Roanoke In From California—Bar-Bound Vessels Break For The Open—Hornellen Arrives in—F. A. Kilburn Comes From The Bay City.

The Norwegian steamship Hornellen, from the California coast, Port Los Angeles, came into port yesterday and went on to Portland after a brief stop here. Her commander, Captain Nelson, is well known at this port, having served for several years as mate on the pilot schooner off the Columbia river. He was made to feel quite at home among his old ship-mates at the pilot-office, and went up the river with the Norwegian consul at Portland, an uncle, as his guest, and who came down here to meet the steamer. She has come, at least, as part cargo.

The steamship Roanoke made her way into port from the California coast on Sunday morning and left a few passengers and quite a lot of freight for this place, going on to the metropolis an hour or two later. She will return down early on tomorrow morning and will leave out for the south at 6:30 a.m. precisely.

The steamship Costa Rica arrived in yesterday from San Francisco, with plenty of people and freight. She brought a big lot of Chinamen and Japanese, for the Alaskan cannery season, and these were all under contract. She went on to Portland at 4 o'clock.

The Norwegian steamship Skogstad wheat laden for the Orient, is due down from Portland this morning, bound for sea. One of her firemen is an inmate of St. Mary's hospital here and will join his ship on her arrival here today.

The swift vessels Telephone and Telegraph are to be utilized on the Columbia river this summer, the former on the Dalles run of Portland, and the latter on the Astoria-Portland run, beginning next Monday.

The Armeria went to sea and Puget Sound on Sunday morning last, with Commander J. P. Werlich on board as the guest of Captain Gregory. This is her first cruise under her new assignment to this station.

The O. R. & N. Company will add the steamer Elmore to the Columbia river fleet at an early date, to ease off the Hassalo, which is being taxed pretty heavily in the freight line this season.

The British steamship Quito coaled at the Sanborn bunkers on Sunday afternoon, taking on fifty tons or more, and left out yesterday morning for the Orient, with her immense load of bread-stuffs.

Young Mr. Cherry has at last christened his handsome new motor launch. He calls her the "A. B." and will launch her the first nice day he gets for that purpose. She is a crack-jack.

The tug Sea Rover got away early yesterday with the barge Rufus K. Wood, San Francisco bound.

Among the travelers on the steamship Roanoke on her last trip in, said had a family, consisting of Mrs. P. Brock, and Katie, W. C., P. J. F. G. A. J. P., and L. E. Brock.

The infant ocean-goer of this port, the Della, again in command of Captain Jones, is loading for Nestucca and will get away today if all things are favorable at the bar.

The steamer Santa Ana broke away from her bar-bound conditions on Sunday and went to San Francisco. She will go to Alaska after delivering her present cargo.

The State Board of Pilot Commissioners is due to meet in regular session this afternoon, in this city, it being the second Tuesday in the month.

The barkentine Puako left out on Sunday last for San Pedro, with her big cargo of lumber. She goes direct to Honolulu, her home-port, from there.

The steamer F. A. Kilburn arrived in from San Francisco and Eureka late yesterday afternoon, and went on to the metropolis without delay here.

The Labaninia went out over the bar on Sunday with the rest of the bar bounds, and set her course for the lower coast of California.

The Columbine was among the Sunday get-a-ways. She went north on her Alaskan cruise and will be absent three or four weeks.

The Russian ship Fennia was among the out-going craft yesterday, leaving for Cape Flattery on the hawsers of the bar tug Tatoos.

The steamer Coaster was one of the Sunday vessels to go outward over the bar after a 60 hour tie-up here on account of storms.

The schooners Alvina and Muriel were among the out-going fleet on Sunday, both lumber laden for California.

The steamer Cascades came in and went up the river on Sunday. She comes from the Bay City.

The schooner Marconi also went to sea on Sunday, bound for the Peruvian port of Callao.

Has Filed Report.

Administrator W. C. A. Pohl, of the estate of Anton Anderson, deceased, has filed with the probate court his report of the sale of ten acres of realty belonging to that estate, to Kristine Olesen, for the sum of $350 and the report will no doubt be approved in due course.

"Pneumonia's Deadly Work."

"Pneumonia's Deadly Work had so seriously affected my right lung," writes Mrs. Fannie Connor, of Rural Route 1, Georgetown, Tenn., "that I coughed continuously night and day and the neighbors' prediction—Consumption seemed inevitable—until my husband brought home a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, which in my case proved to be the only real cough cure and restorer of weak sore lungs." When all other remedies utterly fail, you may still win in the battle against throat and lung troubles with New Discovery, the real cure. Guaranteed by Chas. Rogers, druggist. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. J. C. Owen of this city is spending the week in Portland with friends and relatives.

Miss Vio Davy and Miss Anna Shannon the two graduate nurses who attended Father Dielman during his last illness returned to Portland yesterday.

Mr. J. White of the Pacific Paper Company, who succeeds Mr. Tobin was in the city yesterday.

J. J. Kelleher, formerly of the observatory at North Head is to be returned to this station. The present incumbent goes to Nevada.

Mrs. E. Gilbaugh and Miss Ruby Gilbaugh mother and sister of J. A. Gilbaugh of this city were in Astoria over Sunday from Portland.

Hon. Oswald West, state land agent, (or is it Chairman of the Oregon State Railway Commission, now) arrived in the city on Sunday for a day with his "raft" of friends down here, and he was accompanied by Henry J. Ottenheim of Portland, and formerly of Salem, the biggest hop factor in the state. They returned to the Willamette Valley last evening.

RAILROAD DIRECTORS HERE.

Annual Meeting Of The A. & C. Directory At Bond Street Office Today.

The noon express from Portland will bring to this city President C. M. Leyvey of the Astoria & Columbia River Railroad Company; Secretary W. P. Martin, and other officers and directors of the road, who come to attend the regular annual session of the board of directors of that line.

They will meet at the Bond street offices early in the afternoon, and it is expected that the party will return to the metropolis on the 6:10 express this evening.

There is nothing significant in the visit of these gentlemen, aside from the call for the routine session of the directory, which is held here instead of at Portland.

Auditor F. D. Kuettner and his staff of assistants are up to their eyes in the big task of boxing and wrapping the valuable books and papers of the department, all of which, are due to leave for Portland, on the 8:20 train Thursday morning.

LAST FRIENDLY WORD.

Captain Forest Expresses His Grateful Sense of Fair Treatment.

The following communication tells its own sad story in the lines, and between them; and the Astorian is glad of the privilege of publishing it, fresh from the hand of the sorrowful old man who indited it, if only to add to the genuine sympathy already felt for him here.

County, Jail, Astoria, April 8th, '07.—To The Morning Astorian:

Gentlemen:—I wish to thank you and all the Astoria papers, through your valuable columns, for the fair and impartial treatment I have received; also the Sheriff and his deputies and the general public, since becoming involved in this terrible affair. "No sailor can ever say that he has been ill-treated by me, as I have always treated them as my own sons until this tragedy happened. We are off for "Snug Harbor," this evening; a hard deal for an old skipper. Respectfully yours, CHAS. M. FOREST.

Another Demonstration.

The interest in the Waldorf moving picture films is unabated because the management insists on putting the best and most graphic pictures obtainable on the market, and in proof of this, the line now running is among the very finest yet produced there. It tells the story of a counterfeiter from beginning to end, and given in detail the manipulation of the coin, the detections, the warning, the escape, the capture, the auto-race, and the terrific finale of self-imposed death of the coiner, rather than fact the penalties of the law. The action and figures of the swift drama are intensely realistic to the very point of speech, the only quality lacking in the presentation.

Mix the following by shaking well in a bottle, and take in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime.

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. A local druggist advises that these simple Vegetable Ingredients can be obtained at nominal cost from any good prescription pharmacy.

This mixture is said to cleanse and strengthen the clogged and inactive Kidneys, overcoming Backache, Bladder weakness and even the worst forms of Rheumatism, which as everyone knows, is produced by excessive uric acid and other poisonous waste matter which the Kidneys fail to sift and strain from the blood.

Every man or woman who feels that the Kidneys are not strong or acting in a healthy manner, should mix this prescription at home and give it a trial.

ed, this sale will continue for ten days only ending April 15th, Chas. Hellborn & Co.

Couldn't Bluff Him—

On Friday last, at one of the Astoria schools, during the closing exercises of the day, the work of choosing and announcing some quotation, off-hand, was being carried out, when one youngster, who had quite forgotten this phase of the afternoon's program, was on the eve of confessing himself at a loss for a reply in kind needed, when he suddenly brought him, and yelled out, "One for All, and All for Astoria," the well known slogan adopted by Mayor Wise during the last Regatta, and thus the little chap "saved his bacon."
