DEPARTED GLORIES

Beautiful Furnishings of Mutual Life Under Hammer.

PRIVATE SUITE COST $90,000

Furniture and Fixings That Cost Over a Million Dollars for the Offices of the Mutual Life Insurance Magnates to be Sold at Public Auction.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The departed glories of the old regime in insurance will be shown to the public tomorrow and the next day at the Silo Art Galleries. Then the auctioneers hammer will dispose of them. The trustees of the Mutual Life Insurance Company decided some time after Richard A. McCurdy retired from the presidency that the president's office need not be a private suite, furnished and decorated at a cost of $90,000 to the company by artists imported from France, where the furniture was all furnished. They decided also that one board room, and a very common place one at that, was good enough for meetings of the trustees, and that it was hardly necessary for each of the executive officers to have a meeting room of his own in which to call together the committee of which he might be chairman.

In pursuance of this policy there was a great cleaning out in the Mutual offices with the idea of renting some of the space made available by the process of confining the business of the company within the ordinary limits. The furnishings taken from these rooms which represent an original investment of not less than $1,000,000 are now to be put on sale.

An idea of the magnificence that prevailed in McCurdy's private office may be obtained by a description of a few of the furnishings. There is a Louis XVI table, perhaps eight feet by five in size of solid mahogany laid over with the finest gold leaf.

A carved gilt Louis XVI revolving chair, upholstered in brocade was used by Richard A. McCurdy as a desk chair. Six arm chairs of the same style stood about Mr. McCurdy's offices the whole set costing not less than $15,000 according to the estimates of experts. A $6,000 clock stood on the gilded mantel piece of which the official description reads "real bronze Louis XVI clock set mounted in Russian malachite. This is probably one of the finest clock sets in the United States."

On exhibition there are hand "illuminated" leather and walnut chairs a dozen or so clerks, rosewood and bronze wardrobes, not to speak of the desk sets, severiers, satin damask window draperies.

WHO USES HYOMEI?

The Best People in Astoria, Says T. F. Laurin—Guaranteed In Catarrhal Troubles.

No other remedy or medicinal treatment has ever been as popular or made so many remarkable cures in Astoria as Hyomei.

The best people attest its curative virtues, says T. F. Laurin, who are the local agents. The fair way in which Hyomei was sold, to refund the money unless it gave satisfaction, was the best proof when it was introduced that it possessed unusual curative powers. T. F. Laurin took all the risk of the treatment giving satisfaction, and left it to the purchasers to be the judge.

Later, when Hyomei was used and recommended by our well-known physicians and business men and their wives as a treatment that absolutely cured catarrh, no matter how serious or long standing, the sales rapidly grew and today there is no other remedy in T. F. Laurin's large stock that has such a large and staple sale.

The first breath of Hyomei's healing air kills all catarrhal poison.

Try Hyomei today on T. F. Laurin's offer to refund the money if the treatment does not give your satisfaction, and you will soon become its friend and recommend it to others. There's nothing else that gives such quick curative results in catarrhal conditions.

LOSES LICENSE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29.—The supervising inspector-general at Washington has sustained the decision of Captain John Birmingham, the supervising inspector of this district, in revoking the license of Captain B. Hendrickson of the San Pedro, which collided with the ill-fated Columbia last July off Eureka.

We Can't Make It Strong Enough.

You have read of sales and you have gone to them with the expectation of getting a bargain and have found prices low enough, but merchandise you wouldn't carry home. Now we want you to get the right impression about this sale. In the first place we have no cheap, shoddy goods to sell because we don't handle that kind, and in the second place our original prices are much lower, (you will agree) than those of most stores, and now the prices have been cut for this short time and you should take advantage of them if you will need anything at all this winter in fine woolen goods.

WATERFRONT ITEMS

The French bark Le Pillier arrived down this evening, bound for England, with a cargo of grain. She will go to sea today.

The British steamer Fitzpatrick while going up stream Tuesday evening was fumigated, the quarantine officials allowing her to proceed without detention as her charterers were anxious to commence loading as soon as possible. She will take out a cargo of wheat for the United Kingdom.

The Northwestern Steamship Co. announce that it will no longer guarantee the landing of freight at the port of Katala, Alaska. Several steamers have recently returned from the north bringing supplies which were intended for Katala, but which could not be discharged there.

List of lights, buoys and daymarks, 1907, Pacific Coast, page 18.—Notice is hereby given that Atlas Buoy Rock, a H.S. first-class spar, was established October 23, in 24 feet of water, to mark a 10-foot rock, about 1.8 mile east from the small islet (52 feet) on the western side of San Luis Obispo Bay, between the breakwater and the wharf; Mullagh Point, N.E. 5-8 E.; Outer Rock of Breakwater, S. by E. 5-8 E.; Small Island in bay, W. 1-4 N.

List of Lights, buoys and daymarks, also Fog and Daymarks.—Notice is hereby given that the electric lights on San Francisco Light-ship No. 70, stationed about 3 1/4 miles outside the bar off the entrance to San Francisco harbor, 10 7-8 miles SW., 7-8 W. from Fort Point Light House, and about 500 feet to the northward of the range line formed by Alcatraz and Fort Point Light, were extinguished on October 28, and fixed white oil lights will be shown from each mast-head until further notice is given. John McNulty, U. S. B. Hydrographic Office.

The steamer City of Panama arrived yesterday morning from San Francisco with freight and passengers.

The schooner Anna M. Campbell arrived this morning from California and will load lumber at the Tongue Point mill.

The Alliance arrived with freight and passengers from Coos Bay yesterday morning. She unloaded several thousand feet of finished cedar lumber at the Callender dock, and proceeded up stream.

The three-masted schooner Redfield came in yesterday morning from San Pedro and will load lumber.

The new launch Adeline went into commission yesterday and left for up river points. She was built by Wilson Bros. for Charles Belew, of Cathlamet and is designed exclusively for the passenger business between that place and Clifton, making connections with the A. & C. trains.

The pilot schooner came in on the flood tide last evening and after bending some new trysails and shipping provisions will go back to her station outside the harbor.

BIG MONEY FOR LEG.

MINEOLA, L. I., Oct. 30.—A former brakeman of the Long Island Railroad who lost his leg when at work for the company was today given a verdict in the supreme court here of $14,000. The suit was brought for $25,000 damages. Alfred Sprague, of Bay Shore, the plaintiff, was employed as a brakeman and flagman on the Long Island Railroad freight train running between Mineola and Oyster Bay. In October of last year he was thrown under an engine at the Locust Valley station, and his right leg was severed.

BADLY SCALDED.

KEENE, N. H., Oct. 30.—Lester, five years old, daughter of Paul Leicester Ford, the novelist, who was killed by his brother, Malcolm Ford, the athlete, has been probably fatally scalded at the summer home of Mrs. Ford's father, Edward H. Kidder, of Brooklyn, N. Y., at Chesham.

A tub of hot water had been drawn for the child's bath, and before it had been cooled sufficiently the little one either jumped or fell into it. She was terribly scalded, and the burns and shock were so severe that it is feared she cannot recover.

Mrs. Ford and her daughter have been spending the summer at Mr. Kidder's home.
