REGULAR GRIND OF COURT

WILBERG LARCENY CASE IS CONTINUED—NUMBER OF WITNESSES HEARD—FULTON WOULD PROVE THAT PRISONER WAS TREATED TO SWEAT-BOX METHODS.

The trial of Robert Wilberg, charged with larceny, was continued in the circuit court yesterday. Harrison's cross-examination was continued, but nothing further was brought out than had been introduced yesterday. Grace Williams testified that she saw Harrison and Wilberg in a house on Astor street. That Harrison having but 65c, asked Wilberg to go to the former's room with him to get more money. Wilberg left with Harrison and both returned in about 15 minutes. This was between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock. After their return Harrison remained a short time, and left the house. Wilberg left about 15 minutes later. Could not tell what direction they went as she did not see them again. On cross-examination she stated that Harrison was not bruised and that both men appeared to be friends.

Officer Thompson testified that on the morning of March 8th he saw Wilberg and Harrison walking arm and arm coming through the postoffice grounds in the direction of Commercial St. Later he saw Wilberg trotting along Astor street to Seventh. Then he saw Harrison cross Astor street and go to Eighth street where he stopped to talk to some women. He then went to a Chinese restaurant. When Thompson saw the men it was between the hours of 4 and 5 o'clock, and Harrison was drunk.

Morris Staples testified that on the night of March 7th, Harrison came to his house to engage a room. He was assigned to Room 2. About 3:30 or 4 o'clock he was awakened by the noise made by the two men who were having trouble in gaining entrance to Harrison's room. They remained there about 5 minutes. About half an hour afterwards he found Harrison leaning up against the door of his room trying to get in. He was very drunk. He saw Harrison again at 9:30 but was not allowed to answer as to conversation.

Chief Gammal testified that he saw Harrison at Staples' where he had been called. Harrison was brought to the police station by officer Houghton. Regarding Wilberg, Attorney Fulton endeavored to show that when Wilberg was taken to the police station that he was not informed that he was under arrest, but had been brought there by a subterfuge. This brought on a lively tiff, and Fulton claimed that he would prove that Wilberg was treated to "sweat box" methods, and that any admissions, he made in the station, could not be admitted, as they were made under duress. That any admissions he made, after being told that he was under arrest, could not go before the jury as he had been told by the officers that it would help him if he would open up. The court held this to be correct and Chief Gammal testified that Wilberg was not placed under arrest until after the questioning was concluded. He also testified that when Wilberg was searched, at the city prison, $183.45 in gold, silver and currency was found on him.

Ralph Chreiser, of the Skidmore Co., of Portland, identified Harrison as the man who decamped with their money. Other evidence was introduced to show that Wilberg had changed a $100 bill and it is charged that this bill was part of the stolen money. The prosecution then rested its case, and Attorney Fulton filed a motion to instruct the jury to acquit the prisoner. The motion was overruled, and the defense called their first witness. Testimony was given by Wilberg's sister, that Wilberg had $216 in a bank, at home, and that on the 6th of March, he took the money away. Wilberg made the same statement, on the stand and positively denied having stolen any money from Harrison. The waiter at the Waldorf testified to having served about $130 or $140 worth of wine and beer to Harrison, and a companion, on the night of March 7th, and that in payment of one of the orders Harrison tendered a $100 bill, which was changed for him. Wilberg further testified that the $100 bill that he (Wilberg) had changed on the 6th was one he received at the restaurant, where he was employed, by a patron, and that he had returned change to the patron from his own money.

Other testimony on the same lines was introduced and when the court adjourned the testimony was not all in. The case will come up again this morning.

Afflicted with Sore Eyes for 33 Years.
I have been afflicted with sore eyes for thirty-three years. Thirteen years ago I became totally blind and was blind for six years. My eyes were badly inflamed. One of my neighbors insisted upon my trying Chamberlain's Salve and gave me half a box of it. To my surprise it healed my eyes and my sight came back to me.—P. C. Earls, Cynthia, Ky. Barracks Building Assured—

Some months ago the Astorian reported that plans for a barracks building, at Fort Stevens, for a submarine and torpedo company, had been sent to Washington for approval. Later it was stated that the appropriation had been diverted to Fort Warden, but this was evidently a mistake, as the constructing quarter master's department received notification yesterday that the plans were approved. The result is gratifying to the officers of the post and the citizens of Astoria.

ALL ABOUT THE GAME LAWS

ONLY ONE CARD OF LAWS TO BE FOUND IN THE CITY AND THE FOLLOWING IS A BRIEF COPY OF SEASONS AND THE PENALTIES.

The pheasant hunting season commenced yesterday in Clatsop county and along with other upland birds will last until December 1. The deer season, which opened on September 1, will last until November 1, and the elk season, which opened on September 15, will last until the same date this month. Ducks, geese and swans may be killed until February 1, the season having commenced on the first of last month.

An inquiry at the local gun shops, and in numerous other quarters, gives evidence that not one person in a thousand knows anything definite regarding the game laws. There is one card giving the laws in possession of the county clerk, so when you get out a hunting license bring along a pencil and paper and make a copy of the laws for yourself. The fact that the district game make this compulsory if your memory is not something extraordinary.

For violation of the game laws the warden does nothing to give the shooting public any idea of the regulations, penalty is from $15 to $500. The fine for hunting without a license is $25 to $100 and imprisonment. The following is the number of birds or animals in different classes which may be killed: Ducks, not more than 50 a week. Geese and swans, no limit. Upland birds, not more than 10 a day.

Deer, not more than five in a season. Elk, one in a season.

The above is given for the benefit of the numerous hunters in Astoria and the surrounding section, who are contemplating a shooting trip. They will prove convenient in case of doubt and save considerable argument

A Certain Cure for Croup—Used for Ten Years Without a Failure.

Mr. W. C. Bott, a Star City, Ind., hardware merchant, is enthusiastic in his praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. His children have all been subject to croup and he has used this remedy for the past 10 years, and though they much feared the croup, his wife and he always felt safe upon retiring when a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in the house. His oldest child was subject to severe attacks of croup, but this remedy never failed to effect a speedy cure. He has recommended it to friends and neighbors and all who have used it say that it is unequalled for croup and whooping cough. For sale by Frank Hart and Leading Druggists.
