

MOTHERHOOD

The first requisite of a good mother is good health, and the experience of maternity should not be approached without careful physical preparation, as a woman who is in good physical condition transmits to her children the blessings of a good constitution.

Preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from native roots and herbs, more successfully than by any other medicine because it gives tone and strength to the entire feminine organism, curing displacements, ulceration and inflammation, and the result is less suffering and more children healthy at birth. For more than thirty years has been the standby of American mothers in preparing for childbirth. Note what Mrs. James Chester, of 487 W. 25th St., New York says in this letter:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—“I wish every expectant mother knew about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. A neighbor who had learned of its great value at this trying period of a woman's life urged me to try it and I did so, and I cannot say enough in regard to the good it did me. I recovered quickly and am in the best of health now.”

MRS. JAMES CHESTER

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly a successful remedy for the peculiar weaknesses and ailments of women.

It has cured almost every form of Female Complaints, Dragging Sensations, Weak Back, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation, Ulcerations and Organic Diseases of Women and is invaluable in preparing for Childbirth and during the Change of Life.

JUDICIAL BANQUET

Gathering in Honor of Former Judge Wallace.

LIFE TENURE OF JUDGES

The Banquet Was Attended By Over 500 Persons From Various Sections—Judge Wallace Spoke Feelingly Against the Evils of an Elective Judiciary.

NEW YORK, May 30.—A notable gathering of judges, state and federal, did honor at the Waldorf-Astoria last night to Federal Judge, William J. Wallace, who has retired after over a quarter of a century on the bench. The dinner, attended by some five hundred persons, was given by members of the “Bar of the state of New York.” Former Judge Alton B. Parker, presided. Those present included Judge James E. Lacombe of the United States Circuit Court, Wayne E. MacVeagh of Philadelphia, J. E. Colt, of Rhode Island and Judge Horace E. Lurton, of the Tennessee Federal bench.

Judge Wallace said in part: It is seriously proposed by a large element in one of our political parties and the proposition is advocated by its most conspicuous leader—One who is likely to be its candidate for the presidency, to abrogate the life tenure of the judges of the circuit and district courts and to substitute an elective judiciary.

“No blow more fatal than this could be aimed at all that is valuable in the existing situation. It has been provoked largely by the courage of these judges in restraining the lawless acts of trade unions and in protecting the enforcement of state legislation which they believe to conflict with the guarantees of the Federal Constitution. It would be better to abolish these courts altogether. They would not be federal courts in any true sense of the word because the judges would be merely the selection of the localities of their jurisdiction and would reflect local influences.

“The times are near when the courts of this country are to be more than ever the sanctuary of that justice which administers the law according to the ordained principles of our form of government. The will of the majority is not law when it transcends constitutional limitations. In many of the states that will is now threatening the rights of the minority and has already compelled legislatures, under the guise of protecting public interests, to interfere with private business and to impose unusual and unnecessary restrictions on lawful occupations.

“The Republican party under its present leadership has entered into a mad race with the leaders of the Democratic party to secure the votes of the discontented and the prejudiced, the unthinking and the fanatical believers in Socialistic theories. Vastly the greater number of the minority are not the millionaires, but are people of moderate means who find their modest income waning. There are enough of these to form a party which would hold the balance of power in many states. But until such a party is formed, the only refuge from these assaults is in the courts.”

GUATEMALAN TRIAL.

Seventeen Prisoners On Trial For Attempting Cabrera's Life.

NEW YORK, May 30.—A dispatch to the Herald from Guatemala City says that public trial of the 17 prisoners convicted and sentenced to death for alleged complicity in the plots to assassinate President Cabrera has begun before the military court of appeals. The hearing will probably take three days as all of the testimony taken during the first secret trials is being read in public. Soldiers and officers of Cabrera's army crowded the courtroom which is small and by few civilians are able to get in. All the foreign missions attended the first day's session except Philip Brown, the Charge d'Affairs of the United States legation.

The Civil War At a Glance

By WALTON WILLIAMS

The American Civil War was the greatest conflict at arms in the history of the human race. The American Revolutionary war, which lasted nearly twice as long, was a series of mere skirmishes compared with the struggle of the early sixties. Battles were fought during the civil war, now known only to the mustiest of historians or to local tradition or recollection, which exceeded in the forces engaged and surpassed in the carnage resulting some of the most important actions during the struggle for independence. The number of battles fought greatly exceeded the number incident to any single European war. The firing line was a thousand miles long. Nearly 4,000,000 men were engaged. More than 500,000 men were killed in action or died from wounds or disease. In practically every respect the war of 1861-65 was the biggest and bloodiest of all time.

This stupendous struggle embraced so many ramifications of incident that a complete history of the whole is practically impossible. Historians have been able only to “hit the high spots” for want of space and lack of time and endurance to sift and chronicle all the interesting facts.

We do not know how many battles were fought. This can only be approximated. In the government's “Chronological List of Battles” the number exceeds 2,200. But the bureau of pensions has an alphabetical list of engagements, including skirmishes and such other minor actions as were deemed sufficiently important to note. This list contains more than 6,800 engagements.

About 2,900,000 Union soldiers were enlisted during the war. The Confederate records are very incomplete, many of them having been lost or destroyed. It is estimated that the numbers engaged on that side of the conflict were not far short of 700,000 men. These figures do not include the considerable numbers of irregular combatants on each side, many of whom were not officially enrolled.

Marlin

Why is the Marlin 12 gauge take-down repeating shotgun the best all-around shotgun that money can buy? Marlin shotguns are made of the best material obtainable for the purpose. They are strong and sure, and work under all conditions. The breech block and working parts are cut from solid steel drop-forgings; the barrels are of special rolled steel or of “Special Chambered Steel.”

The lines of Marlin shotguns are pleasing—the balance is perfect. They point perfectly and have wonderful penetration.

The solid top and side ejection assure safety and comfort. This is the gun you have been needing.

Send six cents for our catalog, which explains every Marlin in detail and is full of other valuable gun lore.
