A BOLD ROBBERY

Two Men Attack Woman and Seize Satchel.

CONTAINED EMPLOYEES WAGES

Thugs Attack Woman in Husband's Factory and Take Satchel Containing $300—After a Lively Chase One is Captured—Money is Recovered.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Two men with exceptional boldness, attempted to hold up Mrs. Rose Edebaum, 33 years old, the wife of Samuel Edebaum, a wealthy clothing manufacturer, at 11 o'clock this morning while some 200 persons looked on.

After an exciting chase through the crowded streets in the Eastern District one of the men, who gave his name as David Stone, 25 years old, of 27 Boerum street, was captured.

Mrs. Edebaum, as is her custom, went to the Merchants' Bank, Broadway and Elerly street, this morning, where she drew $300 in money and a check for $30, the wages of the employees in her husband's factory, at 96 Throop avenue.

Arriving at the factory, she entered a door, which opened into a hall about 15 feet deep, which leads to the office. She had gone about five feet when a sound of footsteps behind her attracted her attention. Looking back she saw two men.

One of them ran toward her and struck her with his fist, knocking her down. The second man snatched the satchel out of her hand with such force that the handle, to which she held, was broken. Mrs. Edebaum grabbed the fellow by his legs and held on to him, screaming for help.

The two would-be highwaymen ran out of the factory and up Throop avenue. As they ran one of them dropped the satchel. It was picked up later and the money found intact.

In the meantime Mounted Policeman Fesse, of the Traffic Squad, saw the men coming. He headed them off at the above point and succeeded in catching Stone, the other fellow making good his escape.

Stone struggled fiercely for a time and it took the combined efforts of both Policemen Twomey and Fresse to subdue him.

He was taken at once to the Lee avenue court, where to Magistrate Higginbotham he made a general denial of the entire affair, although Mrs. Edebaum positively identified him as one of the men who attacked her. He was held without bail.

BOY LOSES ARM.

PRINEVILLE, Or., Oct. 17.—The 14-year-old son of A. W. Greater of this place has lost his left arm and may lose his life, from the effects of an accidental shotgun discharge. This charge ranged along the arm, shattering the bone and tearing the flesh frightfully. The indications are that the muzzle of the gun could have been no more than a few inches from his shoulder when discharged. The brachial artery was touched, or nothing could have saved the boy from death on the spot.

The boy with his chum, a lad of about the same age, had taken a shotgun and gone up Crooked river south of the fair grounds hunting. Neither is able to tell how the shot was fired.

Aided by his companion and a man who was near when the accident occurred, the plucky boy walked over two miles to reach the doctor's office. The arm was amputated at the shoulder joint.

MUCH MARRIED.

YONKERS, N. Y., Oct. 17.—William H. Lasker, the venerable town clerk of Griffin's Corners, N. Y., came to this city yesterday and had his wife, Etta Lasker, 35 years old, who has been living at 191 Adams street, arrested on a charge of bigamy. Etta is the elderly gentleman's fifth wife. They were married last June by the Rev. Mr. Miller, of Griffin's Corners.

Mrs. Lasker's stepdaughter, her mother having married the aged town clerk two years ago. At that time the present Mrs. Lasker was Mrs. Etta Dennison, a supposed widow. When the mother died last winter Lasker invited Etta to take her place in his home.

MUST AWAIT FINANCIAL CALM.

Pittsburg Steel Man Says Trade Conditions Should Not Cause Alarm.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Willis L. King, vice-president Jones & Laughlin Steel Co. of Pittsburgh, said yesterday that there was too much pessimism in the East over business conditions and that the West did not coincide with this view of the situation. At the same time he considered a reaction from the tremendous expansion of the past few years advisable. He said:

"You have doubtless heard the story of the man in perfect health who was put to bed by his friends who had agreed among themselves to try the experiment of telling him that he looked badly and should see a doctor. The country I think, is in danger of some such fate.

"There are only three things that should, in my opinion, affect adversely the progress of this country, famine, pestilence and free trade. We can safely trust the first two to Providence, and I hope the Republican party will continue to look after the third.

"The conditions do not warrant alarm, but do admonish thoughtful men that the tremendous expansion of the past few years must take a rest until the financial equilibrium of the country is re-established. This does not, I feel, mean an extended or extreme interference in business, but a gradual and healthy readjustment, in which there will be a satisfactory volume and fair prices. Such commodities as are now selling at fair and reasonable prices, based on their cost, will not suffer; but anything that has been unduly advanced by reason of the great demand will find its proper level.

"The country is certainly richer than it was a year or even three months ago. The farmers have harvested a $7,000,000,000 crop, and the mines have added many millions to our wealth. It is the part of wisdom, therefore, to await the future with confidence and not be carried away by a fear of something that is not at all likely to happen."
