Who Has Been Put in Jail for Drunkeness.

Officers Phone Judge Who is About to Pass Sentence on Mrs. Jacobs and When Lad Tells His Story Mother is Freed.

BROOKLYN, Aug. 30.—Weeping as if his heart would break, 7-year-old George Jacobs walked into the Brownsville police station yesterday afternoon and asked Lieut. Reifert if he could see his mother, Mary, who was under arrest on a charge of intoxication. The little fellow, between sobs, begged to see his parent, who, he said, was the only friend he had in the world.

Lieut. Reifert, as he looked over his blotter, observed closely the moist eyes of the small boy, and somehow he moved very uncomfortably in his chair. Then he stepped out from behind the desk and took the little fellow up in his "Haven't you anybody to take care of you?" he asked.

"No, Mr. Policeman," was the sobbing response, "and can I see my mamma? She is a good woman. She always looks after me, and I just want to look into her face and"

The lad's voice broke off into a prolonged sob and even the hardened lieutenant could not answer for a moment. He just looked at the youngster and patted his head tenderly.

"My boy, your mother has just been taken up before the judge, but you mustn't ery, for he will not let her see you again," be finally said. "But where is your father?"

"My father, Mr. Policeman, always drinks. We live in a little house at 257 Chaucey street, and I walked the whole way to the police station to see my mamma. My father hits me when he is drunk, but my mama can't do anything. Please, Mr. Policeman, let me see my mamma."

The lieutenant run to the telephone, and in a few minutes he had Magistrate Hylan in the New Jersey avenue court on the wire. "Say Judge," he said excitedly, man. I've got a little boy here. He tells a sad story. I'll explain later." And he dropped the receiver. In the New Jersey avenue court Magistrate Hylan suspended sentence on the woman. He didn't know why. The voice of Lieut, Reifert rang in his eurs, and he did it on general princi- Overdrafts, secured and unples. The lieutenant investigated the boy's story and found it to be true.

How The Rev. Billy Sunday Got Even With Slanderers.

ren's Society.

The September American Magazine ontains an extraordinary description of The Rev. Billy Sunday and his war on the Devil." Sunday is the ex-professional ball player who has turned into a revivalist. He has made 100,000 converts, He earns from $12,000 to $15,000 a year. National League ever knew. 'The story of his conversion, which brings in "Pop" Anson, Mike Kelly, John Clarkson and other notables, is fully told. The American Magazine sent Lindsay Denison to Fairfield, Iowa, to collect pictures and to write the article. Among other interesting facts Denison discovered that Sunday is fully able to handle his enemies. The editors of a little patent-inside newspaper at Brighton, a town near Fairfield, took it on themselves to speak of Sunday as "a grafter." Sunday held down his wrath for days and then prayed about them thus: "Oh, dear Lord Jesus, save Fairfield! Bless Mount Pleasant, Stockport and Birmingham and Batavia and-erbless-" (the evangelist opened his eyes turned around and in an ordinary conversational tone questioned his secrttary): "What was that town we went to the other day, over there on the railroad, Honeywell? Oh, yes. Eldon." (Again closing his eyes and presuming the higher pitched tone of addressing the Almighty)-"Bless Eldon, dear Lord and Packwood and Richard and Pleasant Plain. And O dear Lord, if you think its any use, you might tackle those Brighton editors. But dear Lord, be careful-take along a bottle of disenfectant. I don't know as you can do much with them, Jesus, but if you think its worth while, try it, Lord, try it! And if you try it, here's a pointer, Lord wear rubber gloves."

"Regular as the Sun"

is an expression as old as the race. No doubt the rising and setting of the sun is the most regular performance in the universe, unless it is the action of the liver and bowels when regulated with Dr. King's New Life Pills. Guaranteed by Charles Rogers, druggist. 25c.

ATTACKED BY NEGRO.

WOODSTOCK, Conn., Aug. 30.-Miss Bessie Bates, a school teacher, of Brooklyn, N. Y. was attacked by a negro near Roseland Pary last Monday afternon-After a terrific struggle she was carried off into the bushes, but the negro was frightened away by a passing team.

While her assailant made his escape the driver of the team carried Miss Bates to the house of Mrs. J. E. Shaw, also of Brooklyn, who has a summer home in GEORGE JACOBS MOVES TO PITY Woodstock, and with whom she is visit-

The town authorities are engaged in a search for the negro, who will be prosecuted if he is caught.

Miss Bates is the daughter of a phy sician in Brooklyn. The name of Miss Bates is not contained in the school teachers directory. There are but two physicians with the name of Bates, one of whom is out of the city at present. Nothing could be learned at his home to-day concerning the above negro. The other is not related to Miss Bates.
