

PRINCE OF ASTURIAS

Royal Heir Born Yesterday.

RESEMBLES HIS MOTHER

Salute of Twenty-One Guns Carried News to People Then Great Rejoicing Began.

TO BE CHRISTENED ALPHONSO

Direct Male Succession to Spanish Throne Assured by Birth of Son to Queen Victoria—News Thrilled Entire Country From End to End.

MADRID, May 10.—Queen Victoria gave birth today to a son, who is heir to the throne of Spain. The boy will be named Alfonso.

The Prince is described as a robust blonde and as having his mother's complexion.

Almost immediately after the birth had been announced a Te Deum was chanted in the chapel of the palace, where the holy sacrament had remained exposed throughout the accouchment of the Queen. In accordance with tradition, shortly after the birth of the heir to the throne, the King will confer various decorations upon the grantees and the commander of the palace who was on duty at the time of the birth. The halberdier who was on guard at the door of the Queen's bedchamber when the child was born, will be also decorated and in addition will receive the piece of gold known as the Onza, which also will be presented to all the other halberdiers on duty at the palace.

At 8 o'clock this morning the King canceled the meeting of the Council of Ministers which was to have considered current state affairs.

By 10 o'clock the high functionaries of the state and capital, with many Ambassadors and Ministers in their court costumes had reached the palace. At noon this assembly of the nobility and power of Spain was grouped in the royal apartments set aside for official ceremonies, waiting with feelings of profound emotion the announcement of the birth of the heir.

The birth of the babe occurred at 12:45 p. m. The announcement was immediately conveyed to the waiting officials and crowds outside the palace, who received the glad tidings with mingled feelings and enthusiasm and emotion. That the Queen had been blessed with a son—a male heir to the throne—was no less welcome than the happy event itself.

The news was greeted with the greatest enthusiasm, which swelled into a spontaneous cheer as King Alfonso entered, accompanying the Camarera Mayor carrying a huge silver tray upon which was lying the newly born royal baby, covered with delicate lace garments. The Infanta Eulalie was at the King's side, as he entered with his new born son. Premier Maura at once advanced and with some hesitation relieved the Mistress of the precious load. Then, bearing the tray, the Premier proceeded slowly to the center of the room, where all present crowded around, anxious to obtain glimpse of child, which was presented to one after the other in their order of court precedence. When the curiosity of all those present was satisfied, the babe was handed back to the Mistress of Robes and by the latter was given to the royal nurse, who immediately returned to the side of the Queen.

As the nurse appeared in the royal apartment a roar of cheering could be heard from the outside of the palace. In the meantime the scenes in the streets outside were almost beyond description. Business had been suspended hours previous to the announcement of the birth. An immense multitude gathered in the vicinity of the palace and when the royal standard of red and gold fluttered up the peak of the flagstaff on the Punta de Diamante, making known that a Prince of the Asturias was born, a great shout of joy went up from the assembled masses. Immediately afterward a salute of 21 guns carried the news to the most remote confines of the city and the inhabitants of the surrounding county. As the 16th report responded (15 guns only would have been fired to announce the birth of a girl) the men, women and children waiting in the streets and upon the balconies and roofs, gave voice to their satisfaction and soon the whole city was ringing with cries of "Long live the Prince," "Long live the Queen," and "Long live the King."

Simultaneously the public buildings blossomed out as if by magic with the Spanish colors and singing, dancing and otherwise enjoying, almost the entire population of the city began streaming in the direction of the palace.

Decrees were issued tonight ordering a national holiday throughout Spain, Sunday and Monday. The Cabinet later presented to King Alfonso for his signature decrees transferring the title of the heir presumptive from Prince Charles of Bourbon to the newborn Prince. The King has decreed a pardon for thousands of prisoners including eight whom were condemned to death.

The Prince weighed 8 1/2 pounds at birth.

STRIKE SITUATION

Committee Can Find no Basis for Settlement.

SEVERAL CARS OPERATED

Mayor and Chief of Police Claim the Police Competent to Handle the Situation—People Walk or Pay For Poor Bus Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—The strike situation has developed into a fight to the finish. Neither side is willing to accept arbitration and the citizens' committee appointed to secure industrial peace is unable to find any basis for a settlement. It has been demonstrated that the present police force is inadequate and that stronger measures will be necessary to insure a general resumption of the service if the struggle is conducted along the present lines. Several cars were run accompanied by police on the cars and in automobiles, but no violence was offered. On another trip the cars were unaccompanied and were the objects of an attack of missiles and several persons were injured. The mayor and chief of police claim the police competent to cope with the situation, meanwhile the public must walk or pay five prices for desultory wagon service.

FAKE FIGHT ECHO.

Sports Sue Manager For Obtaining Money Under False Pretense.

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—Half a dozen sporting men who occupied 330 seats at the Burns-O'Brien fight have employed attorneys to bring action against Manager McCarey of the club to compel him to return the purchase price, alleging the money was obtained under false pretenses. District Attorney Fredericks will investigate the fight with a view of suppressing fighting in this city but it is doubtful if it could be done owing to the state permitting 20-round goes.

CLAIM MOYER IS A JAILBIRD

Chicago Journal Comes Out and Makes Charge—Moyer Denies Articles and Claims He Was in Rockford, S. D., at Time Stated.

CHICAGO, May 10.—The Journal today prints a long story, in which it is alleged that Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, who is about to be tried at Boise, Idaho, for complicity in the killing of former Governor Steunenberg, served as a convict in Joliet penitentiary in this state, in 1886 and 1887. The date of his discharge is said to have been January 4, 1887.

According to the Journal, Moyer was sentenced from Cook county on February 4, 1886, to serve one year for burglary. The date of his discharge is given at January 4, 1887. The official record of the Joliet prison in the case is said to be as follows: Name, Charles H. Moyer. Number, 7465. Sentenced from Cook county, February 4, 1886. Age, 20. Term, one year for burglary. Height, 5 feet, 8 inches. Weight, 156 pounds. Complexion, medium dark. Color of eyes, hazel. Color of hair, dark brown. Occupation, farmhand, from Iowa. Discharged January 4, 1887.

At 1 o'clock the office of the Warden of the Joliet penitentiary declared that during the period mentioned by the Journal a man bearing the name of Charles H. Moyer was an inmate of the prison. His number was declared to be identical with that given above.

The records of the Chicago police department show the following entries under date of December 4, 1885, the name of the prisoner being given as "C. S." Moyer in each instance.

The arrest was made upon the morning of December 4, 1885, according to the Journal's story, by Patrolman John Hartnett, who is now a lieutenant at the West Lake street police station, and was for a time an inspector. Hartnett was going toward Wood street, when he heard men running behind him. He stopped the men and asked where they were going. They said they were going home. Hartnett then asked one of the men, who was later identified as Keating, what his name was. Keating replied: "John Kelley."

"What is your name?" asked Hartnett of the other man.

"Fred Baker," was the reply. The man giving the name of Baker opened his coat as he spoke, and Hartnett caught sight of a revolver. He at once struck the man across the face with his club, knocking him senseless. Keating turned and ran, but was brought to a halt by Hartnett's threat to shoot him if he did not stop.

According to the story printed by the Journal, Hartnett waited until the man who was afterward declared to be Moyer recovered, and then marched both men in the patrol box at Wood and Madison streets, where he was joined by Patrolman Thomas Hennessy, who is still connected with the Lake street station. Here Keating made an attempt to escape, but was recaptured. Both men were then taken en to the Lake street station. There, according to the Journal, Moyer first gave the name of Fred Baker, and then said his name was Charles Moyer. Keating made no further attempt to conceal his identity, and made a full confession of the crimes enumerated above. The two men were later held to the grand jury in bonds of $5000 each by Justice C. J. White at the Desplaines street police station.

January 26, 1886, the men were sentenced to Joliet, Keating for two years and Moyer for one year. The charge on which the sentence was based was the burglary of Larson's clothing store at 731 West Lake street.

Lieutenant Hartnett today corroborated all of the facts given above, and said that he had been afterward told that Moyer had declared that had Hartnett been slower with his club, he would have been killed.

Hartnett said today: "Moyer used to amuse himself in saloons by shooting pool balls into the pockets with his revolver, and he had the general reputation at that time of being a bad man."

John Keating died while a convict in the Joliet penitentiary and one of his brothers, Charles Keating, who is now a prisoner in the county jail, said to day:

"We always knew that Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, was the man who was sent to the penitentiary with my brother Johnny. I don't remember him myself, but he used to go with my sister, and I have often heard my folks speak of him. After Moyer got out of the penitentiary he used to write to a mutual acquaintance, Samuel Williams, and Williams used to read the letters to us. One time Sam came over with a paper telling how Charlie

FIGHT TO FINISH

Trans Atlantic Lines Will Not Give in to Men.

FREIGHT RETURNS TO EUROPE

Liners Could Not be Unloaded so Carried Part of Cargo Back to Europe—Strike Crippling Shipping Business in All Departments.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The long shermen's strike, so far as it concerns the trans-Atlantic lines, gives promise of lasting some time and being a fight to the finish. The strike against the coastwise lines is settled. The settlement was a victory for the men for its basis was a compromise. But the deep water steamer companies take the ground more determinedly than ever that the strikers' demands are utterly unreasonable and that there can be no settlement so long as the men persist in them. Evidence of the present temper of these managements is found in an interview given by Emil Boas, agent of the Hamburg American line and in a report at the American and Red Star line offices that cots were being put into the second story of the American line shed for the accommodation of strikebreakers. Mr. Boas said: "The action of the strikers has been outrageous. They walked out without saying a word and some of them were making from $25 to $30 a week by working overtime, and we think they were well paid."

A report is current today, which, if it proves true, will further handicap the companies. This is that the tugboat crews do not relish the task of transporting strikebreakers to and from the piers and that they will soon refuse to do so.

Tomorrow a number of the greatest of the trans-Atlantic vessels are due and the customs authorities are dubious over the headway they will be able to make in the examination of the huge amount of baggage which will be brought over. These vessels in-

LYNCHING ATTEMPTED

Butte Policeman Killed Escaping Prisoner.

MOB WANTED REVENGE

Dead Man Suspected of Being One of the North Coast Limited Bandits.

WRONG MAN NEARLY LYNCHED

Crowd Thought Detective Had Shot An Innocent Drunk And Tried To Storm County Jail and Also City Prison—Several Arrests Were Made.

BUTTE, May 10.—Patrol driver Charles Jackson tonight shot and killed Harry Cole, the latter attempting to escape and an angry mob of 5000 led by the brothers of Cole made an ineffectual attempt to lynch Detective Charles McGarvey, the crowd laboring under the impression that McGarvey did the shooting. Cole was arrested by McGarvey on a forgery charge and was suspected of being one of the bandits who several days ago held up the North Coast Limited at Welch's Spur, murdering Engineer Clow and wounding Fireman Sullivan. Cole's brother, George Cole, is serving a sentence in the Deer Lodge penitentiary for the robbery of the Burlington Flyer here two years ago.

Harry Cole was arrested tonight and while being sweated it is said definitely declared that he knew all about the holdup of the Limited and made a dash for the door and ran down an alley leading from the police station. Jackson who witnessed the attempted escape shot and killed Cole.

The mob gathered the impression that McGarvey had killed an innocent drunk. Led by Cole's brother Timothy, the mob went to the county jail and attempted to force their way past the armed officers. Inside the jail were other armed officers. A rope was secured when Deputy Sheriff Wyman stopped the leaders and told them McGarvey was not inside the jail and offered to let them make a search, which they accepted and with- out result. Timothy Cole addressed the mob asking revenge and on the way to the police station several thousand more joined the mob. With drawn guns the officers prevented the mob from searching the station and the members of the crowd made their way to a gunstore where they secured guns, but for some reason no ammunition could be obtained. The mob leaders declare they will have the life of Cole's slayer. If an attempt is made to raid the city or county jails blood will be spilled as the officers are not in the mood to surrender to the rioters.

The police restored quiet at 11 o'clock tonight and arrested Timothy Cole and a youth named Flynn who carried the rope and a man named Sullivan and a cousin of Cole. Later they were released after the mob had dispersed.

KING INJURED.

King of Saxony Thrown From Horse During Sham Battle.

DRESDEN, May 10.—During a sham battle and while he was leading an attack by a Uhlan regiment, the King of Saxony yesterday narrowly escaped serious injury. He was thrown from his horse, but when his attendants rushed to his side it was found that he was only stunned. When he recovered he insisted on again taking part in the maneuvers.

WIFE MURDER.

Killed Wife Because of Picture Taken With Former Sweetheart.

CHICAGO, May 10.—A photograph in which his wife is shown in an affectionate attitude with a former sweetheart is believed to have caused John Krula, 44 years old, to shoot and kill his wife Amelia, 22 years old, last night.

The shooting terminated a visit at the house of a friend, Louis Krika, and it occurred shortly after John Krika, 22 years old, Krula's alleged rival, entered the place.

Krula escaped and went to his room, but within an hour returned to the scene of the shooting with the intention of killing himself in the room where his wife had died.

Drawing from an envelope the photograph, which stirred his wrath, and crying that he, too, wanted to die, he reached into his pocket for the revolver which still contained one cartridge. A policeman ran into the house just in time to snatch the revolver from Krula's hand. He was taken to the police station.

"PETERMAN" ARRESTED.

DENVER, May 10.—A man believed to be Walter Wilson, wanted in Oklahoma on the charge of having participated in a bank robbery at Tecumseh, Okla., was arrested here yesterday. Wilson has many aliases, among them "Doc" West, an assumed name, said to be well known among safe-blowers of the west. Wilson strenuously denies that he is Wilson or that he was in any way connected with the bank robbery at Tecumseh.

NEW EQUIPMENTS

Railroads to Spend Nearly a Billion Dollars.

TO HANDLE TRAFFIC OFFERED

Improvements Include Power, Track, Rolling Stock and New Road—Enormous Quantity of Steel Rails to be Purchased.

CHICAGO, May 10.—The Record-Herald today says: American railways will spend close to a billion dollars during the present year in an extraordinary effort to secure sufficient equipment, power and track, including new road to make it possible to handle the great amount of traffic being offered to them. If the car and locomotive builders of the steel rail makers do their part the year will be a record one in the three industries mentioned.

It is estimated that if the manufacturers are equal to the task between 340,000 and 350,000 freight cars will be added to the equipment of the railways of the United States; fully 50,000 passenger cars will be built and more than 5,000 locomotives will be added to the steam power which is now available.

It is said that the railroads will pay fully $921,000,000 for steel rails during the present year. If this proves true the steel mills will have to turn out about 3,300,000 tons of that product. The output last year was about 2,250,000 tons. It is said the western roads will use fully 1,600,000 tons of rails and that nearly 1,000,000 tons of this will be rolled in the eastern mills.

CUBAN BRIGANDS.

HAVANA, May 10.—Armed bands are reported to be committing depredations in the Songo district of Santiago and in the vicinity of Manacas, Santa Clara. The brigands are exacting money from farmers and stealing horses. The members of the band, it is believed, are negroes who have been thrown out of work by the ending of the sugar season.
