

FOUR MEN LOST.

Gasoline on Yacht Explodes Throwing Seven Into Water.

PERTH AMBOY, N. J. Oct. 15.—Four men were drowned and three others badly burned today when the gasoline in their yacht exploded or Raritan Bay.

The four killed with three others went out for a sail on the bay with a new gasoline yacht. All went well until in some unknown manner, the gasoline in the tank became ignited and an explosion followed, throwing all aboard into the bay.

Three of the occupants, Joseph J. Hornby, Nelson P. T. Macan and Richard Rubede, managed to catch hold of the rail of the launch and held on until the gasoline had burned itself out.

Of the four drowned, Barter was bookkeeper in the Perth Amboy National Bank; McRose was a draughtsman; Olsen was bookkeeper in the Perth Amboy Trust Company, and Wickberg was employed by the Perth Amboy Terra Cotta Company.

MAY GET BACK PAY.

Wages Due for Overtime in Navy Yard During Hayes Administration.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 15.—After a lapse of 29 years, during which time Uncle Sam has owed them overtime money for extra work in the Brooklyn Navy Yard, former employes of the yard and their descendants are now in a position where their claims against the government will most likely be paid in full.

It appears that in 1877, under the administration of President Rutherford B. Hayes, the secretary of the navy, who was then R. W. Thompson, issued an official circular designating the day of labor for Navy yard employes to be of eight hours' duration.

Those who worked overtime on the strength of the official circular from the Navy Department have never been paid their overtime claims, nor have their heirs or descendants, many of the workers themselves having died.
