

Christian Science is Founded Upon Hypnotism.

That Christian Science is founded upon hypnotism; that there is no such thing as mind reading; that presentiments are not to be scoffed at, and that many persons possess the power of hypnotism but have failed to develop it...

ing in France and Germany at that time. None could explain the strange power he exerted and finally they named the power mesmerism, although it is simply hypnotism under a different name.

says that as yet the study of the strange science is still in its infancy. He thinks it will bring to light as many startling discoveries as have been made in the study of electricity.

Greeks in Savannah Give Cash to Help Countryman Get Revenge.

SAVANNAH, Sept. 14—Having sworn the Greek equivalent of the Corsican vendetta and quit work in the Florida Everglades on learning of the murder by Bulgarians of his aunt and three of her children in Macedonia, Nicholas Anderas, a Greek, is on his way to New York for Macedonia, there to seek out the murderers and wreak vengeance.

When the Greek arrived here he was penniless. Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold A. J. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed to only aggravate my case. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package, and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." T. E. Health in the Canal Zone.

The high wages paid make it a mighty temptation to our young artisans to join the force of skilled workmen needed to construct the Panama Canal. Many are restrained however by the fear of fever and malaria. It is the knowing ones—those who have used Electric Bitters, who go there without this fear, well knowing they are safe from malarious influence with Electric Bitters on hand. Cures blood poison too, biliousness, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Guaranteed by Chas. Rogers, Druggist, 50c.

father's father's birth. The father of young Mesmer did not develop his powers to any great extent, although he was not noted far and wide as a trainer of animals. The young man when a boy frequently heard his father tell stories of how his father had been observed to have a peculiar control over his brothers and sisters, of whom there were about ten, and of how his putting them to sleep and making them do all kinds of funny things baffled the doctors, physicians and scientists of Switzerland, where he was born, and even attracted the attention of men of learning a paper. All dogs were his friends and horses were never vicious when he was near and now he can put the most unmanageable canine and manage the wildest of horses. As a boy he always was a leader, but at that time he did not know why his companions gave in to his wishes. He has never had a fight in his life, although at times he has had some heated arguments and on more than one occasion has made a disturbing element in an audience behave simply by the "laying on of the hands." He believes that the power of hypnotism is capable of being developed and

He says insanity is often brought on by worry over it and fear of it. He laughingly declares he will not go insane.

He carries with him no paid subjects but depends entirely upon his audience. He says he can hypnotize six out of every ten persons, if they are willing to submit to him, and also declares that women come under the influence much easier than do men.—Seattle P. I.

TUTORING INDIANS.

Young Klamath Thirst For Knowledge Like the White Man.

ASHLAND, Or., Sept. 14.—The Klamath Indians are taking much interest in educational affairs, and the new generation is very anxious that the children have the benefit of a good schooling. In conversation with a Klamath Herald representative Superintendent Wilson stated that there are now about 120 pupils attending the training school at Klamath Agency, and that number will be largely increased on completion of the new buildings now under way, which will probably be about November 1. Since the boarding school at Yainax has been abolished there are about 30 pupils in attendance at the day school now being conducted there, whereas but about 15 were expected. And what is still more surprising is the fact that some of them ride a distance of some 12 or 14 miles in order to attend the school. Mr. Wilson has informed the parents that it will be impossible for them to continue sending their children that distance to school, and that it will be far better to have them attend the boarding school at the Agency. A few of the Indian parents object to some of the rules of the school, just as their white brethren do, but that feeling is rapidly disappearing, for many of the parents of today have attended the school in former years and as a consequence know of the advantages derived therefrom.

IN WESTERN OREGON.

CORVALLIS, Sept. 14.—Thirty-eight tons of alfalfa hay from one acre of ground in six years is the record made in an experiment out at the Oregon Agricultural College Farm. The acre of land is below the average wheat land used by Oregon farmers, being situated on a high point and rolling land. In the twenty-two crops cut from this one acre the yield in green alfalfa has been 228, 506 pounds, or thirty-eight tons of cured hay. Each year the land has been treated with 100 pounds of land plaster, costing 60 cents per 100, and two light dressings of barnyard fertilizer have been applied. Three crops have already been cut this season and another crop is coming on. The new college barn to be located on this acre tract, which will convert the alfalfa patch into a barnyard.
