IURY SECURED YESTERDAY AF-TERNOON AND OPENING STATE-MENTS MADE TO THE JURY -TESTIMONY COMMENCES TODAY.

The first day of the trial of J. H. Bowlsby, for the murder of Cleve Jennings, on board the steamer Alliance, on June 14th last, was commenced yesterday morning.

Most of the day was taken up in securing a jury, the entire panel being exhausted when ten jurors had been secured. A special venire of six talesmen was called, with no further incured, and a second venire of six, resulted in the jury being completed at 3:30 p.m. The jury is composed of the following: George L. Hill, J. J. Robinson, William Bell, L. Myllenbeck, Andrew Bringdale, W. L. Deeds, James Irwin A. C. Miller, Percy E. Allen, A. S. Cyrus, J. L. Mattson, and H. M. Lorntsen.

Great care was taken in the selection of the jury, 20 or more talesmen being excused. After the jury had been sworn the opening arguments of counsel began. District Attorney Hedges opened for the prosecution, and stated that the state would prove that Bowlsby sought his victim, and, finding him on board of the steamer Alliance, on the fatal day, shot him down.

Attorney Brownell followed with an opening statement to the jury, on behalf of the defense. He told the jury that the defense would prove that the accused man had been, for some time previous to the act, with which he is charged, in a state of mind bordering on frenzy; that he was unable to sleep, and that this state was caused by the actions of the deceased in connection with Bowlsby's family affairs. The defense would also prove, by good witnesses, that instead of Bowlsby being the aggressor, Jennings had made threats against the life of the accused. A letter would be shown, in evidence, that Jennings had made such threats and the jury was asked to note these pieces of testimony

The Place To Dine.

Where shall we dine? There should be no question about that. If you have no appetite, but feel that you should dine, drop into the Palace and, if you meet Arthur Smith, ask him to prescribe for you. He'll do it, by laying something tempting before you, and while he does not wish to interfere with physicians, prescribing for dyspepsia, he is in the business to cater to men's stomachs. Try him once and then you will always dine at the Palace.

county, and a hardship on the jury, and for that reason he would trust to the honor and fidelity of those composing the jury, not to discuss the case between themselves, nor to allow anyone to discuss it with them. He then excused them until 9:30 this morning, when the first witness will be called. From the opening statement of the
