TERSE TALES OF THE TOWN

Complaints Filed—

There were 131 complaints filed and sworn to by the police department during the month of April. That number includes the ones who actually confronted Judge Anderson and also those who forfeited bail.

Treasurer Returned—

City Treasurer Thomas Dealey has returned and was again at his desk yesterday. The treasurer has been to Mineral Springs, Carson, Washington, for his health, he is feeling greatly refreshed and is ready for work.

Wise Store Front—

The store front of Wise's new clothing store was finished yesterday when the large plate glass, 8x12 feet, was installed. It is the largest single piece of glass in the city and required exceeding care and skillful work to get it in place.

Two Fires Yesterday—

The first alarm was turned in about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the Chicago House on Astor street, sparks caused a roof blaze that was extinguished without any great amount of damage. The department was called at 3 o'clock to Grand and Thirty-fourth street where the kitchen roof of the house occupied by George Smith was on fire. Damage to the amount of $100 had been done before it was extinguished.

Delighted With Clatsop—

Astoria and Clatsop county are ahead three more clever people and citizens, in the persons of Frank Utzinger, Nettle Utzinger and Earl Baker, all of Eau Claire, Wis., and kinsmen of the well known Utzinger family of this city, whose guests the new arrivals are. They speak in glowing terms of the pleasant impression Clatsop and Astoria have made on them, the proof of which lies in the declaration that they intend to make this their future home.

Ready For Local Option—

Editor Watson of the Seaside Signal was in the city yesterday, accompanied by Mrs. Watson and the baby. The latter was here to have its first picture taken and it was quite a success. Mr. Watson is very sanguine of the affirmative outcome of local opinion elec praid for by the Seaside which is to come off on the first Monday in June. Personally, he is devoted to the closing of the town against liquor, as he believes it will redound to the credit and popularity of the handsome little summer resort.

Police Court—

Two lovers of the flowing bowl faced Judge Anderson yesterday and pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness. They were assessed a fine of $5 or two days in the city jail.

Wedding Due in Wabklakum—

The pleasant announcement comes down the river that in the early days of September next, Hon. Bruce Polworth, of Skamokawa, will take unto himself a wife, in the gracious person of Miss Irene Fisher, of Haines, Oregon. The couple will make their home in the Wabklakum capital, and they will count their friends by the myriads on either bank, from Portland to the bar.

Sing Quey No More—

Early yesterday morning it was discovered that Sing Quey, a well known old Chinaman of this city had expired at his room on Bond street during the night previous. He had been down to Seaside on Sunday and had over-eaten of clams and clam juice, the which reacted on him disastrously. He was carefully prepared for burial by his countrymen yesterday and his remains despatched to Portland on the Lurline last evening, where he will be buried.

Found the Stuff—

Dr. Ball called the sheriff of this county in yesterday morning and showed him an unexpected find that developed yesterday at the Mansell building where the doctor has quarters at present. Being nothing more or less than a lot of valuables hidden in the toilet-room of the place by S. M. Harrison sometime ago just after his arrest by the police of this city for larceny from Skidmore & Company of Portland. There were notes, checks, postal money orders and other documentary valuables all aggregating the snug sum of $478.50, and wanted by the losing firm very badly. They are likely to be used as evidence against Harrison at his trial which occurs soon at the metropolis. Sheriff Pomeroy took possession of the find and at once notified Sheriff Stevens, of Multnomah county.

Fishing Licenses—

Fish Warden Van Dusen, in district No. 1, has issued fishing licenses as follows: Gillnets, 695; set nets, 87; trap licenses, 34; stationary fish wheels, 22; scow wheels, 6; and canneries, 10.

Took a Walk—

A party of about 30 young people, under the auspices of the Young Men's League of the Presbyterian church, walked over to Tongue Point Monday evening. A huge bonfire and an excellent lunch were enjoyed, the party coming back on the evening train.

Seining Ground Leased—

The Tallant-Grant Packing Company have leased the seining ground belonging to George Kaboth for three years at a rental of $3000 per year. It is understood that Mr. Kaboth will give his attention to his logging business.

After the Lions—

Clarke Loughrey left yesterday, on the noon express for the government jetty and Clatsop spit, where he will begin his 1907 season of killing the predatory sea lion to whom the lucious salmon is the daintiest morsel in the great deeps. Mr. Loughrey desires all interested to know that the "Sea-Lion" list is ready for signatures and may be found in the custody of Cashier Frank Patton, at the Astoria Savings Bank in this city.

For Evangelistic Uses—

In compliance with the terms of the will of the late and honored Mrs. Narcissa White Kinney, the executor of said estate yesterday turned over to the Reverends W. S. Gilbert and Henry Marcotte (the latter being pastor of the church during the last days of Mrs. Kinney's life), as trustees, the sum of $500, to be used by them for that church in its evangelistic program. It is needless to say the trustees will make the best possible use of the fund in the lines laid down by the generous giver.

In Honor of the Heir—

Yesterday the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernhard Lindenberg, 639 Exchange street, of this city, was the scene of a pleasant gathering of friends from Portland and from this city, in which especial honors were paid to the young heir of the house who made his appearance a short time ago on this mundane sphere. The affair was most heartily enjoyed by all who had the good fortune to be present, the handsome young principal himself being not the least happy of the jubilant throng. He and his parents have the fervent good wishes of a multitude of Astoria friends for a long and prosperous life.

J. C. Mayo—

J. C. Mayo, the retiring general freight and passenger agent of the A. & C. R., formally turned over his office last night to his successor, Mr. Mayo had been with the road since it first started and was the last in his department to leave. Under his successful management the road's earnings were increased until it had become one of the best paying investments the country. During his regime, in office, Mr. Mayo was well liked by his subordinates who gave him the best of their services at all times. Mr. Mayo is not certain as to his future course but will take a much needed rest before assuming the cares and responsibilities of a business career.

In the Minor Court—

Ben Talo was arraigned in Justice Goodman's court yesterday on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon upon the person of Charles Isaacson, to which he pleaded not guilty, and was remanded to the county jail for want of $150 bail for his appearance and trial on tomorrow, Thursday morning. In the same court S. Hellford and N. Smith were arraigned yesterday afternoon on specific charges of larceny from the dwelling of Mrs. William Lindon, at 355 Twenty-seventh street, a watch and chain being the articles alleged to have been stolen. They also entered a plea of not guilty, and went across the street in default of $100 bonds each for their appearance and trial this morning.

Done in Probate Court—

The following orders were made in the probate department of the county court yesterday by Judge Trenchard: Messrs. A. McPharland, F. J. Carney and Thomas Corbett were appointed as appraisers of the estate of the late Rev. Leopold Diehman. In the matter of the estate of Fred A. Pries, deceased, the widow of decedent, Mrs. Antonia C. Pries, was appointed administratrix of the estate, and guardian of the persons and estate of the minor children, Mildred and Cordelia; and an order was made directing her to accept the sum of $250, in full settlement of all claims of the estate as

Happily Married at Knappton—

As indicated in these columns yesterday morning, the wedding of Miss Caroline Forester and Mr. Leonard Mansur, transpired at Knappton yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Rev. W. S. Gilbert, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city officiating. The happy event took place at the cosy home of Assistant Superintendent H. B. Settem, of the Simpson mills, and was witnessed by a great throng of friends of the young people. The house was daintily decorated from one end to the other and music and refreshments eked out the pleasures of the day. The fine launch Pilot, Captain Keating, was in attendance, and when she left the Knappton dock for this city, she was literally buried in old shoes and had the greater portion of about $5 worth of rice scattered about her decks. Mr. and Mrs. Mansur left up on the evening express for Portland and will take a honeymoon trip over the State of Washington. The Morning Astorian joins their host of friends in wishing them a long and happy life.
