Wholesale Price List as Reported Daily.

PORTLAND, August 7.-New Oregon onions are expected to reach the market in small quantities next week but it is not likely that they will have a weakening effect on the market which is firm.

More yeal than usual at this time of the year has come in since the weather turned cooler and there is a stronger demand for it than there was while the hot weather prevailed.

Elberta peaches of fine quality are now in the market from California and they sell freely.

There is a good demand for eggs that are known to be fresh.

Inspectors Need New Office or Headquarters on Waterfront-Present Place Inconvenient and Small-Other Items Concerning Port of Astoria.

If Uncle Sam should come to Astoria and see just what kind of a place the customs inspectors have to house themselves in while on duty on the waterfront he would do something for improvement. But as Uncle Sam is a long distance away it is up to some of the progressive men of Astoria to acquaint him with conditions and secure the needed change.

At the present time the inspectors, when on duty, have the privilege of staying in the shack which the crew of crown, whole boxes of 20 lbs., $2.25; the United States Customs Patrol have for their quarters while the boat is tied to the dock

In former years this bunkhouse was owned by the L. R. & N. Company and was taken over with the rest of the Provisions-Hams large, 16 cents; stock of the company when that line small, 16 1-2e; picnic, 12c; boiled, 25c; was taken up by the O. R. & N. Company. But the O. R. & N. Company could not have known what a valuable piece of property they had acquired and when crew of the patrol boat asked for Actoria. c; Tubs, 12 3-4c; 50s, 12 3-4c; 20s, 12- it the officials of the company generously gave it to them.

The crew hauled the cabin to its present resting place and there it now stands. It is small and has one room which the crew stays in during rainy weather and which the inspectors stay in when on duty. There is a 'phone in the small room and the shelves have been publisher of the Otsego Journal, Gil- kindly lent by the crew to the inspecbertsville, N.
