ART TREASURES TO BE SOLD.

Sanford White's Superb Collection of Art Treasures to be Sold.

NEW YORK, March 28.—From the American Art Galleries there was issued yesterday, a handsomely illustrated catalogue of the Sanford White Art treasures. These constitute a superb collection which Mr. Thomas E. Kirby will dispose of in the residence, No. 121 East 21st Street the afternoons of Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week. The paintings, as distinguished from the furnishings and household ornaments will be sold in Mendelssohn Hall Thursday and Friday evenings, April 11 and 12. The frontispiece of the catalogue is given over to the first century Greek vase, a most notable piece of its kind. The pieces of tapestry, the series of four dating from Italian renaissance and hanging in the dining room, and the large Gobelin tapestry which is at the end of the music room, are also subjects of illustration.

Many antique musical instruments are aptly employed in the decoration of this music room.

Mr. White's residence was a veritable treasure house of art. There are 409 numbers in the catalogue of art objects.

The pictures are 112 in number, and range from old masters to living artists, among the latter several Americans.

WORKED LIKE A CHARM.

Mr. D. N. Walker, editor of that spicy journal, the Enterprise, Louisa, Va., says: "I ran a nail into my foot last week and at once applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve. No inflammation followed. The salve simply healed the wound." Heals every sore, burn and skin disease. Guaranteed at Chas. Rogers, Druggist, 25c.

WORD FROM BELOW.

Surveyors On the A. & C. Front Do A Bit Of Talking.

The following from the Albany Herald, indicates that the surveyors on the A. & C. front do their talking on the other end of the route, or, that some one else is doing a bit of good guessing. This has been known up here for months, but the reiteration from another source may serve to enhance its truth:

"Parties arriving in Albany from Newport yesterday noon report that a surveying party of 24 men arrived in New Port Tuesday, having worked their way southward along the coast line from Astoria. The surveyors are in the employ of the Astoria & Columbia River road, and the engineer in charge of the party stated in answers to inquiries that he was under instructions to go back over the survey at once and set the grade stakes."

"From the arrival of this surveying party in Newport it would seem that the Northern Pacific interests have not ceased the work of surveying the extension of the proposed coast line as Portland papers reported a short time ago, but that the line will be extended as planned."

"The party has been proceeding slowly and doing a careful job of engineering. They are said to be working under orders for strict secrecy and all haste compatible with a complete survey of a first-class railroad line. It is believed that the Northern Pacific is making all preparations to rush the building of a road from Astoria to Yaquina Bay, and possibly from that point to the eastward, crossing the Coast and Cascade ranges and meeting the construction of a line up the Deschutes river to Central Oregon. This plan has been reported before and it is thought to be a rough outline of the Hill scheme to break into the present Harriman monopoly of railroad transportation in Oregon."

It would surprise nobody familiar with Hill's railroad policy to hear that he was determined to extend the Northern Pacific to San Francisco in return for the Harriman extension of the Southern Pacific to Puget Sound, xv baa spat THMH TH TH H HS282

LULL IN THAW CASE

last night over his manner and answers at yesterday's session of the commission. They believed the commission would end its work with its examination of Thaw and that its finding would be that he is quite capable of conferring with them. Thaw was delighted when he returned to the Tombs. His counsel told him he had undoubtedly convinced the commission of his sanity.

As for the prosecution, it felt assured last night that notwithstanding Thaw's answers to the commissioners' questions, he did not comport himself as a sane man would have done. The prosecution thinks also that Dr. Putell is a most important factor in the proceedings and that the questions he may ask tomorrow and his scrutiny of the defendant will have much weight when the commission reaches its conclusions.

The Commission in lunacy examining the present mental condition of Thaw may finish its work tomorrow and be ready to report to Justice Fitzgerald, Monday. If the report is favorable to Thaw the Justice will order the trial to proceed without making public the commission's findings. If report is against Thaw, Judge Fitzgerald will announce his decision from the bench and if he deems the prisoner's release dangerous to public peace and safety he will sign an order directing confinement in some hospital for the insane, probably, Mattewan. Today being Good Friday there was no session of the lunacy board.

Thaw spent a quiet day in the tombs. It is reported to be extremely unlikely that any witnesses but the defendant will be called before the commission. It is also reported that neither of Thaw's attorneys, nor Jerome, will be permitted to examine the defendant, or any possible witnesses before the commission. The Commission has apparently decided to keep its record clear of all expert testimony.

Sources that are assumed to be authentic, announced late tonight that Dr. Allen McLane Hamilton, alienist, be called upon to testify tomorrow before the Thaw lunacy commission as a witness on request of the commission and will be the only expert examined. The declaration that Hamilton would be called was a surprise, as it had been generally understood that the commission would not hear any expert testimony.

Hamilton has already expressed his opinion that Thaw was insane last summer and is still insane.

The attitude of themembers of the Order of Railroad Conductors and of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen was today more favorable towards the possible arbitration of the difficulties between them and the railroads.

It was reported today that Chairman Knapp, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and Charles P. Neill, of the United States Labor Commission, would leave for Chicago some time during the day, and the labor leaders declared that they were willing to await their arrival before taking any action. At the same time, Grand Master Morrissey, of the Trainmen and President Garretson, of the Conductors, declared that the attitude of the men in regard to the demands they have made upon the railroads had not changed nor was it likely to change. The men are still disposed to insist upon their demands, and it was declared today that they would not abate them. It is possible that another meeting between representatives of the men and the general managers will be held after Messrs. Knapp and Neill have reached the city.

Grand Master Morrissey said today that such a meeting would be held provided there was anything new to discuss, but that the men had reached the final stage so far as the last proposals of the railroads were concerned. These men have been finally rejected by the "men," and they will not again be considered.

"We will do nothing hastily," he said, "and we are fully considering the rights of the public, but the attitude of the railroads is not satisfactory, and we cannot accept the situation as it is. The members of our organizations have voted for a strike unless their demands are satisfied, and there the matter rests at present."

Both the trainmen and the conductors, as well as the general managers' committee, held meetings today, but nothing tangible came out of either gathering. On both sides there was a disposition to await the arrival of Chairman Knapp and Secretary Neill.

Since the capture and arrest of Abraham Ruef, at the Trocadero a month ago, rumors have been rife that an attempt would be made to rescue him by force from Elmer Biggs and his guards either during a session of court or while Ruef was being taken to and from court, or from his prison chamber in the St. Francis Hotel. An officer prominent in the bribery graft investigation was asked today if it is not true that every person identified with the prosecution is going armed, and was questioned about the significance of this. He said:

"Though, I think the matter should not be exploited, it is a fact that every man openly identified with the prosecution of the bribers and grafters is being heeled," and that some of the more prominent of them are employing bodyguards. Though it may sound sensational to those not familiar with the local situation, it is a fact that for a month we have been keeping a special lookout for an attempted rescue of Ruef, and we shall be happily surprised if these investigations and impending prosecutions end without a "gun play."

TO OLD COMRADES.

and remember the next time you suffer from pain—caused by damp weather—when your head nearly bursts from neuralgia—try Ballard's Snow Liniment. It will cure you. A prominent business man of Hempstead, Texas, writes: "I have used your liniment. Previous to using it I was a great sufferer from rheumatism and neuralgia. I am pleased to say that now I am free from these complaints. I am sure I owe this to your liniment." For sale at Hart's drug store.
