BAR, BAY AND RIVER

Bark Peter Iredale Stripped of All Moveables.

ROANOKE DUE IN HOURLY

Charlie Haddix' "Stingaree"—Samson Leaves Tomorrow for Siuslaw and San Francisco—Waterfront News of All Sorts

Francisco. Captain Jones reports the weather all the way up from the Bay City as violently tempestuous and very trying at times for a steamer with a tow in charge.

The Roanoke must get in today if she keeps her schedule out of Portland.

Charlie Haddix, the customs inspector, who has been on duty down at the Peter Iredale the past week, has been shamefully imposed on by some of the larkly sailors of that vessel. They pointed out what they were pleased to call a "stingaree," to the good natured inspector, and as it was the first and only one he ever saw, convinced him of its actuality and he was simply full of it when he got back yesterday. The thing, as he saw it over the side, was dead; it was four feet across and had legs unconscionably long and various hideous attributes that go with a good sea yarn, but, sad to relate, further and technical investigation develops the fact that Charlie's "tingaree" was an old yellow slicker that had floated in and half buried itself on the beach, probably from the Iredale herself, or some passing craft.

The Elmore left down for Tillamook City yesterday morning at 6 o'clock and probably went to sea, as she had not returned to her dock at sundown. The steamer Alliance is due down from Portland this morning and will leave the Callender pier for Coos Bay from 7 to 8 o'clock, somewhere.

The schooner Sallor Boy has finished loading lumber for San Francisco at the Clatsop mill dock and will probably leave out today.

COURT HOUSE NEXT

Steps Taken Yesterday to Complete the Structure.

BIDS TO BE CALLED FOR

Busy Day in Commissioners' Court—Road Matters Dispatched—Bonds of Justices and Supervisors Presented and Approved.

The county court put in another day yesterday winding up the current affairs of Clatsop county, and among other important matters disposed of, made the following order in relation to the new court house for Clatsop: "The court, having under consideration the possibility of the completion of the new court house, and in order to arrive at a proper conclusion as to the advisability of completing the same during the coming year, and to ascertain the cost, it is ordered that bids be asked for until December 15, for the construction and interior finish, including wiring and plumbing, but not heating and that notices be published in the Astorian and Budget to that effect."

The new bids will be for the superstructure only and all bids will be made on the hypothesis that there is a great deal of material already on hand. The heating plant was left out of the proposition because Mr. Montgomery, the successful bidder in the previous attempt to construct the building, has a good deal of the original material on hand, and is quite willing to abide by his previous figures, which were accepted, and this will afford a distinct saving in that element of the work.

The full and complete plans for the new edifice are in the hands of the county and are all paid for, the contract with Mr. Lazarus, covering the $2,000 already paid for the plans and specifications, involves the service of that gentleman in the superintendency of the work. The court is of the opinion that the character and sum of the bids to come for this work will prove very satisfactory and rather a surprise than otherwise. The bids have been made returnable in season for the necessary levy in January if it shall appear the better part of wisdom to go ahead with the building.

It was ordered that the county judge purchase four cars of slab wood for use as fuel at the county court house. By an order of the court yesterday, the license of peddlers throughout the county was fixed at the sum of $200 per annum, in accordance with state code in that relation.

The following bonds were presented and approved by the court: Andrew Nordstrom, justice of the peace, Vesper, in the sum of $1,000; August Juhns, same amount, supervisor, road district No. 1; William Schonebeck, justice of the peace, Svensen.

A communication was received and read from James Irwin, in regard to the Adair bridge, and was continued until the January term.

It appearing to the court that Fred Oman had left the county while holding the office of supervisor of road district No. 1, and that there was an unsettled balance in his hands in favor of the county and district, it was
