A FARCICAL PARODY OF JUSTICE

"TO MAKE THE PUNISHMENT FIT THE CRIME—THE PUNISHMENT FIT THE CRIME" (COMIC OPERA)

In Justice Goodman's court yesterday morning Pearl Ross pleaded guilty to grand larceny and then had hysterics. In the afternoon the case was continued and the information was changed to simple larceny. The prisoner again pleaded guilty and was fined the enormous sum of $35!

The husband was discharged! In the morning a terrible scene occurred in the Justice Court, when the hysterical woman completely gave way losing all control of herself. So in consideration for the prisoner the case was continued till the afternoon—and she was carried off in a hack by kind friends—not to jail—where most prisoners charged with grand larceny are held till their trial is over—but home or to the home of friends.

In the meantime the State of Oregon represented by John C. McCue, the Vincents, who were robbed, Mr. Wood, a traveling man and friend of both parties, and Justice of the Peace Goodman, or some of them must have got their heads together for in the afternoon the information was changed. At first it was suggested that Mr. Woods should plead for the prisoner, or her attorney presumably, to spare the confessed thief the painful necessity of appearing in court. The ordeal might prove too great for her delicate feelings.

But Justice Goodman had the prisoner brought to court. Again she came in a hack—not from jail.

Deputy District Attorney McCue said that as the prisoner was a young married woman and had a young baby to take care of, and as she had pleaded guilty to the major charge, the state did not wish to be vindictive. The state would therefore change the information to one of simple larceny, if the prisoner would plead guilty to that. The prisoner would and did.

Justice Goodman then informed her that he would be under the painful necessity of fining her $35. She was asked if she could pay the fine and Mr. Woods replied that he would be responsible for it, if the money did not come from Portland in reply to a telegram to her husband's father.

At this juncture the prisoner was able to walk out and talk with Mr. Woods in an adjoining room. Justice of the Peace Goodman then informed Mr. Ross that he was discharged.

The penalty for grand larceny is imprisonment in the penitentiary for not less than one nor more than ten years. For larceny from a dwelling house the penalty is imprisonment in the penitentiary for not less than one nor more than seven years.

For stealing a diamond ring valued at $300 from the house of four friends, while their guests, the penalty appears to be a fine of $55.

BASEBALL TODAY.

The Bohemians Prepared to Put up a Snappy Game.

The local baseball fans are on edge to see today's game between the Trunks and the home team. H. Graham, the newly elected captain of the home team, is having trouble in securing his release from the Kelso management, but he is determined not to play under Rankin's management again so he started for Kelso yesterday to secure his own release and hopes to be home in time to cover the sack at the difficult corner. The local star is much sought after. He received a telegram from Deacon White, manager of the Edmonton Club, yesterday before he started for Kelso, asking him to name his own terms to play the rest of the season, but he appreciates the efforts of the local fans and friends and has made up his mind to stay home.

Goin' Fish'n?—

So they went down the street—and they bought half a sack of clams, 2 pounds of raw steak, and 3 dozen sturgeon hooks and some window cord. They had wired to Portland for tackle, but the consignment was too late for the fast freight. Three large skips were also purchased in which to carry the catch.

This evening transfer wagons will meet them and bring the fruits of the day's fishing to the Astorian office.

Personal mention. Mr. George Clark and County Clerk J. C. Clinton are going on a fishing excursion today.

TWO MEN DROWNED AT MEGLEKS

TAKE A BOAT, CAPSIZE IN FIVE FEET OF WATER AND DROWN IN SIGHT OF CROWD.

Andro Mikos, aged 22, and Joseph Mesita, aged 30, were drowned last night in the river near Megler's Camp. The two men who were Austrians were working for the Nordside Railroad and in company with the rest of the gang were making their way to camp after knocking off. On the way to camp there is a gap between the two ends of the grades, the two men being in a hurry, stepped into a skiff to cross this instead of going round. About half way across the skiff capsized and the occupants were thrown out into five feet of water in full view of the rest of the men. They were drowned almost immediately, apparently no effort being made to help them. Their bodies were soon recovered however and artificial respiration was tried with no effect. Andro Mikos had $100 in gold and a check for $100 on him at the time. Justice of the Police Dalton, acting coroner, took charge of the bodies, and Dr. Klanke was also called in. Eventually they were brought across in a skiff towed by the launch Bascel in charge of Charley Roberts. On reaching this side Coroner Pohl took charge.

The funeral services will be held Monday in St. Mary's Cathedral. Father Waters officiating, and the interment will be at Greenwood.

C. C. UTZINGER ILL.

Well Known Man of Astoria Stricken—Though Serious is Doing Well.

C. C. Utzinger, well known in our city, is lying ill at St. Mary's Hospital, suffering from bowel and bladder troubles. Mr. Utzinger left here for Gray's River last Wednesday and while there was suddenly taken ill. He returned to Astoria and on the advice of Dr. Henderson, his physician was taken to the hospital. At first it was thought that an operation would be of immediate necessity and his physician was prepared to perform it. A partial operation developed certain troubles which it is thought the partial operation will overcome.

His many friends in this city will be pleased to learn that as we go to press he is much relieved and shows signs of great improvement.

IT MAKES A DIFFERENCE.
 It makes all the difference in the world to the convivial man where, and what, he drinks. Men desire beauty and cleanliness, and handsome appointments in the saloon they patronize regularly, as well as the essential pre-requisite of genuine wines and liquors that are served to them. And these things are so particularly and properly conspicuous at Otto Suan's elegant resort, the Commercial, at No. 509 on the street of that name that they account thoroughly for the fixed and splendid custom he enjoys. There is nothing allowed to pass his counter but the best and choicest in every department of indulgence, and the service behind it all, is the most pleasing and satisfying in the city.

The case is set for Monday at 2 o'clock and it will be fought as a test case.

A Serenade—
 Yesterday afternoon the Morning Astorian was serenaded in a very musical manner by the Swedish Singing Club of Columbia. The club arrived in Astoria on the Costa Rica on its way down to San Francisco to take part in a singing festival, but managed to stop off long enough to give the Astorian a very fine example of what it can do in the way of singing. The club should certainly make a great showing at the festival which takes place on the 24th inst. There were including the ladies 23 members in all.

Sturgeon Are Plentiful—
 John Cameron the first of the week caught a sturgeon at Bay Center which weighed 270 pounds. This is one of the largest sturgeon caught this year. The fishermen say the river is alive with these fish this year, and the wharf at Bay Center looks like a wood wharf, the fish being piled up like cordwood. The South Bend Fish Company are shipping a large number of these fish which find a ready sale in Seattle, Tacoma and other large places.—South Bend Journal.

Appreciate Astoria—
 In conversation with P. N. Lathrop, the hustling representative of Allen & Lewis, of Portland, and who has been busy distributing samples of "White River Flour" and Eppley's "Perfection" Baking Powder throughout this city for the past 10 days, that gentleman said yesterday, that in all the years of his commercial traveling he had never been treated with such uniform courtesy in any place in the country and that he deeply appreciated the friendly spirit of the people toward a stranger, because it was so exceedingly rare in his particular field.

If a man knows anything of his own anatomy he must be aware that his stomach is a magnificent organ and entitled to the utmost consideration: knowing that he will eat at the Palace when he can conserve its safety and comfort, by eating only the best cooked, best served and most compensating meal in the city of Astoria, Oregon, it is always the same, and the Palace habit is one that pays to acquire. Arthur Smith is a master of the art of preparation and service, of all things edible.
