to hear from do not poll over 70 votes, so it is an assured fact that Mr. McGowan is elected. He carried Chinook precinct by 84, something unusual, as Chinook has always been the banner Republican precinct of the county. His majority in Skamokawa was 4; Cathlamet, 34 and 39 in South Bend. Brookfield and Ilwaco gave majorities for Klech.

OREGON HATCHERIES AS REPORTED

SUBSTANCE OF FISH WARDEN VAN DUSEN'S OCTOBER REPORT FILED WITH STATE FISH COMMISSION YESTERDAY.

The following is the substance of the report filed yesterday with the Oregon Fish Commission, at Salem, by Master Fish Warden H. G. Van Dusen, of this city, the board having met there in regular monthly session, for November:

Arrests and prosecutions during the month for violations of the laws pertaining to the fishing industry have been as follows:

October 9, 1906—The case against C. E. Buboyse, of Estacada for depositing sawdust and planer shavings in a small tributary of the Clackamas river, which was instituted by Water Bailiff W. W. Smith last month, was tried again October 9, 1906, in Justice "Stipp's" court, Oregon City, before a jury; and notwithstanding that the state's attorney was able to show conclusively that a misdemeanor had been committed by the defendant, the jury rendered a verdict of not guilty.

October 17—Upon information furnished by Water Bailiff W. W. Smith, complaints were filed in the Oregon City justice court against four milling concerns for permitting sawdust and other lumber waste to be discharged into the waters of the Willamette river, and its boundaries, viz., the Crown-Columbia Pulp & Paper Company, The Willamette Pulp & Paper Company, Messrs. W. E. Mumpower & Rambo, and H. Biglow, the two last named being the owners and proprietors of saw mills on the Abernethy Creek.

The case against the Crown-Columbia Pulp & Paper company was tried October 27 before a jury that found the defendants guilty as charged. The case against H. Bigelow was tried November 1, 1906, before a jury and while the state's attorney clearly established an infraction of the law, the defendant contended that every reasonable precaution had been exercised by him to avoid a violation of the statute and the jury rendered a verdict of not guilty.

October 21—Upon information furnished by Water Bailiff W. W. Smith, complaints were filed in the Oregon City Justice Court against Walter Backus and H. V. Eva of Portland for fishing below the government hatchery racks on the Clackamas river, in violation of Section 4083 of the laws pertaining to the fishing industry. Upon being arraigned before Justice "Stipp" October 31, they entered pleas of guilty whereupon they were each fined $50 and costs.

October 9—The case against Conrad Green, instituted July 13, 1906, upon information filed by Water Bailiff W. A. Mack, was taken up October 9, 1906, and upon being arraigned before Justice Wm. Reid, Portland precinct, Mr. Green entered a plea of guilty, whereupon he was fined $50, which he paid.

October 17—Upon information furnished by Water Bailiff W. A. Mack, complaint was filed in the circuit court of Columbia county against S. C. Lynde for fishing for salmon with a gill-net in the waters of the state of Oregon October 5, 1906, without a license. Upon being arraigned before Judge McBride, a plea of guilty was entered, whereupon he was fined $50 which he paid.

October 12—Upon information furnished by Deputy Game Warden C. M. Dick, complaint was filed against Lawrence Bair of Canby, August 20, 1906, for dealing in salmon without a license. Upon being arraigned before Justice "Stipp," Oregon City precinct, October 12, 1906, Mr. Bair entered a plea of guilty, whereupon he was fined $50 and costs, which he paid.

October 31—Upon information furnished by Deputy Warden Webster, complaint was filed in The Dalles justice court October 15, 1906, against the firm of W. H. Reed and B. C. Chase, for dealing in salmon without a license. The case was tried before a jury October 31, 1906; and notwithstanding the state made out a good case against the defendants, the jury rendered a verdict of not guilty.

Hatchery Operations.

With the exception of a few more salmon to spawn at Ontario, we are through with the work of collecting Chinook salmon spawn at the different hatcheries tributary to the Columbia river and from reports received, the following collections have been made: Salmon river hatchery, 875,000 eggs; McKenzie River hatchery station, 5-970,000; Willowa River hatchery, 596,000; Ontario Salmon hatchery, 2-130,000; total, 9,571,000.

At the Siuslaw River station, 508-800 Chinook eggs have been collected with prospects good for a couple million more and three or four million Silversides.

Coos River began October 15, and from present indications they will have a full supply of Chinook eggs which will amount to from five to seven million. After getting through with the work with the Chinooks, Superintendent Smith will take his crew over on the Coquille River, where an attempt will be made to get a supply of Silverside eggs for the Coquille River hatchery station, which now has a capacity sufficient for four or five million.

From recent reports I have received the following from the different stations:

Tillamook Hatchery station—At the new Tillamook station established this season on the Trask river, they have a river full of salmon below the racks and the collection of eggs will be limited to the capacity of the station and the funds available for the season's work. The permanent rack that was put in across this river this season has withstood two severe freshets without being sprung or damaged in any way and appears to be good for all time to come. The work of collecting eggs from the Chinook variety of salmon will be taken up November 1.

The work of collecting spawn at Yaquina was taken up October 15 with indications good for two or three million Chinook eggs and three or four million Silversides.

In addition to the work done with the Chinooks, we are now collecting Silverside spawn at our Salmon River hatchery and at the Willowa hatchery with prospects good for a fair supply of this variety of eggs at each station.

From present appearances, the result at our Coast River hatcheries will be very different and all will do exceptionally well and make collections far in excess of the funds available for the work of taking care of the young fry and keeping them until they should be turned out.

With the exception of the Umpqua River hatchery, where the work was finished October 7, and a collection of 5,026,000 eggs made; all of the stations are in the midst of their egg taking season, which, with the Chinooks, will last throughout the month of November, and with the Silversides will last until near the latter part of December.
