Northland Arrives in From San Francisco.

TUG SAMSON IS IN TROUBLE

Roanoke Due in This Morning—Rosecrans in From California Ports—River Boats and Their Movements—Tatoosh All O. K.

The steamer Northland arrived in from San Francisco yesterday morning and after a short stay in these waters, went on to the metropolis for one more big load of choice Oregon lumber. Mrs. Captain George Forest, wife of the aged master of the schooner Annie Larson, now incarcerated in the Clatsop jail charged with the murder of George Fisher in January last, was a passenger on the Northland, from Oakland, Cal., where she and the captain have lived for many years and are thoroughly respected. Mrs. Forest went almost immediately to the jail to see her husband for the first time since the unhappy event that has separated them, and the meeting between the two was a bitterly sad one. Sheriff Pomeroy extended all the courtesies in his province to the aged lady and will continue to do so during her stay in this city. Mrs. Forest will remain here until after the trial of her husband. She is, for the time being, a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Board.

Captain Loll brought the sea tug Samson and her tow, the lumber barge Washington, back into this port yesterday morning, both vessels in a crippled condition, and too badly out of running to venture on the southern trip to the Bay City, for which port they departed hence on Thursday afternoon last. It seems that in going out, the Samson took a northerly steer across the bar and went over the edge of the Peacock Sands, but the barge was too deeply laden for that route and hammered her stern-post out of its fittings and was rendered unsteerable. To add to the sum of trouble, several plugs blew out from the newly repaired boilers of the Samson and she would not make and keep steam sufficient, so Captain Loll, taking no further risks, returned to port where both craft will be subjected to full repairs before making another start for the south.

The steamer Undine came down last evening in good season and left up on her usual time, 7 p. m. Captain Larkin says that the main trouble in navigation, on his route, now-a-days, is on the Portland waterfront and especially in running the bridges, over the harbor. He says "shooting the chutes" is child's play in comparison with the care and skill necessary in steering through the narrow draws under headway, and on a ten-mile current and the variation of a fraction on the chosen course, makes a man in the pilot-house see things he doesn't want to realize very badly. The Undine went away last night with good business above and below.

The handsome steamship Rosecrans, of the oil fleet, arrived in from San Francisco, yesterday morning and only slackened her speed in the channel here long enough to pick up a river pilot, when she lit out for Portland, where her cargo will be gladly received in mitigation of the pronounced oil fuel shortage now prevailing.

Captain Reed of the Wallula arrived in from the bar last evening about dark and reports nothing in sight owing to the dense fog that overhung the Pacific, although earlier in the afternoon a French square-rigger was reported in the offing, but she probably hunted deeper water at the rising of the fog.

The fine tug Tatoosh went into commission again after her peculiar experience on Wednesday last, when her engines took one of those unaccountable freaks and would not obey the touch of her chief. She is all right and works with all her old-time power and precision and speed.

The dandy old Harvest Queen is busy these days doing swell passenger duty on the upper Columbia, rescuing stranded people from the stalled O. R. & N. trains, and doing it right, too. She will return to the semi-tropic latitudes of Astoria in the course of a few days.

The steamship Roanoke was due to arrive in this port from her southern ports of call yesterday evening, but it is likely she came up to the bar in the dense fog that hung over the coast last evening and deferred her entrance until this morning.

The French bark Marechal de Villars went up the river yesterday morning, on the towlines of the steamer Oklahama.

The steamer F. A. Kilburn should reach this port from Portland some time today, outward bound for the Bay City.

The steamer Maverick is due down from Portland today, en route to San Francisco, with a cargo of lumber.

EVEN FROM THE MOUNTAINS

Ballard's Snow Liniment is praised for the good it does. A sure cure for Rheumatism and all pains. Wright W. Loving, Grand Junction, Colo., writes: "I used Ballard's Snow Liniment last winter for Rheumatism and can recommend it as the best liniment on the market. I thought, at the time I was taken down with this trouble, that it would be a week before I could get about, but on applying your liniment several times during the night, I was about in 48 hours, and well in three days." Sold by Hart's Drug Store.

FLOOD SUBSIDES.

Loss of O. R. N. Reported at Half Million Dollars.

PORTLAND, Feb. 8.—Reports from the Willamette Valley indicate that the water is falling steadily. At Portland the river is dropping and the swiftness of the current is decreasing. All danger is past. The first train to leave Portland for the east over the O. R. & N. for five days left tonight. O. R. & N. officials estimate the loss to the road at a half million, including washouts, repairs and loss of traffic.

HUNTING FOR TROUBLE.

"I've lived in California 20 years and am still hunting for trouble in the way of burns, sores, wounds, boils, cuts, sprains, or a case of piles that Bucklen's Arnica Salve won't quickly cure" writes Charles Walters, of Alleghany, Sierra Co. No use hunting Mr. Walters; it cures every case. Guaranteed at Chas. Rogers' drug store. 25c.

MUMMY WRAPPED IN GOLD.

Richly Jewelled Coffin of Ancient Egyptian Queen Found.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—The times in its article telling of the discovery by Theodore Davis at Thebes, Egypt, of the tomb and mummy of the famous Egyptian queen, Telo, says the tomb is a plain square sepulchre, cut out of rock. It is approached by a descent of steps and adjoins the tomb of Rameses IX.

The tomb bears witness to the blind rage of the victorious priesthood of Thebes and the intensity of their hatred toward the heretic king, whose mother and inspirer was Telo. The Queen's jewelry and trinkets of solid gold with which the sepulchre was filled, was left untouched.

The coffin is a superb example of the jewelry work. The wood part of it is entirely covered with a frame of gold, inlaid with lapis lazuli, cornelian and green glass. The mummy itself was wrapped from head to foot in sheets of gold.

Theodore M. Davis, who made this sensational discovery is an American. He makes his home in New York and Newport.

ARGENTINE CIVIL WAR.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—A Buenos Ayres dispatch, published here today reports that a revolutionary outbreak occurred in San Juan, Argentine Republic yesterday, in which the revolutionists were victorious after five hours fighting. Twenty men are reported killed and many wounded while numerous houses were burned and others sacked. The Governor and officers are said to be prisoners. Colonel Sorzento was in command of the rebels, who, it is stated, propose to march on Mandosa. Federal troops will be dispatched to quell the outbreak which is ascribed to local causes.
