A SUNDAY EXCURSION THAT WAS ENJOYED BY ALL PARTICIPATING - A FISH SUPPER WAS THE RESULT.

A jolly party of five left the city at 6 o'clock Sunday morning, on a tomcod fishing excursion. The party was composed of Earle Seibert, Manley Thompson, Oliver McNairy, Elton De Force and a man brought along to cut bait.

In about twenty minutes after leaving, the destination of the party was reached, and, tying the boat to the red spar buoy opposite Young's Bay, the termination of the tomcod species commenced. Earle Seibert in his anxiety forgot to bait his hooks, yet, strange to say, caught the first fish.

De Force was fishing too, and caught some. In his quiet way he was landing fish and laughing at the efforts of the poor bait cutter to keep up with the procession.

FISHERMEN'S STRIKE SETTLED. Men Win After Four Weeks' Fight - Receive Substantial Advance.

ABERDEEN, Oct. 1.—After four-weeks of consistent but determined demand on the part of the local fishermen's union for more proportionate wages for its members, the men won out in their fight today when the Parks Fish Company signed a contract with the union which means the return to work of the men on Monday night.

In the settlement of the strike, while both sides made concessions, the union has gained considerable. In fact, it is stated by members of the union that under the increase, even while conceding to a degree, they will receive more money than they could have obtained under the old schedule.

The schedule agreed upon, as covered in the contract between the Parks Fish company and the union, provides for the payment of 2 1/2 cents per pound for red-meated black salmon, an advance of about 12 1/2 per cent over ordinary canner prices, and 20 cents per piece for silversides, an advance of 5 cents over the price of last year.

Thirteen is not always an unlucky number; we once knew it to replace the usual six in a percentage dividend announcement, and not a stockholder died before drawing his increased dividend.

trol; for there must be control somewhere. "One way of exercising such control is through the laws of the land. Ours is a government of liberty, but it is a government of that orderly liberty which comes by and through the honest enforcement of and obedience to the law. At intervals during the last few months the appeal has been made to me not to enforce the law against certain wrongdoers of great wealth because to do so would interfere with the business prosperity of the country. Under the effects of that kind of fright which when sufficiently acute we call panic, this appeal has been made to me even by men who ordinarily behave as decent citizens. One newspaper which has itself strongly advanced this view gave prominence to the statement of a certain man of great wealth to the effect that he so-called financial weakness was due entirely to the admitted intention of President Roosevelt to punish the large moneyed interests which had transgressed the laws. I do not admit that this has been the main cause of any business troubles we have had; but it is possible that it has been a contributory cause. If so, friends, as far as I am concerned it must be accepted as a disagreeable but unavoidable feature in a course of policy which as long as I am President will not be changed. In any great movement for righteousness, where the forces of evil are strongly entrenched, it is unfortunately inevitable that some unoffending people should suffer in company with the real offenders. This is not our fault. It is the fault of those to whose deceptive action these innocent people owe their false position. A year or two ago certain representatives of labor called upon me and in the course of a very pleasant conversation told me that they regarded me as 'the friend of labor. I answered that I certainly was, and that I would do everything in my power for the laboring man except anything that was wrong. I have the same answer to make to the business man I will do everything I can do to help business conditions, except anything that is wrong."

COPPER DEADLOCK BREAKING.

A. Norden & Co. Purchase Four Million Pounds for Export to China.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The firm of A. Norden & Co. yesterday made purchase of more than 4,000,000 pounds of copper for export to China. The copper was of the highest grade, being about 99.9 pure. While no price was stated, it is thought to be close to 15 cents. The metal is to be delivered at the rate of at least 300 tons a month, and the whole amount must be delivered before April, 1908.

The purchase, which is one of the largest made in the market this year, is accepted as meaning that the deadlock between the consumers and producers is close to an end. Members of the firm last night refused to discuss the deal further than to confirm the fact of the purchase. It could not be learned from whom the metal was secured.

BOOKBINDERS STRIKE.

Chicago Men Want an Eight-Hour Day.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—The bookbinders in some of the large establishments struck today for an eight-hour day, and in many small shops the men went out. The proprietors of the large concerns say they will not concede.

CONFERENCE CLOSES.

Attorney-General Urges Passage of Capitalization Laws.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 1.—The national conference of attorney generals held its final session today. Attorney-General Malone, of Massachusetts, read a paper on the "Capitalization of Public Service Corporations." He urged the passage of laws similar to those in Massachusetts in other states. Other speeches and general discussion followed.

HANGING TO A TREE

Gruesome Spectacle Discovered by Boys From Ranch.

HERDER'S GHASTLY DEED

Remains Hanging for Months From a Tree Overhanging Valley Two Thousand Feet Deep—Lonely Suicide Discovered in Strange Skeleton.

LIVINGSTON, Oct. 1.—From the first of July to the latter part of last week the body of a man has been dangling from a tree on the side of the Crazy mountains, 50 miles north of Livingston, at a height of 2,000 feet above the surrounding foothills, in one of the most picturesque points in that splendid sweep of scenery.

The gruesome spectacle was discovered by two ranch boys who were hunting. The boys were tracking deer and were clambering over the steep side of the mountain through thick timber when the object caught their attention. They thought at first that it was a deer, and when they discovered that it was a man's body they did not want to investigate but left for home in great fright.

CORONER LEAD WAS NOTIFIED OF THE DISCOVERY AND WENT AT ONCE TO LAT.

He was unable to secure a jury to go that distance into the mountains, and the body was so decomposed it could not be removed without the services of an undertaker, and the nearest was 50 miles away. The coroner concluded an inquest was not necessary, as the case was plainly one of suicide. The man's body was reduced to skin and bones, the flesh having been eaten away by worms and flies. A vault was built in the side of the mountains and the remains placed there temporarily.

The name of the suicide is not known to the coroner, but he was well known in Sweet Grass county, where he worked herding sheep for the past four years for T. J. Lovold. The only memorandum found in his effects was the entry of Mr. Lovold's name in some loose sheets of a pocket memorandum.

The man had charge of a sheep camp for Mr. Lovold the last time he was seen alive.

His horses strayed away one night and he went out to search and recovered all in the course of a short time except a saddle horse. It is supposed that he was hunting for this horse when he lost his mind and committed suicide. He had a rope with him, and, with this rope fastened about his neck, he walked up the steep incline of a fallen tree to where he could fasten the rope and step off into space.

Evidently he took off his coat and folded it carefully leaving it at the base of the tree. He placed his hat on top of the coat, and these articles were found undisturbed. He left no word of any kind. He is said to have a wife and family in Norway, and to have been a man of unusual attainments and entirely out of his element herding sheep.

DOG FORMER CROWN PRINCESS.

Detectives Annoy Wife of Toselli and the Pianist.

FLORENCE, Italy, Oct. 1.—Signor Toselli, the Italian pianist, and his bride, formerly the crown princess of Saxony, and later the companion of Tutor Ghiron in their elopement, have been so persecuted by the watchfulness of German detectives that the Florence chief of police has complied with their plea for special protection from annoyance. So close was the surveillance over the couple that one of the detectives even noticed that Toselli had forgotten his overcoat on changing cars en route to Florence and, picking it up, restored it to him with his pocket book and all his money.

CHAUFFEUR LIVES AFTER FALL.

Automobile Plunges After Him Down Elevator Well.

NEW YORK, October 1.—Philip S. Hough, a chauffeur, fell four stories down an elevator shaft and landed at the bottom with an automobile on top of him today, but still lives and may recover. He suffered an injury to his spine and had his left arm and several ribs broken.

CARMACK WOULD BE GOVERNOR.

Announces Candidacy for Office—Strong Opposition Promised.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 1.—Former United States Senator E. W. Carmack announced his candidacy today for the next democratic nomination for governor of Tennessee. He will have strong opposition and a dramatic campaign is promised.

Some women's complexions don't show their age for the simple reason that their age doesn't show through.

TOBACCO CROP SHOWS DECLINE.

New England Yield Not More Than 70 Per Cent of Average Quality.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 1.—Tobacco buyers after a thorough inspection are agreed that the 1907 New England tobacco crop will not be more than a 65 or 70 per cent yield in respect to leaf of average quality. With frost imminent there is still a considerable acreage of unharvested tobacco.

The new crop has been beset by obstacles from the start. Late frost nipped the young plants in the hotbeds and unseasonable weather delayed transplanting until a time at which the crop should have been well started. Hail storms in July and August caused a loss of nearly $200,000 and the midsummer drouth stunted the growth on an average of from 10 to 15 per cent throughout the Connecticut Valley. There is, however, a large acreage of fine tobacco which will sell at high prices.

One result of the shortage of the 1907 crop has been to cause a brisk demand for old tobacco.

ACTUALLY TRADE IN BONDS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The committee on unlisted securities of the New York securities of the New York Stock Exchange issued a ruling yesterday whereby it directed that quotations for contracts, when and as issued, for New York city 4 1/2 per cent bonds be discontinued and that transactions in these bonds hereafter be made in the regular way. The committee further ruled that contracts may be enforced by purchase and that the bonds will carry interest at 4 1/2 per cent from and including September 10.

CURRY ABLE TO BUST BRONCOS.

New Mexico Governor Opens Fair in Breery Manner.

ASPERCES, N. M., Oct. 1.—Governor George C. Curry, the Rough Rider soldier-cowboy executive of New Mexico, opened the Socorro county fair here today in a spectacular manner. He successfully rode an outlaw bronco, to the amusement of 10,000 spectators, and then took part in a roping exhibition and fancy lariat throwing, coming in for third place. Governor Curry is still considered one of the best bronco busters and rope-throwers in the territory.

URGES CANAL IMPROVEMENTS.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 1.—State Engineer Skeene submitted for the approval of the state canal board today a proposal for the improvement of the present line of the Erie Canal in Niagara county near Eagle Harbor, where the large canal is to follow the lines of the present canal. The proposal contract is to involve the excavation of about six miles at an estimated cost of $725,000.

THINGS MADE OF PAPER.

Germans Manufacture Almost Everything From Wood Pulp.

Paper, rags, table clothes, wearing apparel, towels, sacks and other articles not usually associated with a paper factory are the latest products to wear the "Made in Germany" mark, since textile factories in Germany have been experimenting with wood pulp paper in the effort to be released from dependence on foreign cotton and jute.

Yarn is now being spun from paper and woven into these commodities, but the German manufacturers say that it makes "fabrics" that would deceive the eye and that will look as well and wear as well as the same material made out of the sort of yarn that our ancient grandmothers used to spin.

Counsel T. H. Norton, of Chemnitz, where one of the biggest "paper yarn" plants in Germany is located, has sent samples of the products to the bureau of manufactures.

The coarsest is a sacking material and closely resembles ordinary jute sacking in appearance. It is fairly strong, and reliable reports state that it is fully as durable as the article of jute. Some rather tasteful figured stuffs, intended for hangings, portieres, etc., are of composite structure, the warp being of cotton and the woof of paper yarn. Heavier materials of this sort are said to render good service for rugs.

The lighter stuffs are apparently too stiff to lend themselves easily for use as wearing apparel. A light blue stuff with a lustrous surface is, however, not far removed in point of pliability and suppleness from certain grades of American cotton fabrics which find a ready market among the Chinese. A closely woven stuff upon which designs have been printed, could be used very effectively for wall covering.

THE EFFECT OF OPIUM.

I heard little about the beautiful dreams and visions which opium is supposed to bring; all the smokers with whom I talked could be roughly divided into two classes—those who smoked in order to relieve pain or misery, and those miserable victims who smoked to relieve the acute physical distress brought on by the opium itself. Probably a majority of the victims take it up as a temporary relief; many begin in early childhood—the mother will give the infant a whiff to stop its crying. It is a social vice only among the upper classes. The most notable outward effects

TUMORS CONQUERED

Overwhelming Proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy Tumor.

The growth of a tumor is so insidious that frequently its presence is wholly unsuspected until it is well advanced.

So called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages or the presence of danger may be made manifest by excessive monthly periods accompanied by unusual pain, from the abdomen through the groin and thigh.

If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation or displacements, secure a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, right away and begin its use.

The following letters should convince every suffering woman of its virtue, and that it actually does conquer tumors.

Mrs. May Fry, of 836 W. Colfax Ave., South Bend, Ind., writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I take great pleasure in writing to thank you for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I also took the Blood Purifier in alternate doses with the Compound. Your medicine removed a cyst tumor of four years' growth, which three of the best physicians declared I had. They had said that only an operation could help me. I am very thankful that I followed a friend's advice and took your medicine. It has made me a strong and well woman and I shall recommend it as long as I live."

Mrs. E. F. Hayes, of 26 Ruggles St., Boston, Mass., writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I have been under different doctors' treatment for a long time without relief. They told me I had a fibroid tumor, my abdomen was swollen and I suffered with great pain. I wrote to you for advice, you replied and I followed your directions carefully and today I am a well woman. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound expelled the tumor and strengthened my whole system."

Mrs. Perry Byers, of Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I had a tumor and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound removed it for me after two doctors had given me up. I was sick four years before I began to take the Compound. I now recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound far and near."

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I was told by my physician that I had a fibroid tumor and that I would have to be operated upon. I wrote to you for advice, which I followed carefully and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am not only cured of the tumor but other female troubles and can do all my own work after eight years of suffering."

Mrs. S. J. Barber, of Scott, N. Y., writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Sometime ago I wrote you for advice about a tumor which the doctors thought would have to be removed. Instead I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to-day am a well woman."

Mrs. M. M. Funk, Vandergrift, Pa., writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I had a tumor and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound removed it for me after two doctors had given me up. I was sick four years before I began to take the Compound. I now recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound far and near."

Such testimony as above is convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for Tumor Growths as well as other distressing ills of women, and such symptoms as Bearing-down Sensations, Displacements, Irregularities and Backache, etc. Women should remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing so many women. Don't forget to insist upon it when some druggist asks you to accept something else which he calls "just as good."

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. She is the Mrs. Pinkham who has been advising sick women free of charge for more than twenty years, and before that she assisted her mother-in-law, Lydia E. Pinkham in advising. Thus she is especially well qualified to guide sick women back to health.

feet is the resulting physical weakness and lassitude. The opium-smoker cannot work hard, he finds it difficult to apply his mind to a problem, or his body to a task. As the habit becomes firmly fastened on him, there is a perceptible weakening of his moral fiber, he shows himself unequal to emergencies which make any sudden demand upon him. If opium is denied him, he will lie and steal in order to obtain it.

Opium smoking is a costly vice. A pipeful of a moderately good native product costs more than a laborer can earn in a day, consequently the poorer classes smoke an unspeakable compound based on pipe-scrappings and charcoal. Along the highroads the coolies every scrape the grime from the packsaddles to mix with this dross. The clerk earning from twenty-five to fifty Mexican dollars a month will frequently spend from ten to twenty dollars a month on opium. The typical confirmed smoker is a man who spends a considerable part of the night in smoking himself to sleep, and all the next morning in sleeping off the effects. If he is able to work at all it is only during the afternoon, and even at that there will many days when the official or merchant is incompetent to conduct his affairs. Thousands of prominent men are ruined every year.

The Cantoneses have what they call "The Ten Cannots Regarding the Opium Smoker": He cannot (1) give up the habit, (2) enjoy sleep, (3) wait for his turn when sharing his pipe with his friends, (4) rise early, (5) be cured if sick, (6) help relations in need, (7) enjoy wealth, (8) plan anything, (9) get credit even with an old customer, (10) walk any distance."

Do you know that Pinesalve Carbollized acts like a poultice in drawing out inflammation and poison? It is anti-septic. For cuts, burns, exzema, cracked hands it is immediate relief. Sold by Frank Hart's Drug store.

How to Cure a Cold.

The question of how to cure a cold without unnecessary loss of time is one in which we are all more or less interested, for the quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less the danger of pneumonia and other serious diseases. Mr. B. W. L. Hall, of Waverly, Va., has used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for years and says: "I firmly believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be absolutely the best preparation on the market for colds. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by Frank Hart and Leading Druggists.
