SPECIAL SALE

Some at One-Half, Some at One-Third and Some at One-Fourth off Regular Prices.

Our Great Annual Summer Clearance Sale commences to-day. The balance of all our stocks of summer goods has been marked down to good-by prices. You know that our policy has always been to carry no goods over from one season to another. We do this for three reasons. First: It keeps our stock free from old and shopworn goods. Second: It gives us ready cash to buy more goods with. Third: It pleases our customers to get such great bargains as our Annual Clearance Sales always put within their grasp. A pleased customer is a merchant's best advertisement. Do you want some hints as to what to expect when the doors of our establishment open at 8 o'clock this morning? Here are a few:

STRONG TESTIMONY FOR INSANITY

TWO PROMINENT PHYSICIANS TESTIFY AS TO SYMPTOMS OF INSANITY SHOWN BY BOWLSBY—INSANITY SHOWN.

When the Bowlsby case was continued in the circuit court yesterday morning, Attorney Smith asked to be allowed to further examine Mrs. Bowlsby, as a witness on direct examination. Mrs. Bowlsby, as a witness on direct examination on direct examination.

Mrs. Bowlsby on questioning of came satisfied of her relations with Jennings, which she however denied to him, he commenced to fall in health. He grew thinner and his appetite became impaired; he could not sleep, not sleeping more than three hours in one week. He would mutter to himself as he paced the floor at night, and raved and swore at imaginary enemies around him. At one time he accused her of poisoning him, and claimed that he had pains in his stomach and could taste the acid in his mouth. She informed him the day he left Astoria for Portland of threats that Jennings had made to her and Mrs. Harrold.

On cross examination by District Attorney Hedges, the witness said that she and Bowlsby were married in 1891, and that her husband was 11 years older than her. Her acquaintance with Jennings commenced about a year ago last June. She came to Astoria on May 26th arriving here about 1 o'clock p. m. Bowlsby had been in Astoria about two weeks before she saw him on Monday before the shooting which occurred on Friday. She also saw him on Thursday, the day before the affray, at her brother's house. Thursday Bowlsby left for Portland on the afternoon boat, she and other relatives going to the wharf with him. It was his intention to go home. When she first submitted to Jennings he was 22 years of age while she was 33. Mrs. Bowlsby admitted that she asked Jennings, when he left North Bend, not to go far and further admitted that she had urged him to go to Coquille, where she could meet him, and also urged him to come home but he did not do so. She had also written to him to come to see her at Astoria before going home. She was asked if it was not a fact that she had written to Jennings informing him that Bowlsby would kill him and answered that she had not done so in those words. An objection by counsel for the defense, against further answer was sustained. She recognized a letter written by her to Jennings and after Attorney Smith had read it he objected to its introduction and handed the letter to Judge McBride who after perusing it decided that it was inadmissible.

Wm. Harrold testified that he was Mrs. Bowlsby's brother. That he had known the defendant for 17 years, and that he had also known Jennings. He knew the man with Jennings but did not know his name as he had seen him but twice, once being at the coroner's inquest. He thought that Jennings roomed over the Palace Restaurant. Chas. Jennings was the name given by Mrs. Bowlsby, at Harrold's residence. He said that he remembered Jennings having taken Mrs. Bowlsby to the theatre a few days before Bowlsby came to town. When Harrold saw Bowlsby the latter asked him if Jennings was in town and his reply was that his man had gone. He knew nothing except hearsay about threats made by Jennings but had told Bowlsby that his brother had said that Jennings said he would kill Bowlsby, and that he and his partner would walk, one on each side of him, and kill him. When Harrold first saw Bowlsby, he discovered him on Commercial street, acting queerly and, at first, did not recognize him, as he was dressed queerly and acting like a crazy man. He told his wife that Bowlsby did not act like the same man he had been. He testified that the defendant showed a much improved appearance, at the present time, over that of the time he reached here, before the murder. He told Bowlsby not to come to his house, as he feared that he would kill his sister.

Carl Schilzer, of North Bend, was the next witness, and, in his testimony, he stated that he knew Bowlsby for about three years. He also knew Jennings. In a conversation, one day, Jennings told the witness that he had been intimate with Mrs. Bowlsby. Witness told this story to two others. After hearing this he took notice of Bowlsby, and saw that he was a changed man, after Bowlsby had learned of it.

B. Clint, also of North Bend, saw Jennings and Mrs. Bowlsby acting endearingly to each other, while seated on a wharf, in North Bend. Walter Spade testified to the same effect.

Mrs. Wm. Harrold, sister-in-law of Mrs. Bowlsby, testified that she knew Jennings slightly. She had met him a few times. She heard him threaten Bowlsby. When Mrs. Bowlsby tried to induce Jennings to leave town, as Bowlsby was coming, he replied that he would not leave, as he had a pistol and would kill Bowlsby. She did not communicate this to the defendant. Jennings was at Harrold's house the day before the shooting, conversing with Mrs. Bowlsby. Chief Gammal testified that he first met Bowlsby in the early part of June, before the shooting. He was much thinnow. He saw him at the police station. There had been a complaint made that he was not acting right and carried a gun. He had taken a room at Mrs. Fannon's and the chief was informed that he did not use it the first night, and that Mrs. Fannon feared that he had jumped overboard. When Gammal saw him, he told Officer Oberg that he thought that the man was crazy, and not responsible for his actions.

Mrs. Fannon was sworn, and stated that Bowlsby came to her house sometime before the shooting, and engaged a room. She noticed that his appearance was strange and that he acted queerly. She thought he was a very sick man, or one who was in great trouble. She told her daughter to notify the police, as she thought he ought to be looked after.

Miss Nora Bowlsby, daughter of Bowlsby gave testimony as to her father's action, after he had accused her mother of misbehaving. She was going to school, at the time, in North Bend. For a few months before coming to Astoria, her father had not acted naturally. Before that time he had been cheerful and pleasant. She noticed a change in him, and he began to become forgetful, and would forget to procure things that he would be told to bring home. He did not sleep more than probably three, or four hours in a week, and would pace the floor, and the family became uneasy about him. He would walk the floor and talk to himself, and continue swearing. On one occasion, when she brought his hat, at his request, he claimed that it was not his hat, as his hat was not a red one. The hat offered him was a gray one with a black band. Heard her father ask her mother not to have anything to do with Jennings, and her mother said she would only talk to him. She told her father that he was mistaken about her mother, that her mother was only acquainted with Jennings. Her father received a letter and started away for Astoria about five days afterward. She helped in cooking the meals at home, and knows that he ate but little, seldom sitting at the table. His condition now is much better than it was at that time. He is about in the same condition, now.
