A NEW SHIP CANAL

Will be One Hundred and Three Miles Long.

GREAT SAVING TO SHIPPERS

National Charter Granted to Lake Erie, and Ohio Ship Canal Company—To be Built by Private Contract But Operated Under Federal Supervision.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Ships of 2,500 tons burden in the near future will be enabled to load cotton, sugar, lumber and other supplies at New Orleans, steam up the Mississippi and Ohio rivers to the Great Lakes, and return laden with wheat and ore and coal. This was made possible this week when the national government issued a charter to the Lake Erie and Ohio River Ship Canal company. The company is to build the canal by private contract, but the operation of the waterway will be under certain federal supervision.

The ship channel, as its name indicates, is to connect Lake Erie with the Ohio River. Its northern terminus, unless plans are modified or changed, is to be at Geneva-on-the-Lake, some seven miles west of Ashtabula, O. It will enter the Ohio river by utilizing the Mahoning and Beaver rivers.

The distance covered by the canal is 103 miles. The channel will be 160 feet wide and it will have a depth all the way of 14 feet. It is estimated that, once completed, the canal will have a capacity of 30,000,000 tons of freight annually. The cost will approximate $30,000,000, but if the earnings of foreign canals furnish any criterion it will prove a highly remunerative investment, besides being a boon to shippers and a wonderful upbuilder of the territory it traverses.

The saving this channel will effect to shippers will be enormous. On an average the cost of waterway transportation is one-sixth that by rail. At the last national convention of the National Rivers & Harbors Congress, its president, Congressman Ramsdell of Louisiana, advanced some figures that showed clearly what waterway development meant, not only to the shippers but to the consumer, who in the last analysis is the one who feels the weight of heavy transportation tolls in the advanced cost of the necessities of life. Mr. Ramsdell, in comparing rates, pointed to the fact that the average railroad charge is 7.5 mills per ton per mile, and said:

There is an immense commerce on the Ohio River, and there the freight charge is .76 of one mill per ton per mile. The tremendous commerce on the lower Ohio and the Mississippi between Louisville and New Orleans is carried at a freight charge of .67 of one mill per ton—less than one-eleventh of the railroad charge. There is a splendid commerce on the Monongahela river, and there the freight charge is less than one-eleventh of the railroad charge.

What would it amount to if in one year we could carry all our freight by water? Last year the commerce of this country, which moved by rail, was 1,369,000,000 tons. If it could have been carried by water the saving thereon would have been in one year $850,000,000. These figures are so vast that I know they stagger credulity, but they are absolutely true and I defy any man to contradict them.

The Lake Erie and Ohio River canal will increase the business that now is booming on the Great Lakes and the rivers of the Ohio, Missouri and Mississippi valleys. Heretofore they have had no connection, one with the other, but when they are connected, the volume of the country's internal commerce is certain to make some reasonable gains.

The National Rivers & Harbors Congress is interested in the project, but only for the reason that it shows the gradual growth of the sentiment in favor of a return to waterway transportation. The organization is not pledged to any individual scheme of improvement, but is confining its activities to arousing the American people and Congress to the necessity for expending not less than $50,000,000 annually on this general work.

War Against Consumption. All nations are endeavoring to check the ravages of consumption, the "white plague" that claims so many victims each year. Foley's Honey and Tar cures coughs and colds perfectly and you are in no danger of consumption. PLATINUM ADVANCES. Manufacturers Using it Are Quite Disturbed—Think Output Curtailed.

NEW YORK, July 19.—Announcement is made that the price of platinum has advanced from $24 to $26.50 an ounce within a month and the dealers say that it will soon be $30 an ounce. Manufacturers of diamond jewelry, plates for artificial teeth and electrical and photographic supplies are quite disturbed and many of them believe that the Russian and French companies, which control the mines, are curtailing the output.

SELL MORGAN'S PICTURE. NEW YORK, July 19.—An oil portrait of J. P. Morgan is among the articles that the government hopes to sell at the forthcoming semi-annual sale of unclaimed dutiable goods. The portrait is the work of a German artist, and, according to Colonel Story who is in charge of the sales department at the public offices was evidently copied from a photograph. The canvas is about three feet square and those who have seen it say it is a creditable piece of work. Mr. Morgan, however, does not want it. The picture is consigned to Mr. Morgan and arrived in New York from Hamburg about a year ago. Since that time it has laid at the public stores. G. B. Burbans testifies After Four Years. G. B. Burbans, of Carlisle Center, N. Y., writes: "About four years ago I wrote you stating that I had been entirely cured of a severe kidney trouble by taking less than two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It entirely stopped the brick dust sediment, and pain and symptoms of kidney disease disappeared. I am glad to say that I have never had a return of any of those symptoms during the four years that have elapsed and I am evidently cured to stay cured, and heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Cure to any one suffering from kidney or bladder trouble."
