RAID IN A CHURCH

Socialists Make Protest Against Pope.

THEY ALL PROVE ITALIANS

Attitude of Government of Italy Toward The Catholics Was Subject Under Discussion at Church Meeting Which Was Interrupted.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Socialists made the most riotous demonstration ever seen in Cooper Union yesterday afternoon in a determined effort to break up a meeting of the Federation of Italian Societies called to protest against the recent action of the Italian government against the clergy and the outrages to which Cardinal Merry Del Val, papal secretary of state, among others, had been subjected during the present agitation.

For five minutes the disturbers, who were all Italians, held the police at bay, and it was not until Captain Short with 20 men hurried over from the Fifth street station to the rescue of Lieutenant Powers and the eight men on duty that order was restored and the meeting was permitted to continue.

Nine men, supposed ringleaders, were arrested and a hundred more were beaten by the police and thrown out into the street. In the night court eight of these men paid fines of $3 each on the technical charge of disorderly conduct.

"If you fellows want to protest against the pope," said Magistrate Crane, in fining the men, "go hire a hall for yourselves. You cannot go into a peaceful gathering of citizens and act in this manner. If you don't like the pope, go back where you came from and tell him so."

The ninth man, who gave the name of Jacobo Jeriano, of No. 27 Hancock street, was held at the Fifth street station on the charge of carrying concealed weapons as well as disorderly conduct.

A loaded revolver was found in his pocket when searched by the police outside the Union. Captain Short took out the cartridges and said to the police in a voice that couple of hundred sympathizers of the prisoners could well hear:

"If any one tries to take your prisoner from you on the way to the station house shoot and shoot to kill."

This warning had the desired effect and the turbulent element scattered. Policemen long in the service said they had never seen such scenes at a public meeting in New York. Some of the 200 women in the audience fainted when the disorder was at its height and had to be carried out. Many men ran out of the hall when the trouble started.

The call for the meeting had been sent out to eighteen different churches and long before the time set for the opening, 3 o'clock, every seat was taken and hundreds clamored at the doors for admission.

On the platform sat some of the most distinguished priests of the Roman Catholic church in the city, laymen of varying creeds and clergy of other denominations.

American and Italian flags draped the platform and there was no intimation of what was coming until Dr. Ullo arose to open the meeting. He stated its purpose and at once from the right side of the hall scores of young Italians jumped to their feet and yelled.

"You are a liar!"

"Down with the pope!" shouted others. "Down with the Catholics!" shouted others while one of the men arrested shouted in a voice that rose above the surrounding tumult:

Every one in the hall was on his feet by this time and it was almost impossible for the policemen to get to the disturbers on account of the commotion among the people who had come to listen to the addresses.

As fast as the policemen would get one row socialists back in their seats caution at the speakers and all they cations at the speakers and all they represented. The more frightened of the men and women pressed to the entrance both in Third avenue and Astor place and Fourth avenue. In the press several women fainted and were trampled on, but got out unhurt. The real fighting was confined to one side of the hall.

When the reserves came Captain Short led his men into the right side of the hall and tore the fighting Italians apart, hurling them over seats to other policemen who shoved the most turbulent of the disturbers into a room and kept them there until order had been restored. They cleared that entire side of the hall and drove the fighters out into the street, where they found plenty of sympathizers. The battle raged 25 minutes before the policemen got the upper hand.

The Rev. Father Coppo said that after the disorder had been quelled the meeting proceeded in regular fashion. Justice Roesch praised the police in the highest terms for their conduct of themselves.

The speakers urged that Italians in this city perfect their organizations of church societies and inveighed against the waive of agnosticism and disregard of law that seemed to be spreading through the Italian people.
