PORTLAND MARKETS

Wholesale Price List as Reported Daily.

PORTLAND, Oct. 29.—There is no material change in the butter market. Supplies of cream are said to be falling off, which would tend to stiffen the market, but it is not deemed advisable to raise prices at this time.

Eggs continue firm at prices ruling for the past week.

Fall varieties of apples are plenty, and some winter kinds have been received. On account of supplies being greater than the demands prices are lower than last week.

Hops are weak on account of conditions in the east, and not much improvement is looked for in less than one month.

CHECK ON CAB-DRIVERS.

Overcharging by drivers of public hacks and cabs, will be soon a thing of the past in London, Paris, Berlin and New York, says Technical World Magazine for October. This is being brought about by the introduction of an instrument called the taximeter. When attached to a vehicle whether motor propelled or drawn by horses, it automatically registers the fare to be paid. Unlike a street-car fare register, the taximeter is not operated by the driver, but is a mechanical computing device. It is locked against any tampering by the driver, so that the passenger has the advantage of knowing that he is not being cheated to line the pocket of the jehu.

The taximeter is a complicated piece of mechanism. It is operated both by clockwork and by flexible shaft driven like an automobile speed indicator or dashboard odometer, from one of the road wheels of the vehicle. Since public cab fares are paid on the basis of time consumed and distance traveled, it is necessary to compute both. When the cab is standing, as when used for making calls or shopping, the taximeter is operated by the clockwork, but when the cab is under way the flexible shaft drive overruns the clockwork and turns the circular dials that do the registering. The dials are rotated by a train of small spur gears as in a cyclometer or mechanical counter.

A GOOD HOME RECIPE

Says Any One Can Prepare it, and Nothing Better.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. Every man, woman and child here should dress as warmly as possible, and, above all else, keep the feet dry. Avoid colds and exposure, and don't become constipated.

Rheumatism is strictly a blood disease caused by inactive kidneys, which, through cold or exposure or improper diet, fail in their duty of filtering the rheumatic poisons from the blood. This poisonous waste matter, uric acid, oxalate of lime, urea, etc., if not strained from the blood promptly, decomposes and settles about the joints and muscles, causing rheumatic disease.

In damp or chilly cold weather the kidneys are made to do double work. The pores of the skin all over the body do not assist in eliminating the poisons of the body, throwing this work to the kidneys, which become clogged and feeble, thus causing not only rheumatism, but all forms of kidney troubles, backache, weak bladder and urinary troubles, and sometimes terrible blood disorders.

At the first sign of any of these troubles the following simple prescription should be mixed and taken in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Any good pharmacy can supply these ingredients, and all the mixing required is to shake well in a bottle.

"Out of sight, out of mind," is an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve.
