TERSE TALES OF THE TOWN

Death of Chinaman—
 A Chinaman connected with the Ark Wo Co., Chinese merchants of this city, died at St. Mary's Hospital on Thursday night of consumption. His body is lying at Pohl's Undertaking Parlors and funeral arrangements will be made later.

Figures Don't Lie—
 Published figures, over the name of a reliable firm have a convincing ring and hold the essence of advantage to whosoever shall use them. Note the string of quotations in the Charles Heilborn & Company ad. in this issue.

A Solitary Transfer—
 But one deed found its way to the public records of Clatsop county yesterday, that of Axel Kaleva and wife to Benjamin Riekkola, consideration $2,300, and conveying lots 35 and 36 in block 4, of Taylor's Astoria.

Closed Coast Streams—
 According to an amendment passed at the last session of the legislature, the closed season for salmon fishing, on coast streams began November 20th and will continue until December 10th. This means that the canning season will also close as but very little fishing will be done after the closed season, until next year's season opens. There will be some fishing done after December 10th but no canning.

A Mean Trick—
 Considerable lumber was shoved overboard by meanly disposed persons from the piles of planking on Twelfth street near Commercial, on Thursday night. The planks were to be used in the rebuilding of Twelfth street between Bond and Commercial and the loss falls on the property owners. It was a despicable piece of work and if the culprits are apprehended they will be severely punished.

Old Friends Meet—
 Charles Wright, Sr., of the Occident, was a much pleased man when, on Thursday night a gentleman walked up to the register, and, in a bold hand inscribed, "D. Livingston, Seattle," on one of its pages. Mr. Wright recognized an old friend of years' standing, they having been engaged in the mining business together 50 years ago. Mr. Livingston had come to Astoria for a day, and the two old friends had a jolly meeting, talking over old and new times.

Letter From Tipperary—
 A letter was received by the Chamber of Commerce yesterday from Tipperary, Ireland, from three, strong, young Irish girls who are anxious to come to America and will undertake all kinds of housework. They have the best of recommendations and will furnish them to any Astoria family of position or consequence who may wish them. Any interested parties can get full information from the Chamber of Commerce.

The Commercial.
 The Commercial still continues to do a good business. The finest grades of different kinds of refreshments kept at this well known establishment assures a continuance of its popularity. The proprietor, Otto Sund, is a genial gentleman, and is well and favorably known in this city. Drop into the Commercial when in the neighborhood. It is on Commercial street near Eleventh.

Commemoration Exercises—
 The members of Division No. 1 of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, of Portland, will have exercises, tomorrow night, in that city. The exercises will be in commemoration of the fortieth anniversary of the tragic death of three young heroes, Allen, Larkin and O'Brien. The program will consist of Irish vocal and instrumental music, and an address by W. R. McGarry, with an orchestral closing, "The Star Spangled Banner." A large number of loyal Irishmen of Astoria will attend these exercises.

Notice to Mariners.
 List of Lights and Fog Signals, Pacific Coast, 1907, page 16, No. 30, and List of Lights, Buoys and Daymarks, Pacific Coast, 1907, page 24.
 Notice is hereby given that Presidio Shoal Gas Buoy, stationed about the middle of Presidio Shoal, southerly side of the entrance to San Francisco Bay, inside of Golden Gate, reported extinguished November 12, was relighted on November 19.
 Capt. O'Brien of the American S. S. City of Seattle reports that red buoy No. 8, Wrangell Narrows, Alaska, has disappeared.

Remonstrance Filed—
 V. Boelling, a property owner on Ninth street, has filed a remonstrance against the council accepting the work of repairing the Ninth street sewer, from Commercial street to the right of way of the A. & C. R. R. He also objects to the assessment, for same, against his property, which is on Ninth street between Bond and Astor streets. He gives, as a reason for his objection that the repairs were not necessary, through any fault of the property owners, and that the grade of the street was changed after the original work commenced. He further states that the specifications called for the whole sewer to be taken up and relaid, but that between Bond and Astor this was not done.

Temporary Flooring—
 Driver Ed. Llewellyn, of Hose Carriage No. 1, A. F. D., while drilling his horses yesterday, had one of them break through the worn floor of the house, at the tongue of the wagon, and, concluding that a re-inforced floor was a whole lot cheaper than a ruined animal, trained and serviceable as his stock is, got permission to lay a decking all over the old floor, and this will serve until the outfit is shifted to its new quarters on Bond street, later on.

Notice to the Public:

DANZIGER'S CLOCK STOPS

MUCH SPECULATION AS TO THE CAUSE AND ANNOYANCE TO BUSY CITIZENS IT IS NOW IN ORDER AND WORKING.

Danziger's clock stopped on Thursday and many were the questions asked as to the cause. The cessation of operations on the part of this faithful time-piece accentuated the value that has been placed on its services, and the many times it has been consulted by the hurrying passerby. It was sadly missed, and great were the expressions of pleasure when it was discovered that the recorder of time was again doing business at the old stand and ticking off the seconds in time's flight. The clock stopped at 11 o'clock and all day Thursday the hands remained at those figures. Yesterday, however, everything was all right and things were as usual. The fact that the clock stopped at 11 o'clock caused many to think that it had been purchased as an Elk emblem but this thought was dissipated when it was learned that the cause of trouble was the exhaustion of the batteries. "Holy smoke," said Charley Wright, about 2 p. m., as he glanced at the clock, "I wish it was lunch time; I'm awful hungry." When he looked at his watch about 15 minutes later he jumped about three feet in the air and hurried home to a cold lunch.

"Oh, we've plenty of time yet. What's the use? It's early, only 11 o'clock," said Sheriff Pomeroy, when it was suggested that he go home after attending the theater. He discovered his mistake, when he reached his domicile at 2 a. m.

George Jackson, using an old gag, suggested that the clock may have gone on a strike. "Strike, nothing," said E. A. Higgins, "why that old clock has been a faithful machine and was never known to strike."

J. M. Anderson set his watch by the time shown on the clock and missed the morning train for Portland.

Mayor Wise was standing in the entrance of his establishment, and happened to glance at the clock. Looking at his watch he exclaimed, "Why's a clock?" "It does look foolish, don't it?" remarked a passerby, "better get it a new suit."

Manager Humphreys, of the Postal Company gloated. The Western Union regulates the clock and Humphreys thought he had it on Lamar. "We can do better than that with our old clock in the office," he said, as he re-entered his headquarters. His heart dropped when he found that owing to the swaying of the wall on which the clock hangs the pendulum had stopped.

The trouble is now over and many are relieved by the fact.

They Hid Her Out—
 "Nell," the fine imported English pointer-bitch, belonging to Houston and Llewellyn, and which disappeared so strangely from Ed. Llewellyn's kennels the other day, was found, well and hearty, but devilish lonesome, in a big box, on the second floor of the new court house, yesterday afternoon, by Mr. Llewellyn. Ed. says the dog was lured up there by Judge Trenchard and Contractor Lebeck, and fed and petted and bedded down in straw, and in other divers ways and managers seduced away from her happy home next door, to his abounding trouble and worry, and though those gentlemen deny the harsh impeachment, the doggy fireman sticks to it they are the guilty people.

The Chance is Yours—
 A glance at the advertisement of Charles Heilborn & Company, in this issue, will indicate to you where and what that chance is, and what it is worth to you.

PERSONAL MENTION

Lieut. Thomas. D. Parker, O. S. N., is visiting Astoria.
 R. L. Wells is in Astoria from Portland.
 Ed Farnum, of Portland, is in the city.
 H. Saxrud, of Portland, is visiting Astoria.
 Andrew Hansen, of Gray's River, who has been on a business trip to Astoria returned yesterday.
 Mat Ekola left for Seattle yesterday to visit friends for a few weeks.
 W. G. McPherson, of the W. G. McPherson Company, of Portland, was a business visitor to Astoria yesterday, returning last night.
 Adolph Sieversson of Chinook attended the funeral of his nephew, George Sieversson, on Thursday.

Seeking New Field—
 A letter was received yesterday from a German living at Kolen, Germany, who desires to come to Astoria at once. He has four grown sons and about 10 other young German men desire to come with him. All of them are in a position to pay their own fare to this city and will come here at any time they are assured of permanent places to work after they come. Here is an opportunity for the many dairymen who want milkers. If any dairymen who is in the need of such help will communicate with the Chamber of Commerce and agree to give a permanent position to one of these prospective newcomers, a letter will immediately be written to have them come on here. These men are also best adapted to any sort of factory or contracting work.

Fourth Trip to Salem—
 County Judge Trenchard, Dr. Alfred Kinney and County Clerk Clinton, sitting as a commission in lunacy, yesterday morning, upon Israel Nelson, adjudged him insane, and attendants were telegraphed for, from the capital, at once. The man is a raving idiot. Deputy Sheriff McLean found him, at midnight, on Thursday night, decorating his naked body with a concoction of lime and water and parading the jail corridors with a big tin bucket baled about his neck, and doing other stunts. This will make his fourth trip to Salem in this relation, and it would seem as though he had been paroled often enough, and returned there, often enough, to warrant his permanent incarceration.

New Amusement Place—
 The new automatic theatre, which opened on Thursday night, in the building on Commercial street, near Twelfth, is doing a fine business despite the weather. The picture shown this week is the finest that has been seen thus far. It is called "The Eastern" and is a pictorial representation of Western life that is very vivid. An automobile and cayuse race is introduced, also a fight between the "Easterner" and the cowboy loser, which is very natural. The management promise the best of pictures and if the first is a fair sample the promise will be kept.

It Is Up To You—
 When a good thing comes your way it is your loss if you let it go by. Charles Heilborn & Company are making some interesting offers in this issue, and they are yours to make good on.

NUNZIO NASI.

Trial Postponed After Lawyers Withdraw.
 ROME, Nov. 22.—The trial of Nunzio Nasi, ex-minister of public instruction, on the charge of falsifying public document and defrauding the state treasury, was yesterday adjourned until December 3. His counsel insisted on withdrawing after Wednesday's incidents, when the lawyers refused to obey the rulings of the president of the senate and the president has assigned other counsel to defend Nasi. The adjournment is to enable the new defense to study the evidence.

TRAPANI, Sicily, Nov. 22.—The interest in the Nasi trial in Sicily has become intensified as the result of the withdrawals of Nasi's counsel and other sensational events. In some quarters here Nasi is compared to Moses, to Captain Dreyfus and even to Christ while Signor Saporito, his first accuser, is called a Judas. There have been inscriptions on the wall in which the man on trial is described as "The Pearl of National Democracy," and "The Father of His Country." In some of the local shops (Trapani is Nasi's home town), the adoration has reached the point of erecting images of Nasi before which lights are kept burning as is done before the images of the Madonna and the Saints. At processions and meetings the people sing special songs called the Nasi hymn. The authorities believe they have a sufficient force here to check any possible disorder.
