

A Poem for Today

Say Not "The Struggle Nought Availeth"

By Arthur Hugh Clough

THIS poem was written by Arthur Hugh Clough on his deathbed. He died of a fever at the age of forty-seven. The poem is a beautiful and only a few days before his death he bowed to a martyr's pen and paper that they were reluctantly given to him. He died the last two stanzas, and his life work was ended. Mr. Clough was born in England in 1819 and died in 1854.

AY not "The struggle nought availeth,
The labor of the woman's vale;
The enemy falls not, nor falleth,
And as things have been they remain."
If hopes were dupes, fears may be liars,
It may be in your wake concealed
Your comrades' chafe, oh now the fliers
And, but for you, possess the field.

For while the tired waves, vainly breaking,
Seem here no painful labor to sustain,
Far back, through creeks and inlets making,
Comes silent, flooding in, the main.

And not by eastern windows only,
When daylight comes, comes in the light;
In front the sun climbs slow, how slowly,
But westward look, the land is bright!

FOOTBALL GAME.
Large Crowds Go To Witness Harvard Yale Game.
NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Early trains from the Grand Central Depot carried many enthusiasts who are going to the game between Yale and Harvard. The games between these colleges are nearly always spectacular, because the colleges are such keen rivals for athletic honors, and this year's game, it was the expectation, would be no exception. About everyone who made the trip from the city to New Haven was decorated with the colors of either Harvard or Yale. Adherents of the eleven seemed nearly equally divided, judging from the display of colors and the talk one hears. Some little betting was done at even money, although the curb market and the New York Exchange during yesterday was ruled favorite at odds of five to four. Those who have followed the Crimson closely through the season believed Harvard has a better chance against the Blue, than in many years. A great crowd will see the game, arrangements having been made to seat 8000, a record for Yale field.

ALWAYS WAS SICK.
When a man says he is always sick, troubled with a cough that lasted all winter—what would you think if he should say—he never was sick since using Ballard's Horehound Syrup. Such a man exists, Mr. J. C. Clark, Denver, Colorado, writes: "For years I was troubled with a severe cough that would last all winter. This cough left me in a miserable condition. I tried Ballard's Horehound Syrup and have not had a sick day since. That's what it did for me." Hart's Drug Store.

Women in Our Hospitals

Appalling Increases in the Number of Operations Performed Each Year—How Women May Avoid Them.

Going through the hospitals in our large cities one is surprised to find such a large proportion of the patients lying on those snow-white beds women and girls, who are either awaiting or recovering from serious operations. Why should this be the case? Simply because they have neglected themselves. Female troubles are certainly on the increase among the women of this country—they creep upon them of unawares, but every one of those patients in the hospital beds had plenty of warning in that bearing-down feeling, pain at left or right of the abdomen, nervous exhaustion, pain in the small of the back, dizziness, faintness, displacements of the organs or irregularities. All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the female organs, and if not checked the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation. When these symptoms manifest themselves, do not drag along until you are obliged to go to the hospital and submit to an operation—but remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved thousands of women from surgical operations.
When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of the organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, bloating (or flatulency), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

The following letters cannot fail to bring hope to despairing women.
Miss Ruby Mushrush, of East Chicago, Ind., writes:
Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"I have been a great sufferer with irregular periods and female trouble, and about three months ago the doctor, after using the X-Ray on me, said I had an abscess and would have to have an operation. My mother wanted me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a last resort, and it not only saved me from an operation but made me entirely well."
Mrs. Alice Berryhill, of 313 Boyce Street, Chattanooga, Tenn., writes:
Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"Three years ago life looked dark to me. I had ulceration and inflammation of the female organs and was in a serious condition. My health was completely broken down and the doctor told me that if I was not operated upon I would die within six months. I told him I would have no operation but would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. He tried to influence me against it but I sent for the medicine that same day and began to use it faithfully. Within five days I felt relief but was not entirely cured until I used it for some time.
"Your medicine is certainly fine. I have induced several friends and neighbors to take it and I know more than a dozen who had female troubles and who to-day are as well and strong as I am from using your Vegetable Compound."
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.
Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice and medicine have restored thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.
