MISS ALERT.
In getting up a camping party find enough congenial companions to make the party up to four or five, rarely more, never less. Two is too few in case of accident or the inevitable camp squabbles, three permits the association of two chums leaving the third one to himself, four, two pairs, is the most satisfactory number, although five can travel very comfortably. Get as well acquainted as possible with all members of the party before starting. An un congenial member may spoil the pleasure of the whole party. If possible, let one man know well how to do camp cooking. Try him on a short outing before you trust him on the real trip. The comfort of the whole party depends most on the ability of the cook. Fancy cooking or chafing-dish adeptness amount to but little when it comes to frying bacon, making flapjacks, and building fires with green wood when the rain is pouring down and the others of the party are begging for "something hot, and mighty quick about it, too."—The Travel Magazine

RUSSIAN VESSEL NEXT WEEK

First Visit of a Russian Steamer to the Columbia River—Comes Here With a Cargo of Cement and Then Goes To Puget Sound.

The British steamer Ascot came down yesterday with a cargo mainly consisting of flour. She is bound for New Chwang and other ports via Seattle.

The steam schooner Excelsior went out to sea yesterday with 550,000 feet of lumber for San Francisco.

The oil tank Ascension came in yesterday from Frisco and went up.

It appears that the Gymeric will not make Astoria after all this trip. She is reported as being in Puget Sound.

The steamship Columbia was in from Portland yesterday afternoon apart from a good blow Friday and Thursday night the vessel had a fine trip up and brought an extra large list of passengers.

The steamship Nome City came in at 10 o'clock Friday night with passengers and freight.

The ship Emily Reid had a cargo of 1,750,800 feet of lumber and 2000 bundles of laths.

When the Melville Dollar came in she had already loaded 160,000 feet of cedar at Tillamook.

In spite of her collision with the rocks near Humes' Mill the steam schooner Yosemite went to sea yesterday with a full cargo of lumber from the mill.

With a part cargo of cement consigned to Kerr, Gifford & Co., the Russian steamship Finn, 2473 tons net register, will arrive in the Columbia early next week from San Diego. The steamer sailed from the California port, Thursday, but until this morning it was not generally known that she cleared for here. After discharging her cargo here she will go to Puget Sound to load lumber for the Far East.

The Finn will be the first vessel flying a Russian flag to visit this port for several months. At about the time she arrives the Japanese steamship Manshu Maru will put in an appearance to take on a cargo of flour for Japan and China. With the Japanese and Russians in the harbor together, many of whom served in the late war, it will give the respective officers, it is pointed out, an excellent opportunity to exchange courtesies and tell all about how it happened. They will also have an opportunity to talk to Uncle Sam's bluejackets and relate stirring stories around a little international camp-fire.

The Strathyre loaded lumber at Linton, and at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon left down for the mouth of the river. She was drawing nearly 26 feet of water, having a cargo of more than 3,600,000 feet of lumber, but in spite of this deep draft, she arrived off Astoria at 7 o'clock that night and at 8:30 o'clock the same evening was at sea bound for Shanghai. As it is 103 miles to the Columbia River bar from Linton Captain Gunn's run was a remarkably fast one, considering his vessel is simply a blunt-nosed, cargo tramp. The reason for the speed was to catch the high tide, and he did it. Had the Strathyre not been hurried, Captain Gunn might have had to wait until Saturday afternoon before proceeding to sea.

With 73,519 barrels of flour, valued at $291,021, the British steamer Ascot, Captain Booth, left down yesterday for Newchwang and Shanghai.

A Puzzle.
"My dear, will it bother you if I ask a question about our club bookkeeping? You know I'm treasurer."
"No. Delighted, I'm sure."
"Well, we gave a charity euchre for the benefit of the Old Ladies' home. It cost our club $300, and we only took in $250. Now, I figure it out that the old ladies owe us $50. Am I right?"—Life.

Unnecessary.
Benness—Those college professors listened to a lecture three hours long. Benness—What of it? Benness—Nothing, only they say "a word to the wise is sufficient."—Philadelphia Telegraph.
