

MARINE MEMORANDA

French Bark Corneil Bart Arrives in from Antwerp.

TO MOVE ALICE McDONALD

Callender Steamer Melville Is Out from Shops a Full-fledged Oil Burner—Mabel Gale Gets Quick Dispatch.

Captain Genereaux, the Seattle wrecker, left down yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, with a barge, in tow of the steamer Melville, for the scene of the Alice McDonald's grounding. He took along a big mushroom anchor and 2,000 feet of steel cable. The anchor will be dropped in deep water, the cable served and the schooner will be kedged off on the coming high tides during the next few days. There is not much doubt of her coming off with this outfit, as it is the best, and with her own donkey engines, it is felt the job will be entirely successful.

The handsome little steamer Patrol of the customs service, has taken refuge from the recent east winds and her consequent thumping against the piling of the Flavel pier, under the lee of the Callender pier and lies as "snug as a bug in a rug," and looks something like one, too.

The four-masted schooner Mabel Gale came down yesterday morning on the hawsers of the Harvest Queen, and went to the lower harbor where she was picked up instantly by one of the bar tugs and got swift dispatch for blue water and San Francisco.

The Callender steamer Melville, Captain Jordan, has reported for duty with her brand new and thorough equipment of oil burners, and she works like a charm with the new power and is ready for any sort of service.

The motor schooner Gerald C. arrived in yesterday morning from Nehelem, with a full load of stuff, and left out again last night with a return cargo. She is making good use of the prevalent fine weather.

The Harvest Queen returned to the metropolis yesterday with the French ship Leo XIII on her tow lines. The Frenchman goes to the Woolsey docks with her cargo of coal and will load breadstuffs out for Europe.

The light house tender Columbine got away over the bar yesterday morning for her three weeks cruise in Puget Sound waters and along the Washington coast line.

The French bark Corneil Bart, Captain Cavellau, 18 days out from Antwerp, for Portland, crossed in yesterday afternoon and is at anchor in the lower harbor.

The steamer Tiverton went to sea and San Francisco yesterday morning, with a big load of lumber from up the river.

Next Monday is Roanoke day in this port, that fine steamer being due from the southern ports on that day.

Clothes Bought Here P. A. STOKES, "UNCOMMON CLOTHES" to interfere more or less with the free flow of sewerage and as nothing is more conducive to epidemics of contagious diseases than accumulation of sewerage either within waste pipes and sewers or near or around the houses, the intelligent public will readily appreciate how extremely important it is to keep the waste pipes, the sewers and the outhouses in the best possible condition, particularly at the time, when a cold spell is prevailing.

"First of all, the plumbing should be attended to, if defective. Then the waste pipes and sewers should be disinfected from time to time. Where no sewers exist the waste water should be freely sprinkled with unslacked lime. For disinfection of waste pipes and sewers crude carbolic acid or any other disinfectant will do. Formalin or creolin, one table spoonful to a quart of water 4 or 5 times a week sent through the waste pipes or sewers preferably at night, may be recommended. Yours for a healthy city,

HAMMOND BUYS NEW ASTORIA FRONT

THIS MEANS THE BUILDING OF A BIG MILL AND DEVELOPING OF OUR GREAT LUMBER RESOURCES.

It is reported that A. B. Hammond and his associates have closed the deal for the property and frontage between Hammond and Fort Stevens belonging to M. J. Kinney and W. C. Smith and consisting of 200 acres, the consideration being $50,000. This gives the Hammond interests practically all the frontage from Alcher creek to Fort Stevens, and for which Mr. Hammond has been negotiating for several years. With the acquiring of this property nothing now stands in the road of the development of what is known as the West Side and it is thought that the next move there will be the building of one of the largest saw mills on the coast, as the extension of the A. & C. R. R. next summer into the timber lands of the Hammond Company makes it necessary that a large plant be constructed at once to mill this vast body of timber. All of which means good things for Astoria, as these new and kindred industries will employ thousands of workmen who will contribute to this city's general prosperity.

"A GAMBLER'S WIFE" TONIGHT.

"A Gambler's Wife" will be the bill offered at the Star Theatre tonight and with regular matinees Saturday and Sunday. "A Gambler's Wife" is one of the best emotional dramas ever written and is one of the strongest in this stock company's entire repertoire, judging from the great success it has met with wherever it has been produced; and the management of the Star Theatre are satisfied that all who witness this splendid play will agree that it is the very best seen in Astoria at popular prices.

Some new specialties will be introduced between acts, one especially worthy by Mr. Frank Howard, who, it is said, has something up his sleeve that he has been preparing for some time.

BRONZE MEDAL CALENDAR.

The 1907 calendar of N. W. Ayer & Son, the Philadelphia Advertising agents, is just out, and as usual, it is one of the season's best office calendars.

They have followed the same design used in 1906, but their famous medal and motto "Keeping Everlastingly At It Brings Success," appear on a bronze foreground, which gives it an exceedingly rich appearance. While the calendar is arranged with a month on each flap the figures are clearly legible across a large room. The blank spaces on the flaps are filled with new and pointed epigrams on advertising and business-building in general.

The calendar is too expensive for general distribution, but while they last, Ayer & Son will mail a copy to any address upon receipt of twenty-five cents. Price 25 cents.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Safe Medicine for Children.

In buying a cough medicine for children, never be afraid to buy Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There is no danger from it, and relief is always sure to follow. It is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, and there is no better medicine in the world for these diseases. It is not only a certain cure for croup, but, when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given as directed. It contains no opium or other harmful drugs, and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by Frank Hart and leading druggists.

Morning Astorian, 60 cents per month. Delivered by carrier.
