VERY SUSPICIOUS MATTER

NEWSPAPER SOLICITOR ARREST-ED LAST NIGHT MAY DEVELOP PECULIAR TRANSACTIONS.

A sensational arrest was made by Chief of Police Gammel last night when he placed in custody for solicitin without a license, a man giving his name as "H. A. Gowdy, New York."

Gowdy has been in Astoria for some ime soliciting for orders for Labor Day edition of the Portland Labor Press of Portland in connection with which will be published the Annual Labor Review. Gowdy's plan was to call on the business men of this city and holding forth inducements in the way of write-ups, to secure from them orders for certain numbers of copies at 5 cents per copy. Strange as it may seem he found many who placed orders with him and it is said that he secured in the neighborhood brokerage business. He collected on the orders at once and when arrested had in his possession $222.35 in cash and a postal order in his favor for $20.

Several business men hold Gowdy's receipts for various sums ranging from $5 upwards the whole aggregating about $200 as mentioned above.

Gowdy's methods of intimidation led to his undoing. It appears that when he was refused an order he would threaten the party refusing and one of the parties
