Commits Suicide—An inmate of the Waldorf dance hall named Blanche Rodgers committed suicide last Sunday night by taking poison. The drug was probably morphine compounded with belladonna, the latter being the cause of death. The suicide was young, her age being given as nineteen, though indications point to its being still less. She came here from Seattle Saturday with a male companion, who placed her in the Waldorf, where an alleged sister of the girl stayed. Her mother in Seattle has been notified. She took the poison at 8 o'clock Sunday evening and was sent to the hospital at 3:30 o'clock the next morning, dying half an hour later. It is expected that an inquest will be held by Coroner Pohl today.

Bowled a Bowl—A Japanese waiter in a local restaurant was up before Police Judge Anderson yesterday, Saturday night a white man, whose name is suppressed, got into a wordy war with the Oriental over a meal. This led to his striking the Japanese, who quickly overcame his antagonist and then returned to his work, thinking the affair well over—not so his doughty opponent. He stepped forward and sledged a sugar bowl. With careful aim and considerable force, he sent the big sweet missile at the other. There might have followed a sad incident for the Jap, but fortunately he saw the act and dodged in time. The bowl sailed the length of the room, leaving sugar and destruction in its wake, and brought up with a crash against a wall. The white man made an unostentatious and rapid movement for the entrance, but was overtaken outside and heartily drubbed. His cries for police attracted the attention of an officer, who took both parties in custody. The Japanese was fined $10. The other case will come up today.

Automobile Crooks—There is a startling and realistic string of film pictures running at the Waldorf this week that is proving wonderfully attractive. It shows the rapid, swinging career of a man and his wife and an automobile, the combination producing a long line of bold and dashing thefts from every possible source such a city as New York offers to a smart pair of crooks. The interest in the maneuvers of the pair, their adroit and successful deals with the detectives and cops, and their hair-breadth escapes keep the spectators on the tip-toe of excitement until the last live picture on the string is unfolded. Miss Violet Parker, the dainty balladist, sings with great effect the new and beautiful song entitled "Let Me Write What I Never Dared to Tell," the whole making a very pleasing scheme of entertainment.

Some Jetty News—Colonel W. S. Roessler, the head of the government representatives in all matters appertaining to the Columbia river jetties, was in the city yesterday, on his way back to the metropolis, after a visit to the jetty to ascertain the extent of the damage inflicted here by the recent gales. Colonel Roessler informed a reporter of the Astorian that the loss to the work was merely nominal, the worst of it having fallen upon the old and abandoned spurs, and partly upon the extreme seaward end, which was already crippled by the previous season's encroachments and was quite beyond the scope of operations as lately carried on. Considering the severity of the protracted gales to which the work had been subjected this winter, the inference from his statement was that the damage had been far less than he expected to find it.
