ROW OVER COAL FOR NAVY.

Suspension of Laws Protecting Coasting Vessels Involved.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Complications threatened by the apparent suspension of the laws for the protection of the vessels engaged in coastwise trade in order to get coal to Admiral Evans' fleet in the Pacific are now actually confronting the administration.

Dispatches from Port Townsend, Wash., this morning told of the detention of the British tramp steamer Netherlee, loaded with coal for the Bremerton navy yard on a demand that she pay $2748, representing alien tonnage and light taxes. The imposition of these taxes is made under statutes for the protection of American vessels engaged in the coastwise trade. The master of the Netherlee claims immunity from the tax under a promise of the navy department.

The government authorities interested declined to discuss it further than to say that there would be some light shed on it tomorrow. It is admitted by the law officers who are considering it that the question involved is a very close one.

There was a conference at the office of Secretary of the Navy Metcalf late this afternoon between the secretary, the judge advocate general of the Navy Department, the solicitor of that department, the solicitor of the department of Commerce and Labor and the commissioner of navigation. The question was carefully considered at the conference in the light of the opinion given by Attorney-General Bonaparte. It is understood that some solution looking to harmonious action between the departments in the future application of the law will be made Monday.

40TH ANNIVERSARY OF ARRIVAL

CAPTAIN WOOD, OLDEST PILOT IN BAR SERVICE, TELLS OF ARRIVAL ON COAST FORTY YEARS AGO AND DESCRIBES CITY.

Yesterday was the 40th anniversary of the arrival of Captain George W. Wood, of the Bar Service, in Astoria. He has seen longer service as pilot for ships crossing the Columbia bar than any other man in the city and has watched Astoria grow up from a city of 1200 people to her present size.

There is probably no other man in this section who is so fully acquainted with this district as Captain Wood, and he has the greatest confidence of the harbor one day becoming the biggest shipping point on the Pacific Coast.

When quite a young man the captain came to the Pacific Coast with the coast survey cutter W. H. Marsey 40 years ago yesterday. He liked this section so well that he decided to locate here, and with the exception of a few years he has been here ever since.

He remembers when the only wharf on the lower Columbia was a small affair at the foot of Eleventh street in Astoria. The revenue cutter at that time was the Joe Lane, which sometimes lay at anchor for six months at a stretch before being called to duty by the arrival of an occasional ship.

Captain Wood can tell many amusing incidences of the early days, among them being the search for amusement. During the early days there were two violin players who used to be in great demand. They lived many miles apart and in order to have an evening's enjoyment long trips over the hills used to be made to secure their services.

MULAI HAFIG THREATENS FEZ.

TANGIER, Oct. 12.—The power of Mulai Hafig, who has been proclaimed sultan in the south, has been greatly strengthened in that part of Morocco by the declaration of the Ultomas, or holy men, at Fez, that he has more legal and moral right to the throne than has Abdel Aziz, the sultan of record. This, coupled with the approach of Mulai Hafig's army upon Fez, argues a speedy capitulation of the northern capital.

CASA BLANCA, Oct. 12.—One of the armies commanded by Mulai Hafig is now reported to be advancing upon Casa Blanca. The strength of the force is not known.

A NEW ENTERPRISE MILLINERY ASSURED

T. L. DRISCOLL, OF ALTOONA, WASH., WILL OPERATE THE NEW BOAT YARD RECENTLY BUILT IN THIS CITY.

T. L. Driscoll, the well known boat builder of Altoona, Wash., is about to remove to Astoria. Mr. Driscoll has the reputation of building the fastest boats on the river, and was the builder of the "Hummer," which won two prizes in the fish boat races, at the recent Regatta. Thos. Trullinger, for some time past, has been interesting himself in endeavoring to induce Mr. Driscoll to come to Astoria, and open a boat building yard. He has finally succeeded and Mr. Trullinger has built a boat house opposite the Clatsop Mills which he operated by Mr. Driscoll. This will be a valuable addition to Astoria's industries as operations will be commenced with a force of about 12 men, which will be added to as the business is developed.

Enterprises of this kind are to be encouraged as they are local and such hustling and loyal spirit as has been displayed by Mr. Trullinger will be good to imitate by others looking to the advancement of Astoria.

Mrs. R. Ingleton has opened a nice line of Ladies' and Children's TRIMMED HATS AND STREET HATS and Notions, Etc.
