Mr. O'Brien died from the results of an operation performed as a dernier resort to save his life. He was a victim of heart trouble and had suffered for a long time greatly. A Grand Reception—Received by the Shafer-Whittier Co., on their opening day of the Sacrifice Sale of the fine $10,000 stock of Men & Women's wearing apparel of the New York Credit Co., on 9th and Bond street. Mr. Shafer says one of the largest and most good natured crowds that ever attended a sale in the city of Astoria's size was on hand all day yesterday till 10 p. m. at night. They were far above the majority of crowds in point of intelligence, and bought most highest class goods. Well possibly the reputation of the fine stock was the cause of that, as every intelligent person is aware of the fact, that a Credit company must keep the best and most reliable goods, preparations will be made to handle big crowds all through the sale as many letters and cards from surrounding towns come in for goods and many tell of parties that will attend in a body during the next few days. Door open at 9 a. m. daily.

Mill is Sold—Roadmaster John Frye arrived in the city yesterday from the Jewell country and the county saw mill, which he reports to be busily at work cutting the 300,000 feet of road lumber heretofore ordered cut by the county court, and that about one half that amount is now in readiness for delivery and that the balance will be ready about the middle of the month. When this cutting is finished the mill will be sold to Messrs. Nystrom & Bond, of Vesper, at $1,250 a price agreed upon a time ago and the portable plant will be delivered to the new owners in due course. The money, it is said, will be devoted to the purchase of a new rock-crusher for the county service at that will be placed for operation at a point where ready transportation by rail will be available to various points of the county, where the rock is most needed.

Hardly A Fair Deal—The attention of the street department is called to the fact that a little more discrimination may be used to advantage, and the peace of mind of a number of people, if, when the washing of the intersections on Commercial street is in progress, the men in charge are instructed to wash away the surplusage of debris the hose forces from the intersections onto the street adjoining. Yesterday afternoon the crossing at Tenth and Commercial was cleaned at the expense of the block to the westward of Tenth, where the filth was washed back, and left without so much as an effort to direct it down the gutter-scuppers, and this, even upon the protest of a citizen who does business at that particular point.

Some Probate Orders—The following were made in probate court, yesterday, by Judge Trenchard: In the matter of the estate and guardianship of Maud, Harold, Mabel and Marlon Turley, the time for the filing of the final account of the guardian, Mrs. Lena B. Gilmore, was extended. A nunc pro tunc order was made for the entry of an order for the commitment of two homeless minors, made by the late Judge J. H. D. Gray, sending Clara and Frank Schultz to the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society on September 15, 1896, how the order missed the records is not known, but this entry fulfills the demand of the law, since it has the sanction of the presiding judge of that court.

Dressmaking School—A grand opportunity is offered the young ladies in Astoria to learn the art of dressmaking, in all its branches, cutting, fitting, making and finishing. Bring your own goods. You simply cannot fail. You cannot lose; the gain is certain. The ladies in the last class were delighted with the arrangements in this behalf at the parlors of Mesdames Hawks and Smith at 519 Duane street.

Funny Films On—The measure of a good laugh is the meat of an entertainment. The moving picture presentation of "The India Rubber Man" at the Waldorf with its miraculous contortionist and clown work is among the real amusing things in Astoria at this time; and anything this may lack in the way of humor, is supplied by the film that shows the grim fate of the group of old "New York Mashers," whose fate at the hands of a bright woman is as merciless as it is ridiculous.

Search For Body—George Benson, who has carried mail from Seaside to Nehalem for years and is familiar with every foot of the route, is to undertake today the perilous task of searching Hug Point for traces of John Crono, who disappeared somewhere on the road from Seaside south on January 9.

Resolved—That we, teachers in institute assembled at Warrenton do hereby express our appreciation for the reception tendered us by the County Superintendent, teachers and patrons of the Warrenton Public school and be it further resolved that we extend a vote of thanks to the teachers and ladies of Warrenton for the entertainment and refreshments given us.

Resolved—That we, the teachers, in appreciation of the kindness shown us, by Mr. McElroy, Supt. of the Oregon Mills, do hereby extend to him the thanks of this convention for so courteously escorting us through his plant.

And be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to a county paper.

Respectfully Submitted,
 Committee,
