

HENEY IS TIRELESS

After the Land Grabbers Again.

WANTS BINGER HERMAN

By November He Expects to Have Legal Probe in Various Oregon Cases.

THE DELAY IS HIS FAULT

Recent Cry of Avoiding Trial of Cases Against Bristol is Born by Heney Who Says he Was Not Ready to Prosecute Cases—Returns to San Francisco.

PORTLAND, Sept. 11.—Francis J. Heney, famed as a prosecutor of land thieves and of other kinds of grabbists and bootleggers, says in positive terms that the Oregon land fraud cases will be taken up for trial in the United States court here in October and that the prosecution will be pushed until the present congested docket is swept as clean as a whistle.

He says also that he is responsible for the delay in the resumption of the government prosecutions and that he alone must bear the blame if blame there must be. He further states that Judge Hunt of Montana will preside over the land cases, as he did in the distant days of the past when the last case was given a hearing.

Mr. Heney states that he will return to Portland from his present municipal graft extirpation in San Francisco not later than November 1, and will then roll up his official sleeves and take a most active part in finishing the remaining land cases which may not have been previously disposed of by United States District Attorney Bristol.

The only stipulation made is that he is to have the lead in the trial of the Binger Hermann, the John Hall, and the Booth cases.

Mr. Heney returned to Portland from Seattle last night and went at once to the Portland. He was besieged by men who wished to discuss matters with him and did not get to bed until after 1 o'clock this morning. By 8 o'clock the telephone in his room began to ring and continued to do so intermittently throughout the day. Mr. Heney took breakfast in his room, being closeted with Thomas B. Neuhausen, one of the men who rendered him aid during the early preparations for the land trials and also during the later investigations and trials. Mr. Neuhausen now has in his possession or in the care of various of his agents, practically all of the evidence gathered against the different land fraud defendants now awaiting trial.

The afternoon was spent by Mr. Heney with Mr. Bristol in his office though he was continually interrupted by those who came to consult with him on various matters having to do with the land cases, and the resumption of the trials. This evening he will leave for San Francisco to be present and take part in the Ford trial there, the jury for which is being chosen today.

According to Mr. Heney, after the preliminary November work, the land cases will be taken up the first thing when the October term of the federal court is convened and all the cases will be set down on the docket for immediate trial by United States Attorney Bristol. The first cases to be considered will be those in which the defendants have been held in the county jail for a year or more pending trial. These cases include counterfeiters, Indians from the reservations, and various other men held on different criminal charges.

MORGAN PAYS CITY.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Having failed to induce the city officials to repave the block opposite his home in a style to accord with his ideas, J. Pierpont Morgan has determined to pay for the work out of his own private purse. Mr. Morgan's check for $1200, which is the sum the city's paving experts have figured out that it will cost to repave the block, has been sent to the city authorities, and it is expected that his request will be granted. The city wanted to patch the asphalt pavement where it needed repairs, instead of repaving the whole block, as Mr. Morgan requested.

SCHMITZ STILL HAS HOPES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—"I hope the Union Labor party wins; I want to get out of here."

Eugene E. Schmitz, discussing the political outlook with a friend who had dropped out to the Ingleside jail to see him, summed up his interest in the result in these words. He hopes the Union Labor party will win, because he wants to get out of jail. He has a hazy notion that his imprisonment will naturally come to an end as soon as a change comes over the political complexion.

Schmitz has a notion that his sentence will be disregarded if "the right sort of man" is elected Mayor.

If No Accident Occurs She Will Establish New Record—Wireless at Cape Race Has Picked Her up and She is Steaming at 25 Knots an Hour.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The great turbine steamer Lusitania, of the Cunard line, is racing along at a 25 knot clip this afternoon in the final stretch of her maiden voyage to New York and wireless dispatches from Cape Race, N. F., received today indicate she will probably arrive here sometime between midnight and 3 o'clock Friday morning, breaking all trans-Atlantic ocean records. The Cunard officials are awaiting this afternoon to hear from the giant craft which has entered the wireless zone near Cape Race.

STRIKE BECOMES SERIOUS.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 11.—The strike of the Pennsylvania tunnel workers in Long Island City assumed rather a serious aspect this morning. The engineers will not return to work unless the contractors agree to raise the rate of pay to that established by the Safety Engineer's Union, of which the engineers employed on the work are members. Matthew McConville, the business agent of that union, is in charge of the strike, and he says the men were paid from $1 to $1.50 a day below the union scale. The threat made yesterday to call out the 200 rockmen employed on the tunnel work appears to have been put in force this morning, for there was no evidence of those men being at work. The police on duty about the scene of the strike said that everything was quiet and orderly.

ONCE MORE IN LINE

Civil War Veterans in Encampment.

RANKS THINNING FAST

Thousands of Aged Soldiers Cheered Wildly as They Were Reviewed.

MANY UNABLE TO MARCH

Pathetic and Patriotic Spectacle at Saratoga—All Along Line of March Residences Are Decorated for Boys in Blue Who Fought in Union Ranks.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 11.—This was the day of the big parade of the national encampment of the G. A. R. when gray-haired veterans of the civil war marched again in martial array. The line of march was comparatively short and the number of marchers was not so large as in previous years, the first due to the advanced age of the surviving veterans and the second to the rapid depletion of the ranks by death in the past few years.

But it was a successful and spectacular pageant nevertheless. There were thousands in line and as they swept down tree-lined Broadway the marchers were loudly cheered by the great crowd of spectators along the entire route. The formation was at Woodlawn Park and the route led for a mile and a quarter straight down Broadway. Houses and buildings along the entire line of march were decorated with a great display of flags and bunting. At every available point viewing stands had been built, while wagons stood at intersecting streets equipped with chairs. Arrangements had been made for veterans who were physically unable to engage in the parade, or who did not care to do so, to view the procession from a stand erected for their exclusive use.

Forty-two states and two territories were represented in the column. The local post was given the place of honor, that of escort to R. B. Brown, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army, New York, New England and Pennsylvania were naturally the most largely represented in the column. Ohio had a good representation and also West Virginia, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois. California, Oregon, Washington, Colorado, and other states of the far west, were represented by one or more posts each.

Arriving at the social reviewing stand Command-in-Chief Brown left his place at the head of the procession to review the line. Governor Hughes and other state officials also reviewed the parade. The applause for the veterans, which had been spontaneous and loud along the line of march, became a tempest as the veterans moved past the reviewing stand.

PARKER ON CAMPAIGN GIFTS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—A statement attributed to Judge Alton B. Parker, democratic candidate for the Presidency in 1904, is published in the World today, regarding recent newspaper exposures of campaign fund giving, at the last National election.

Judge Parker, in effect, says that Congress should have performed the service that the newspapers are now attempting to render, and that no man who is fair-minded and intelligent can doubt the accuracy of his famous charge regarding campaign funds near the close of his campaign.

Judge Parker also advocates imprisonment as a punishment for corporation campaign gifts.

MORE RIOTS IN FRISCO

Two Fatally Wounded in Shooting Affray.

POLICE DELIVER VOLLEY

Union Pickets Assert They Did Not Precipitate the Desperate Battle.

POLICE SURROUND CAR BARN

Union Men Claim That Riot Was Deliberately Planned by Strikebreakers to Create Unfavorable Opinion of Union—Claim They Have Such Information.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—Five non-union carmen in the employ of the United Railroads were desperately wounded, two of them fatally, in a battle with pickets of the carmen's union and police at an early hour this morning.

The injured are: MORRIS RISENBERG, non-union conductor, bullet wound in the left chest. The bullet penetrated the pleural cavity and came out at the back.

ROY PERKINS, conductor, deep flesh wound in the right chest. J. J. COTTER, motorman, bullet wound left upper forearm.

HARRY COHRS, conductor, bullet wound in the right leg. FRANK SMITH, conductor, bullet wound in the right forearm.

The riot started when a work car carrying a crowd of strikebreakers left the car barn at Twenty-fourth and Utah streets shortly after midnight. When the car passed Bryant street, stones were thrown from a place where the union pickets occupied a tent. The pickets declare they did not throw the missiles, but the strikebreakers evidently believed they did, for revolvers were drawn, and in a few moments a fierce battle was going.

A riot call was sent to the police station and a large detail of police rushed to the scene. They called upon the strikebreakers to cease firing, but their command was either misunderstood or the strikebreakers had no desire to let the police alone, for the car crew turned on the bluecoats and the latter responded.

The five men fell at the first volley and lay writhing on the ground. In the meantime, the car had been run back to the barn, and the men inside opened fire on the police, who besieged the place and demanded surrender. The 700 men inside continued the firing upon the police until they were peremptorily commanded to cease. The barn was then surrounded by the police and at daybreak a large number of arrests were made.

The union men claim the riot was deliberately planned by the company to create sympathy for the strikebreakers and convey the impression that the union sanctions violence. They claim to have had advance information that the riot was to take place.

POSTS $1000 FOR REWARD.

George W. Moore Spares no Expense to Capture Murderer.

SALEM, Sept. 11.—Sheriff Culver was yesterday afternoon authorized by Geo. W. Moore, the husband of Mrs. Rebecca Moore, who was brutally murdered in her home upon the farm near Buena Vista, Wednesday afternoon, to advertise a reward of $1000 for any information which will lead to the capture of the perpetrator of the crime. He also authorized the sheriff to spare no expense in the search for the murderer and to charge all necessary expenses to him. Every clew local officers have run down has come to naught and the further they proceed the deeper the case seems to become enshrouded in mystery. Practically the only theory now advanced is that the murder must have been committed by a tramp who entered the house to ransack and that Mrs. Moore, who had an experience with a tramp once before, had attempted to drive him out with the butcher knife which she held in her hand.

LUSITANIA SHOWS SPEED.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Dispatches by wireless telegraph from the steamer Lusitania, one of the giant ships that are expected to break records in making the trip between England and the United States and return, give some details how the steamer is acting on her first long voyage. The Lusitania, which left Liverpool four hours ahead of us," says the message, "was overtaken and passed at 4:30 Sunday morning. She had half an hour start of us, leaving Queenstown."

SPECIAL SESSION.

Legislature Will be Called in Kansas if Railroads Ignore 2-Cent Fare Rate.

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 11.—Politicians are of the opinion that Governor Hoch will call a special session of the legislature if the railroads persist in their determination to ignore the two-cent fare order. The governor has not yet been notified of the action of the railroads except through the newspapers. He declared that Kansas will have a 2-cent rate or it will be cancelled in the states around her.

It is understood that if the railroads file the resolution adopted in Chicago in court here, it will be a signal for a special session call.
