THAW WAS DYING

Had Slight Attack of Tonsillitis and Reporters had a Story.

PAPERS REPORT ALL VISITORS

Newspaper Men Keep Strict Watch Over Murderer—Criminal Courts Men Believe Thaw Too Rich to Atone for Crime.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Ever since Harry K. Thaw, the Pittsburgh millionaire who will be brought to trial before Justice Fitzgerald on Jan. 21 for having shot down Stanford White, the architect, in Madison Square Garden, has been locked up in the toms, reporters from the yellow papers in Manhattan have done nothing but lance attendance at the door of the toms in Center street. Every morning the keepers and jailers of the City Prison have been besieged by such queries as "How did Harry sleep last night?" "What did he eat for his Christmas dinner?" etc., etc.

Every automobile, every visitor that has visited the toms since Thaw has been a prisoner there, has been the object of close survey and suspicion by the watchful reporters, who investigated the identity of every person who visited the young murderer and immediately rushed to a telephone to send the visitor's record, family connections and social status to their papers, which invariably printed a couple of columns about the affair.

The latest sensation was caused yesterday when Thaw complained that he "didn't feel quite chipper." Dr. McGuire, the toms physician, who is ever at the elbow of the young millionaire murderer, was at once called and Thaw was put through a rigid physical examination.

"Why, you have tonsillitis, Mr. Thaw," said the doctor. "I'll have to prescribe for you. Bad weather for tonsillitis, this, you know."

A moment later the reporters got wind of the situation and a rush was made for the telephones.

"Hurry up, there, give me a booth. I've got a big Thaw story. Harry Thaw is dying."

A trans-Atlantic tourist who did not know much about Thaw asked the other day why so much fuss was made about a murderer. The answer was—"Why, don't you know that Thaw is one of the richest millionaires in Pittsburgh?"

This explained the situation if it did not satisfy the visitor. No one around the Criminal Courts believes for a moment that Thaw will be found guilty or that he will ever atone for the murder of Stanford White. As a lawyer said the other day: "Thaw has too much money to sit in the chair. Mark my words Harry Thaw will leave the trial room a free man."

TIMBER STATISTICS FOR 1906.

Figures to be Gathered by Forest Service and Census Bureau.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18.—Schedules for the collection of statistics of forest products for 1907 have been sent by the Forest Service to all engaged in industries directly dependent upon our forests. This work is a continuation of that done in 1905 by the Forest Service in cooperation with the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association. It then received the universal approval and support of the users of wood throughout the United States. The work was undertaken to meet the urgent data upon the annual drain upon our forest resources. The results proved so valuable that the information will be compiled annually, in accordance with the plan outlined by the Forest Service a year ago.

To aid to the efficiency, accuracy, and promptness of compilation of the data the Bureau of the Census and the Forest Service are this year cooperating in gathering the statistics. This plan insures to the manufacturers the announcement of results at the earliest possible moment after all the reports have been received.

HARRIMAN SOCIALIST

Roosevelt and Carnegie Also in Fold Declares Sinclair.

THROUGH DIFFERANT TRAITS

Harriman Socialist in His Concentration of Power, Roosevelt in His Curbing of Trusts and Carnegie Through Helping Poor.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 18.—Upton Sinclair, author of "The Jungle" and one of the most up-to-date Socialists in America, yesterday declared that E. H. Harriman was the leading Socialist of the United States, that President Roosevelt was next, and that Andrew Carnegie by his most recent views of the distribution of wealth had greatly aided the cause.

Mr. Sinclair is living at Holyoak Hall, Englewood, N. J., where he started a colony. He has gathered together forty-five associates under one roof and says his combination home is a great success.

"The great library giver and steel king has written himself down as a great Socialist," said Mr. Sinclair, "but not the greatest—not the greatest, Mr. Harriman is the greatest, and then comes President Roosevelt."

"Harriman comes first," continued Mr. Sinclair, smilingly, "because he is concentrating everything. That is what the Socialists want, because he is the big fish in the present brutal, ruthless competition. For in the sea the big fish gobble the little ones. Harriman is gobbling them all. In this great country the American people will not stand it much longer. The mass of the people will ultimately gobble Harriman and then the people will come to their own."

"And Roosevelt! the President," said Sinclair, "realizes that it is do-or-die. He knows that if he does not, Bryan will. The President is therefore determined to curb the syndicates. This is the Socialistic idea."

"Mr. Carnegie expresses the belief that a millionaire ought to share his wealth with the poor. Isn't that the purest Socialism?"

GOOD TIMBER SOLD CHEAP.

To Check Ravages of Black Hills Beetle Purchasers are Sought.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18.—In the effort to check the pine bark beetle which has been severely attacking the forest in parts of the Black Hills Forest Reserve, South Dakota, the Government is resorting to drastic measures. For the first time under the Forest Service, actual cutting, skidding, and burning of debris have been carried on by Government employees. Insect-infested timber, both standing and already felled under Service direction, is offered for sale. Large quantities of it can be secured at a fraction of the price charged for green wood.

Yet this wood is just as good for lumber and railroad ties as green wood and would ordinarily bring an equal price. Small sales have not been numerous enough to remove the infested timber; hence it is necessary to offer special inducements if the timber is to be saved. Timber now accessible can be reached under extensive operations which would warrant the building of the necessary railroads.

This action followed upon a study of the insect situation on the reserve by Dr. A. D. Hopkins, in charge of forest insect investigations in the Bureau of Entomology, who recommended that the Service push the cutting and disposal of infested timber as the only means of preventing the spread of the beetles through wider and wider areas. To broaden the market for the timber a clause in the agricultural appropriation bill, last winter, permitted the exportation of timber for two years beyond the borders of South Dakota. But even this has not brought enough or large enough applications to take the timber which should be disposed of. Hitherto the Government has waited for a bidder. This procedure, through delay, threatens too serious a loss in the spread of the beetles to fresh stands. The forest Service will now take the initiative and advertise for bidders, in order to draw attention to this timber, which is a menace to the future supply on the reserve.

By securing prompt purchasers for the infested logs and standing trees, and destroying the insect broods by firing the bark and slash, it is hoped that the surrounding forests will soon be saved from further insect attack. The timber attacked by the bark beetle has not lost its commercial value. There is no reason why the desired sales should not more than reimburse the Government, besides utilizing a large amount of pine which would otherwise be wasted.
